Steel Strike Authorized If No Accord Reached

Union Disputes Value Placed On Industry Offer

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—The powerful Wage Policy Committee of the United Steelworkers of America today authorized negotiators to call a strike in the 650,000-man industry unless a contract agreement is reached by June 30.

They accused the Big Three steel firms of having offered a five-year contract as a "take-it-or-leave it" ultimatum and that this constituted a refusal to bargain in good faith.

Then members of the 170-man committee headed for home, indicating no early settlement was expected. Any agreement by negotiators would be submitted to the committee for approval.

David J. McDonald, union president, meanwhile disputed the value of the Big Three steel firms placed on the five-year wage and benefit package they offered union last Wednesday.

The Big Three — U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic—said the package would amount to a 65-cent-an-hour increase in the fifth year, rising from 17 2-3 cent the first year.

"That's pure and unadulterated bunk," McDonald told a news conference. He said union statisticians estimated the fifth year value at 28.2 cents.

The wage committee's statement came just a day after the union broke off joint talks with the Big Three in favor of negotiating separately with each of the three firms and eight other major steel companies.

The wage committee's statement, read to the press and television by McDonald, closed with this paragraph:

"In the event the industry fails to negotiate a fair and reasonable settlement with the union, we authorize and empower our president, David J. McDonald, and the other international officers, to take whatever action is appropriate under the circumstances. The responsibility will rest entirely on the industry."

A union spokesman said this terminology meant a strike call was authorized.

Nixon Confident Ike Soon Will Be Fit To Carry On

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 18 (AP)—The President's conference on fitness of American youth opened today with word that President Eisenhower himself should soon be fit to carry on his duties.

The word on the President's health came to the 150 conference delegates from Vice President Nixon, who visited the President at Walter Reed Hospital this morning and discussed the two-day conference here.

"I am very confident he is soon going to be out of the hospital, and is going to be fit to carry the burdens of the hardest job in the world," Nixon told applauding delegates.

Sports Leaders Attend

The conference is to seek ways to better promote fitness of American youth and come up with some recommendations by the time it adjourns tomorrow afternoon.

It is being attended by leaders in the world of sport, education and other fields, at President Eisenhower's request. The conference had been set once before for Lowry Air Force Base near Idenver, Colo., but was called off because of the President's heart attack last year.

It was rescheduled for the U.S. Naval Academy before his recent operation for an intestinal obstruction. Nixon said the President very much regretted being unable to attend.

Program To Be Developed

In his opening remarks setting the conference to work, Nixon told delegates "We are not a nation of softies but we could become one if proper attention is not given to the trend of our time...which is to make life easy and in so doing, to reduce the opportunity for normal physical, health-giving exercise."

He said participation of every boy and girl in some kind of healthy, recreation and physical activity should be the objective of a program to be developed.

"The super athlete is not our primary concern," Nixon said. "He will take care of himself. It is the boy or girl with ordinary physical abilities who should receive the major share of attention."

Russia To Stand By Arab Nations, Shepilov Says

CAIRO, Egypt, June 18 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov said today the Russians want to improve relations with the West but that good relations with the Arab countries come first.

In his first major policy speech since he succeeded V. M. Molotov June 1, Shepilov said, "It is well understood that the improvement of relations with the Western states does not go on and cannot go on at the expense of our good relations with the Arab countries, with our friends in the East."

No "Advantages" Sought

Shepilov pictured Russia as "the natural friend and ally" of dependent peoples and stressed that his country opposes colonialism. He insisted "the Soviet Union does not seek for itself any special benefits or advantages in the Middle East or any other region of the world."

He accompanied a broad hint of economic aid to Egypt with the statement, "We do not look for sources of enrichment in other countries." But he was silent on the Israeli-Arab dispute. This disappointed Arabs who expected him to take their side on the Palestine problem.

Egypt Celebrates

Shepilov is the highest ranking foreigner at Egypt's National Day celebrations. Egypt was his first stop on a tour of Arab countries and Greece, all occupied with the problems of liberation, economic underdevelopment, and independence for dependent areas.

Shepilov's host, Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser marked the day with a radio broadcast telling his country "Your generation had a rendezvous with destiny when it saw the remnants of foreign invaders sneak out back to where they came from."

The country was celebrating the evacuation of the Suez Canal Zone by the British after 73 years of occupation.

167,649,000 Americans

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The Census Bureau today estimated the population of the United States on May 1 at 167,649,000, including armed forces serving overseas.

"Sin City" Probe Figure Gives Up

PHENIX CITY, Ala., June 18 (AP)—After eluding officers for two years, Clarence O. (Head) Revel gave himself up here today to answer a long list of charges resulting from Phenix City's vice clean-up of 1954.

State authorities also were waiting to question him about the A. L. Patterson murder two years ago today that touched off the wholesale vice crackdown and brought an end to the racketeering empire that flourished at Phenix City for years.

Revel surrendered to U.S. Commissioner O. K. Parker at Columbus, Ga., on federal income tax charges. He was released on $5,000 bond on the income tax indictment and later was taken in custody at Phenix City by Sheriff Lamar Murphy.

Revel's income tax indictment, charging evasion of some $2,200 in federal taxes, was returned by a grand jury at Birmingham about two months ago. He will be tried there.

The 51-year-old former Phenix City gambler is under indictment here on 50 charges of lottery operation, one count of violating the state liquor law, two charges of keeping a gaming table, and two counts of illegal voting.

Revel disappeared shortly after the Patterson slaying on June 18, 1954. Alabama authorities have long wanted to talk to him about any knowledge he might have of the murder.

Western Pa. Hit By Heavy Rain

PITTSBURGH, June 18 (AP) — Thunderstorms and heavy rain last night and today pelted Western Pennsylvania and left hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage.

Most seriously hit was the city of McKeesport, 18 miles southeast of Pittsburgh. The McKeesport Daily News estimated damage would reach a million dollars.

Mayor Andrew Jakomas and City Council declared a state of emergency and appealed to Gov. George M. Leader for aid "as soon as possible."

The east section of McKeesport was covered with several feet of water, snarling trolley and auto traffic. Hundreds of homes and business places were inundated.

At least two persons were hospitalized.

In nearby White Oak the torrential rains flooded the Rainbow Gardens amusement park. An official of the park estimated damage at $100,000. Patrons were safely evacuated.

$20,000,000 Campus

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., June 18 (AP)—Wake Forest College, 122-year-old Baptist institution, opened its first academic session today on its new 20-million-dollar campus here.

The college moved here in the last 27 days from its old home in Wake County, 10 miles east of here, near Raleigh.

Owner Spends Hundreds In Hunt For Missing Cat

DES MOINES, June 18 (AP)—Olaf the cat is missing, and he'd be mighty flattered to know what a stir his absence is causing in the L. M. Peet household here.

Peet, a Des Moines insurance executive, is doing all but moving heaven and earth to find his pet, which disappeared from his car May 25 in northern Missouri.

Peet already has spent some $700 in advertising and traveling expense in southern Iowa and northern Missouri to find Olaf.

Now he's planning to send out 60,000 cards bearing Olaf's picture and other details to residents of 17 Missouri and four Iowa counties. There's a $100 reward for anyone who finds Olaf.

He's also going to send some 800 letters to insurance men and 21 sheriffs in the two states. He figures his total bill in the search will be around $1,450, not counting additional air trips and the reward money if the cat is found.

Olaf is a big orange-tan Persian cat with red whiskers and a bare spot on his side where hair was removed to loosen a burr.

The cat, which Peet bought six years ago as a Christmas present for his wife, went along with his owner in May on a business trip to Missouri. Somewhere near Macon in northern Missouri, Olaf disappeared.

Peet says the offer of a $100 reward has turned up "all sorts of cats" but not Olaf. In fact he even paid the reward for one feline but decided later it wasn't Olaf.

Ike And Nixon Skip Politics At Conference

Vice President Says Question Of Second Term Not Discussed

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon conferred privately today. Nixon declared afterward that the recuperating President gave him no slightest hint whether he intends to remain in the presidential race.

For that matter, Nixon replied "no, without any qualifications" when newsmen asked him whether there was any discussion of politics whatever during his 15-minute session with Eisenhower at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

"The question of the President's future political action" was not discussed," Nixon told a news conference.

Decision Is Ike's

Then he added:

"The man who should speak concerning the President's future plans, the man who knows best what the requirements of leadership are in the national field and in the international field, and who knows the burdens of this office and who knows his own physical condition best, is the President of the United States.

"And since he knows the factors that will determine any decision—if there should be a change in decision—he is the man that should speak on that question, and he only."

President Weighs 162 Pounds

On this 11th day of Eisenhower's hospitalization there were these other developments:

1. The President was weighed for the first time since his illness. He now tips the scales at 162 pounds, seven less than on the morning of June 8, six less than he weighed at the time of a "head to toe" physical examination May 12, and 16 less than when he suffered a heart attack last Sept. 24.

2. The President spent a bit more than an hour on government business. He conferred with Nixon for 15 minutes and then Secretary of State Dulles joined them for five minutes. Then Eisenhower met alone with Dulles for ten minutes.

Egyptian Flag Flies Over Suez

PORT SAID, Egypt, June 18 (AP) — Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, acclaimed by mobs which tried to kiss him, raised the green flag of Egypt over the Suez canal zone today and formally took over guardianship of the 101-mile lifeline between East and West.

Opening a national three-day celebration of departure of British troops after 73 years of occupation, Nasser was visibly moved as he uttered a prayer that "God may forbid any other flag flying on our land. We pray God no foreign flag ever flies through our skies."

Russian-built MIG fighter planes streaked overhead and an Egyptian frigate boomed a 21-gun salute from the harbor as Nasser kissed the flag and hoisted it to its staff over Navy House. The last British forces, 11 officers and 80 men, withdrew last Wednesday in advance of the celebration.

As Nasser led the celebration here two warships, the Nasser and the Victorious, identified by Egyptian officials as "heavy Russian destroyers", paraded under Egyptian colors in the harbor at Alexandria. Presumably they were received as part of the cotton-for-arms deal concluded with Czechoslovakia last year. In a military parade, the Egyptian army for the first time unveiled antitank and antiaircraft guns and mortars received in the arms deal.

Schoeppel Expects Eisenhower To Run

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Sen. Schoeppel (R - Kan) today expressed belief President Eisenhower will recover fully from his operation and run for re-election. He also said the Republicans will have an excellent chance to regain control of the Senate.

Schoeppel, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, spoke in a television interview.

Schoeppel was asked whether, with the national convention nine weeks away, the President could wait much longer to say whether he will continue to be a candidate.

He replied the President could "wait a few more weeks without loss" and that he expects the President to run.

Mother Weeps Over Young Slayer

Mrs. Carmi Meske, sobbing and anguished, looks into the face of her 12-year-old son, Ray John Barker, in a dramatic meeting in Seattle yesterday. The boy is being held in connection with the slaying of a 4½-year-old neighbor girl. Police said the boy signed a statement admitting the slaying. (AP Photofax)

Boy Admits Slaying Little Neighbor Girl

SEATTLE, June 18 (AP)—A 12-year-old problem boy was held without charge here today after police said he admitted strangling a state legislator's 4½-year-old daughter and hiding her body under floor boards of an abandoned garage.

The body of Kathryn Ruoff, with her playsuit stuffed in her mouth, was found yesterday afternoon after a search by more than 100 police and volunteers.

The boy under arrest is Ray John Barker, whose home is about two blocks from where little Kathryn lived with her parents, State Rep. and Mrs. Richard Ruoff.

Molested Girl Sexually

Detective Herb Swindler said the boy admitted the killing after about 15 minutes of questioning last night. The detective said the boy also told, in a written statement, of having molested the girl sexually. The King County autopsy surgeon reported, however, there was no rape.

The decision on what action will be taken against the boy will rest with the King County Juvenile Court. The decision probably will be delayed by the absence of Judge William G. Long on a trip to the East Coast.

Prosecuting Atty. Charles O. Carroll said the Juvenile Court can retain jurisdiction over the case or cite it to the prosecutor for action through regular Superior Court channels.

Stole Car At Age Of 10

The boy is from a broken home. His mother, Mrs. Carmi Meske, who works as a waitress to support her three under-age children, told a reporter that Ray was in trouble once before for stealing a car at age 10 and running away with the explanation "he just wanted to live in the country." She said a county youth counselor told her only recently that he couldn't "get through to Ray."

The boy was arrested as he returned from a picnic. Officers sought him after learning that he and other boys had used the garage as a hangout.

Joseph Leary Named Kentucky Senator

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 18 (AP)—Joseph J. Leary, 49, Frankfort attorney and close adviser to Gov. A. B. Chandler, today was named United States senator from Kentucky.

The governor named the veteran Democratic leader to serve until the November election when a successor to the late Sen. Alben W. Barkley will be chosen. Four years remain in Barkley's term.

The governor announced his choice at a news conference. Leary, on vacation, was not present but the governor said he talked with Leary Saturday night.

"He knew I was going to make the appointment," the governor said.

Atom Bomb Surgery Program To Continue

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—The program under which 25 "Hiroshima maidens" were brought to this country for plastic surgery will be continued but all future work will be done in Japan, it was announced today.

Norman Cousins, chairman of a committee that sponsored the program, said funds would be sought in this country to pay for the surgery on atomic bomb victims in Japan.

Algerian Troops Desert French

ALGIERS, June 18 (AP)—French forces suffered a serious blow today when 30 Algerians in a special French unit deserted to the nationalist rebels during a pitched battle 50 miles from Algiers.

The Moslems belonged to an outfit specially set up to regain contact with the population in rebel infested areas.

The units are the Service Administrative Special. They have French officers who speak fluent Arabic plus enlisted Algerian personnel. Such Algerian troops are called Goumiers and generally are used as advance scouts.

The rebels struck at the SAS unit in Mouzaiaville, killing a French radio operator and a French sergeant. About 30 Goumiers deserted. The captain in charge of the unit survived along with a sergeant and two Goumiers who stood fast.

The attack emphasized the determination of the rebels to destroy all links between the French and the rural population.

Maine Republicans Nominate Trafton

PORTLAND, Maine, June 18 (AP)—Maine's normally dominant Republicans picked youthful House Speaker Willis A. Trafton Jr. in today's primaries to challenge the re-election of Democratic Gov. Edmund S. Muskie in September.

Trafton, 38, a Yale-trained lawyer from Auburn, had better than 50 per cent of the unofficially tabulated vote in a three-way contest.

He will try, in Maine's first-in-the-nation general election, to stop a second term bid by Muskie, 42, who was unopposed in the primaries.

Sharett Resigns; Golda Myerson To Succeed Him

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, June 18 (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion announced to the Knesset (Parliament) tonight he has asked Golda Myerson to become foreign minister, succeeding Moshe Sharett.

Sharett, an advocate of caution and restraint in dealing with this nation's hostile Arab neighbors, apparently clashed with the Prime Minister over defense policies. Rejecting appeals of ministers to remain, Sharett told the Cabinet his decision to quit was final and irrevocable.

Tougher Policy Seen

Ben-Gurion, Sharett's chief in the Mapai (Social Democrat Labor) party, has stood for "active defense" in dealing with the Arabs. His split with Sharett over policy might be interpreted in some circles as an indication that Israel would pursue tougher measures against Arab border violations.

Mrs. Myerson, Russian-born and once a school teacher in Milwaukee, Wis., has been labor minister since 1949, but she has served several times as acting foreign minister when Sharett was out of the country. She said she would consider the appointment as foreign minister a temporary one.

Clashing Personalities

While it is widely accepted here that Ben - Gurion and Sharett clashed principally over defense policies, the reasons behind Sharett's decision to resign remained somewhat cloudy. Sharett, whose personality obviously clashes with the Premier's, is known to have told the Mapai party Central Committee only that he did not wish to continue as foreign minister "under present circumstances." He remains a member of the Parliament.

Ben-Gurion and Sharett, addressing the Parliament session, praised one another, but Sharett made it clear he could not get along with his chief.

Four And Half Billion Dollars Voted 13 To 2

Eisenhower Elated As Much Of House Reduction Restored

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved a $4,502,000,000 foreign aid bill but suggested the entire program of helping U. S. allies needs a review.

The amount recommended for military and economic assistance in the year starting July 1 fell nearly 400 million dollars shy of President Eisenhower's request. But it was $702,600,000 more than the House had authorized.

Eisenhower, who earlier in the day had sent out a new plea for a restoration of much of the House reduction, was described as elated at the committee's action.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Eisenhower had been informed at Walter Reed Army Hospital of the group's 13-2 vote for a program more in line with his wishes.

President "Delighted"

"The President is delighted," Hagerty told newsmen.

Committee Chairman George (D-Ga) said only Sens. Langer (R-ND) and Long (D-La) voted against the measure, which sets out terms and money limits for 1956-57 mutual security spending. Actual appropriations must be handled in separate legislation.

The authorization bill would now allot about $2,600,000,000 to military assistance and some $1,902,000,000 to economic aid.

Before finishing its work, the committee rejected by identical 8-6 votes efforts by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) to reduce military funds 100 million dollars and Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) to cut the figure by 200 millions.

Sharp Debate Forecast

Voting down the amendments were Democrats George (Ga) and Green (RI) with Republicans Wiley (Wis), H. Alexander Smith (NJ), Hickenlooper (Iowa), Knowland (Calif), Aiken (Vt) and Capehart (Ind). For the changes were Langer and Democrats Humphrey (Minn), Mansfield (Mont), Fulbright, Sparkman and Long.

In its major decision before today, the committee had voted 9-5 last week to reinstate 600 million dollars of a billion-dollar House cut in military aid.

George said the bill would be passed on to the full Senate this week but likely would give away to a huge money bill for the armed services. When it comes, debate on foreign aid is sure to be sharp and may go on for days.

No Soviet-Yugo Pacts, Tito Says

MOSCOW, June 18 (AP)—Marshal Tito, of Yugoslavia said tonight he has not made any arrangements for military cooperation with the Soviet Union during his reconciliation visit here.

He denied reports that Yugoslavia would manufacture MIG jet fighters under Soviet license. But he left the way open to change his mind when he added "as to what will happen in the future, I am no prophet."

Tito spoke with correspondents at a party he gave in the Sovietskaya Hotel near the end of his tour of the Soviet Union.

Throwing more cold water on free-wheeling reports of his new reorientation to the Kremlin, Tito also said that no agreement on a future economic program between the two countries had been reached.

He further cautioned reporters not to expect anything sensational from the announced getting together of the Communist parties of the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia.

Convention Planners Assume Ike To Run

HARTFORD, Conn., June 18 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall told newsmen today the party was proceeding with convention plans on the basis that President Eisenhower will run again.

Hall said he wasn't going to get into any medical discussions, but at the "proper time and proper place" the President will speak on the subject. "He will pick the time," said Hall.

Hall said Republican leaders decided against using the health issue against Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1944 because they felt it would "boomerang." If Democrats want to use it this time, it's all right with him, Hall said. Hall was here to keynote the State GOP Convention.

Vote From Dentist's Chair Breaks Defense Fund Tie

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) — A vote from a dentist's chair provided the winning margin today for Senate committee approval of an added $1,160,000,000 to the defense money bill.

The largest part of the sum tacked on by the Appropriations Committee in sending the bill to the floor — 800 million dollars—would go for long-range bombers regarded as the backbone of the nation's Strategic Air Command.

The committee vote on the measure providing $34,938,734,000 for the armed forces resulted in a 12-12 tie. But Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) sent word from a dentist's chair that he wanted to vote in the affirmative. That made the final tally 13-12.

Added to the $34,147,850,000 asked by President Eisenhower was 800 million for aircraft procurement, 200 million for construction of bases, 100 million for research, 40 million for maintenance and operations and 20 million for personnel.

Since the House has voted $33,635,066,000 for the same purpose the two chambers will have to reconcile their differences should today's committee - approved bill pass the Senate.

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), a member of the Appropriations Committee, said he planned to bring the bill to the floor on Thursday with debate scheduled either then or Friday. He said he hoped for final passage by next Tuesday.

Most seriously hit was the city of McKeesport, 18 miles southeast of Pittsburgh. The McKeesport Daily News estimated damage would reach a million dollars.

Mayor Andrew Jakomas and City Council declared a state of emergency and appealed to Gov. George M. Leader for aid "as soon as possible."

The east section of McKeesport was covered with several feet of water, snarling trolley and auto traffic. Hundreds of homes and business places were inundated.

At least two persons were hospitalized.

In nearby White Oak the torrential rains flooded the Rainbow Gardens amusement park. An official of the park estimated damage at $100,000. Patrons were safely evacuated.

$20,000,000 Campus

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., June 18 (AP)—Wake Forest College, 122-year-old Baptist institution, opened its first academic session today on its new 20-million-dollar campus here.

The college moved here in the last 27 days from its old home in Wake County, 10 miles east of here, near Raleigh.

167,649,000 Americans

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The Census Bureau today estimated the population of the United States on May 1 at 167,649,000, including armed forces serving overseas.

Owner Spends Hundreds In Hunt For Missing Cat

DES MOINES, June 18 (AP)—Olaf the cat is missing, and he'd be mighty flattered to know what a stir his absence is causing in the L. M. Peet household here.

Peet, a Des Moines insurance executive, is doing all but moving heaven and earth to find his pet, which disappeared from his car May 25 in northern Missouri.

Peet already has spent some $700 in advertising and traveling expense in southern Iowa and northern Missouri to find Olaf.

Now he's planning to send out 60,000 cards bearing Olaf's picture and other details to residents of 17 Missouri and four Iowa counties. There's a $100 reward for anyone who finds Olaf.

He's also going to send some 800 letters to insurance men and 21 sheriffs in the two states. He figures his total bill in the search will be around $1,450, not counting additional air trips and the reward money if the cat is found.

Olaf is a big orange-tan Persian cat with red whiskers and a bare spot on his side where hair was removed to loosen a burr.

The cat, which Peet bought six years ago as a Christmas present for his wife, went along with his owner in May on a business trip to Missouri. Somewhere near Macon in northern Missouri, Olaf disappeared.

Peet says the offer of a $100 reward has turned up "all sorts of cats" but not Olaf. In fact he even paid the reward for one feline but decided later it wasn't Olaf.

Ike And Nixon Skip Politics At Conference

Vice President Says Question Of Second Term Not Discussed

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon conferred privately today. Nixon declared afterward that the recuperating President gave him no slightest hint whether he intends to remain in the presidential race.

For that matter, Nixon replied "no, without any qualifications" when newsmen asked him whether there was any discussion of politics whatever during his 15-minute session with Eisenhower at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

"The question of the President's future political action" was not discussed," Nixon told a news conference.

Decision Is Ike's

Then he added:

"The man who should speak concerning the President's future plans, the man who knows best what the requirements of leadership are in the national field and in the international field, and who knows the burdens of this office and who knows his own physical condition best, is the President of the United States.

"And since he knows the factors that will determine any decision—if there should be a change in decision—he is the man that should speak on that question, and he only."

President Weighs 162 Pounds

On this 11th day of Eisenhower's hospitalization there were these other developments:

1. The President was weighed for the first time since his illness. He now tips the scales at 162 pounds, seven less than on the morning of June 8, six less than he weighed at the time of a "head to toe" physical examination May 12, and 16 less than when he suffered a heart attack last Sept. 24.

2. The President spent a bit more than an hour on government business. He conferred with Nixon for 15 minutes and then Secretary of State Dulles joined them for five minutes. Then Eisenhower met alone with Dulles for ten minutes.

Egyptian Flag Flies Over Suez

PORT SAID, Egypt, June 18 (AP)—Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, acclaimed by mobs which tried to kiss him, raised the green flag of Egypt over the Suez canal zone today and formally took over guardianship of the 101-mile lifeline between East and West.

Opening a national three-day celebration of departure of British troops after 73 years of occupation, Nasser was visibly moved as he uttered a prayer that "God may forbid any other flag flying on our land. We pray God no foreign flag ever flies through our skies."

Russian-built MIG fighter planes streaked overhead and an Egyptian frigate boomed a 21-gun salute from the harbor as Nasser kissed the flag and hoisted it to its staff over Navy House. The last British forces, 11 officers and 80 men, withdrew last Wednesday in advance of the celebration.

As Nasser led the celebration here two warships, the Nasser and the Victorious, identified by Egyptian officials as "heavy Russian destroyers", paraded under Egyptian colors in the harbor at Alexandria. Presumably they were received as part of the cotton-for-arms deal concluded with Czechoslovakia last year. In a military parade, the Egyptian army for the first time unveiled antitank and antiaircraft guns and mortars received in the arms deal.

Schoeppel Expects Eisenhower To Run

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Sen. Schoeppel (R - Kan) today expressed belief President Eisenhower will recover fully from his operation and run for re-election. He also said the Republicans will have an excellent chance to regain control of the Senate.

Schoeppel, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, spoke in a television interview.

Schoeppel was asked whether, with the national convention nine weeks away, the President could wait much longer to say whether he will continue to be a candidate.

He replied the President could "wait a few more weeks without loss" and that he expects the President to run.

Mother Weeps Over Young Slayer

Mrs. Carmi Meske, sobbing and anguished, looks into the face of her 12-year-old son, Ray John Barker, in a dramatic meeting in Seattle yesterday. The boy is being held in connection with the slaying of a 4½-year-old neighbor girl. Police said the boy signed a statement admitting the slaying. (AP Photofax)

Boy Admits Slaying Little Neighbor Girl

SEATTLE, June 18 (AP)—A 12-year-old problem boy was held without charge here today after police said he admitted strangling a state legislator's 4½-year-old daughter and hiding her body under floor boards of an abandoned garage.

The body of Kathryn Ruoff, with her playsuit stuffed in her mouth, was found yesterday afternoon after a search by more than 100 police and volunteers.

The boy under arrest is Ray John Barker, whose home is about two blocks from where little Kathryn lived with her parents, State Rep. and Mrs. Richard Ruoff.

Molested Girl Sexually

Detective Herb Swindler said the boy admitted the killing after about 15 minutes of questioning last night. The detective said the boy also told, in a written statement, of having molested the girl sexually. The King County autopsy surgeon reported, however, there was no rape.

The decision on what action will be taken against the boy will rest with the King County Juvenile Court. The decision probably will be delayed by the absence of Judge William G. Long on a trip to the East Coast.

Prosecuting Atty. Charles O. Carroll said the Juvenile Court can retain jurisdiction over the case or cite it to the prosecutor for action through regular Superior Court channels.

Stole Car At Age Of 10

The boy is from a broken home. His mother, Mrs. Carmi Meske, who works as a waitress to support her three under-age children, told a reporter that Ray was in trouble once before for stealing a car at age 10 and running away with the explanation "he just wanted to live in the country." She said a county youth counselor told her only recently that he couldn't "get through to Ray."

The boy was arrested as he returned from a picnic. Officers sought him after learning that he and other boys had used the garage as a hangout.

Joseph Leary Named Kentucky Senator

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 18 (AP)—Joseph J. Leary, 49, Frankfort attorney and close adviser to Gov. A. B. Chandler, today was named United States senator from Kentucky.

The governor named the veteran Democratic leader to serve until the November election when a successor to the late Sen. Alben W. Barkley will be chosen. Four years remain in Barkley's term.

The governor announced his choice at a news conference. Leary, on vacation, was not present but the governor said he talked with Leary Saturday night.

"He knew I was going to make the appointment," the governor said.

Atom Bomb Surgery Program To Continue

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—The program under which 25 "Hiroshima maidens" were brought to this country for plastic surgery will be continued but all future work will be done in Japan, it was announced today.

Norman Cousins, chairman of a committee that sponsored the program, said funds would be sought in this country to pay for the surgery on atomic bomb victims in Japan.

Algerian Troops Desert French

ALGIERS, June 18 (AP)—French forces suffered a serious blow today when 30 Algerians in a special French unit deserted to the nationalist rebels during a pitched battle 50 miles from Algiers.

The Moslems belonged to an outfit specially set up to regain contact with the population in rebel infested areas.

The units are the Service Administrative Special. They have French officers who speak fluent Arabic plus enlisted Algerian personnel. Such Algerian troops are called Goumiers and generally are used as advance scouts.

The rebels struck at the SAS unit in Mouzaiaville, killing a French radio operator and a French sergeant. About 30 Goumiers deserted. The captain in charge of the unit survived along with a sergeant and two Goumiers who stood fast.

The attack emphasized the determination of the rebels to destroy all links between the French and the rural population.

Maine Republicans Nominate Trafton

PORTLAND, Maine, June 18 (AP)—Maine's normally dominant Republicans picked youthful House Speaker Willis A. Trafton Jr. in today's primaries to challenge the re-election of Democratic Gov. Edmund S. Muskie in September.

Trafton, 38, a Yale-trained lawyer from Auburn, had better than 50 per cent of the unofficially tabulated vote in a three-way contest.

He will try, in Maine's first-in-the-nation general election, to stop a second term bid by Muskie, 42, who was unopposed in the primaries.

FAO To Name Director

ROME, June 18 (AP)—The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) will meet Sept. 17 in Rome to name a new director general.

Sharett Resigns; Golda Myerson To Succeed Him

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, June 18 (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion announced to the Knesset (Parliament) tonight he has asked Golda Myerson to become foreign minister, succeeding Moshe Sharett.

Sharett, an advocate of caution and restraint in dealing with this nation's hostile Arab neighbors, apparently clashed with the Prime Minister over defense policies. Rejecting appeals of ministers to remain, Sharett told the Cabinet his decision to quit was final and irrevocable.

Tougher Policy Seen

Ben-Gurion, Sharett's chief in the Mapai (Social Democrat Labor) party, has stood for "active defense" in dealing with the Arabs. His split with Sharett over policy might be interpreted in some circles as an indication that Israel would pursue tougher measures against Arab border violations.

Mrs. Myerson, Russian-born and once a school teacher in Milwaukee, Wis., has been labor minister since 1949, but she has served several times as acting foreign minister when Sharett was out of the country. She said she would consider the appointment as foreign minister a temporary one.

Clashing Personalities

While it is widely accepted here that Ben - Gurion and Sharett clashed principally over defense policies, the reasons behind Sharett's decision to resign remained somewhat cloudy. Sharett, whose personality obviously clashes with the Premier's, is known to have told the Mapai party Central Committee only that he did not wish to continue as foreign minister "under present circumstances." He remains a member of the Parliament.

Ben-Gurion and Sharett, addressing the Parliament session, praised one another, but Sharett made it clear he could not get along with his chief.

Vote From Dentist's Chair Breaks Defense Fund Tie

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—A vote from a dentist's chair provided the winning margin today for Senate committee approval of an added $1,160,000,000 to the defense money bill.

The largest part of the sum tacked on by the Appropriations Committee in sending the bill to the floor — 800 million dollars—would go for long-range bombers regarded as the backbone of the nation's Strategic Air Command.

The committee vote on the measure providing $34,938,734,000 for the armed forces resulted in a 12-12 tie. But Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) sent word from a dentist's chair that he wanted to vote in the affirmative. That made the final tally 13-12.

Added to the $34,147,850,000 asked by President Eisenhower was 800 million for aircraft procurement, 200 million for construction of bases, 100 million for research, 40 million for maintenance and operations and 20 million for personnel.

Since the House has voted $33,635,066,000 for the same purpose the two chambers will have to reconcile their differences should today's committee - approved bill pass the Senate.

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), a member of the Appropriations Committee, said he planned to bring the bill to the floor on Thursday with debate scheduled either then or Friday. He said he hoped for final passage by next Tuesday.

Four And Half Billion Dollars Voted 13 To 2

Eisenhower Elated As Much Of House Reduction Restored

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved a $4,502,000,000 foreign aid bill but suggested the entire program of helping U. S. allies needs a review.

The amount recommended for military and economic assistance in the year starting July 1 fell nearly 400 million dollars shy of President Eisenhower's request. But it was $702,600,000 more than the House had authorized.

Eisenhower, who earlier in the day had sent out a new plea for a restoration of much of the House reduction, was described as elated at the committee's action.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Eisenhower had been informed at Walter Reed Army Hospital of the group's 13-2 vote for a program more in line with his wishes.

President "Delighted"

"The President is delighted," Hagerty told newsmen.

Committee Chairman George (D-Ga) said only Sens. Langer (R-ND) and Long (D-La) voted against the measure, which sets out terms and money limits for 1956-57 mutual security spending. Actual appropriations must be handled in separate legislation.

The authorization bill would now allot about $2,600,000,000 to military assistance and some $1,902,000,000 to economic aid.

Before finishing its work, the committee rejected by identical 8-6 votes efforts by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) to reduce military funds 100 million dollars and Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) to cut the figure by 200 millions.

Sharp Debate Forecast

Voting down the amendments were Democrats George (Ga) and Green (RI) with Republicans Wiley (Wis), H. Alexander Smith (NJ), Hickenlooper (Iowa), Knowland (Calif), Aiken (Vt) and Capehart (Ind). For the changes were Langer and Democrats Humphrey (Minn), Mansfield (Mont), Fulbright, Sparkman and Long.

In its major decision before today, the committee had voted 9-5 last week to reinstate 600 million dollars of a billion-dollar House cut in military aid.

George said the bill would be passed on to the full Senate this week but likely would give away to a huge money bill for the armed services. When it comes, debate on foreign aid is sure to be sharp and may go on for days.

No Soviet-Yugo Pacts, Tito Says

MOSCOW, June 18 (AP)—Marshal Tito, of Yugoslavia said tonight he has not made any arrangements for military cooperation with the Soviet Union during his reconciliation visit here.

He denied reports that Yugoslavia would manufacture MIG jet fighters under Soviet license. But he left the way open to change his mind when he added "as to what will happen in the future, I am no prophet."

Tito spoke with correspondents at a party he gave in the Sovietskaya Hotel near the end of his tour of the Soviet Union.

Throwing more cold water on free-wheeling reports of his new reorientation to the Kremlin, Tito also said that no agreement on a future economic program between the two countries had been reached.

He further cautioned reporters not to expect anything sensational from the announced getting together of the Communist parties of the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia.

Convention Planners Assume Ike To Run

HARTFORD, Conn., June 18 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall told newsmen today the party was proceeding with convention plans on the basis that President Eisenhower will run again.

Hall said he wasn't going to get into any medical discussions, but at the "proper time and proper place" the President will speak on the subject. "He will pick the time," said Hall.

Hall said Republican leaders decided against using the health issue against Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1944 because they felt it would "boomerang." If Democrats want to use it this time, it's all right with him, Hall said. Hall was here to keynote the State GOP Convention.

19 Britons Die In Forest Fire

Troops Trapped Fighting Flames On Cyprus Peak

NICOSIA, Cyprus, June 18 (AP)—Nineteen British soldiers of a 2,000-man force trying to capture the Cypriot rebel high command perished in a forest fire on the mile-high Troodos Mountains, British authorities announced today.

Eighteen others were injured yesterday, some seriously, in this greatest single blow to the army's campaign against militant union-with-Greece advocates since the rebellion flared across this Mediterranean island colony April 1, 1955.

Throughout their long struggle, the rebels had killed 37 soldiers with bombs and bullets.

The British have put a $28,000 price on the head of the rebel chieftain Dighenis — whom they identify as a former Greek army colonel named George Grivas — and he is one of 11 men they still hope to net on the sunbaked Troodos ridges.

The fire toll developed on ridges which rise to a peak of 6,406 feet overlooking all Cyprus and the coasts of Turkey and Lebanon.

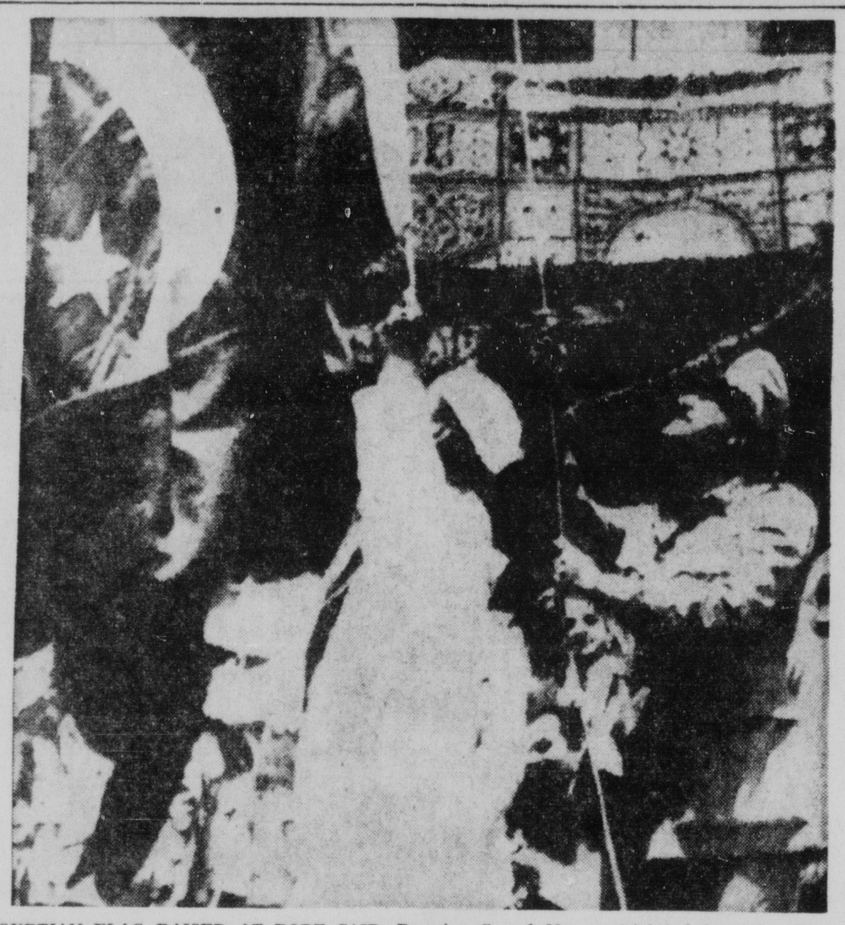

Whether set by man or nature, a point still undetermined, the fire had a relatively harmless start in the mountain brush and scrub pine and soldiers were detached from the hunt to fight it.

"The casualties were caused by a sudden and erratic change of the wind which blew the fire at high speed toward the troops," the British announced. Some casualties were caused by exploding gasoline tanks of vehicles caught by the fire. There were no civilian casualties."

A British official said the fire is now under control.

Forest fires have attended some previous military operations on the island. These have led to British charges that Cypriots set them to screen the flight of suspects and to Cypriot charges that the British troops were setting the woods afire with mortar shelling or carelessness with their cigarettes.

Villagers who might have helped fight the Troodos fire were told their help was not needed. British officers fear the villagers, once in the cordoned area, might help the rebel high command escape.

Truman Won't Look At Himself In Wax

LONDON, June 18 (AP)—Harry S. Truman refused today to look at a dummy of himself in Madame Tussaud's wax works.

"See myself in wax?" the former President remarked to reporters. "Why, I don't give a damn about seeing sights like that."

Madame Tussaud's, one of the favorite haunts of visitors to London, contains hundreds of dummies of widely known personalities—from kings and presidents to notorious murderers.

Luminous Watch Dials Increase Total Radiation

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) — Congress was told today even a luminous watch dial contributes the kind of radiation that could mar one's descendants — but a wrist watch has less effect than a pocket model.

Dr. H. Bentley Glass, Johns Hopkins University genetecist, appeared before a House Government Operations subcommittee studying civil defense matters. He is one of a group at the Baltimore university that prepared a recent report on the damage which an increase in radiation exposure could do to future generations.

Simply evacuating cities threatened by nuclear attacks would not do much to prevent this long-range damage, Glass said. Refugees in the open, or under ordinary shelter would still be exposed to radioactive fallout that would affect their sex organs, producing harmful mutations among their descendants.

For protection, he said, populations should be sheltered underground for as much as three weeks.

Glass cited radium-painted watch dials as one of the sources of radiation Americans encounter in the ordinary course of their lives. He repeated the estimate of the Johns Hopkins group that this total radiation, even counting nuclear weapons tests at the present rate, is below the level considered dangerous from the genetic point of view.

Position makes the difference between the effect of a luminous watch carried in the pocket and one on the wrist. Glass said, since the genetic effect is determined by the amount of radiation reaching the sex organs.

By the same token, he said, dental X-ray pictures are less likely to be harmful than fluoroscope studies of the abdominal region.

All-Woman Jury Drawn In Kentucky

PARIS, Ky., June 18 (AP)—An all-woman jury was empaneled in Circuit court today, apparently the first in Kentucky history.

"It was a lucky draw," said Judge William B. Ardery. There were 60 names in the jury wheel. The first 12 names I pulled out were women. Since all were qualified, they were accepted for duty."

Ardery told the women their work would "be pleasant and easy at this court term."

He also said the all-woman panel "apparently is the first in the state and possibly the nation."

Dulles Reported Cool To Pineau's UN Aid Proposal

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) — French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau tried but apparently failed today to sell Secretary of State Dulles on his plan to channel some American foreign aid through the United Nations.

Dulles was reported to have expressed no enthusiasm whatever for Pineau's proposal during a two-hour review of world problems at the State Department.

The meeting was the first of three such talks scheduled between Dulles and Pineau, mainly to chart new moves to offset Russia's softer policies toward the West.

Pineau stressed to reporters after the meeting that what he had in mind was that the United States distribute only a small part of its foreign aid billions through the United Nations.

He suggested that perhaps 6 per cent of American aid be channeled in this way, leaving the U. S. free to give the other 94 per cent to other countries at it now does.

Pineau declined to give any clue as to Dulles' reaction to his plan, first proposed several months ago.

Demos Say GOP Abets Industry "Cannibalism"

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The Democratic Digest said today that "cannibalism on a large scale" is being practiced in the business community with encouragement from the Eisenhower administration.

"Big businesses are swallowing little ones and merging with each other at a dangerous rate," said the July issue of the Democratic National Committee's official publication. It added:

"As this trend intensifies, the Eisenhower administration, responsible for administering the laws designed to stop it, is pursuing a policy of benevolent inaction."

The publication said the Department of Justice has been using the consent decree to "legalize the very monopoly it is charged by law to oppose."

"The record of the Eisenhower administration," it added, "has shown mergers and monopoly increasing, while giant corporations make an easy peace with the supposed enforcers of the laws.

"Instead of civilizing the cannibals, the administration has encouraged them. While this conforms to the GOP policy of big business first, it is hurting the public and jeopardizing the health of our system of free enterprise."

The Digest in another article cited presidential assistant Howard Pyle's offhand "right to suffer" remark last month about the Detroit unemployed auto workers, for which he later apologized, as one of many by administration officials from the President on down.

"Running through all these remarks," the article said, "is a theme which says: In our system of values the individual counts for little except in the abstract. But the people thus disposed of are not inclined to consider themselves in the abstract."

Chevrolet Builds Millionth '56 Vehicle

DETROIT, June 18 (AP)—The nation's car industry continues to hold down its overall production, but Chevrolet, biggest of the auto makers, is running only slightly behind last year's record volume.

The big General Motors producers, surging farther ahead of Ford division, built its millionth vehicle last week. It counted 819,869 cars and 183,725 trucks as its 1956 output through June 16. Ford division, meanwhile, brought its 1956 output to 649,863 cars and 149,150 trucks.

For Chevrolet its 1956 output compared with 877,519 cars and 177,092 trucks, built in the comparable 1955 period. In car output the difference is less than nine days production for Chevrolet.

8 U.S. Soldiers Hurt In Munich Bombing

MUNICH, Germany, June 18 (AP) —A hand grenade exploded in the bar of the "Seventh Heaven" night club here just before midnight last night, injuring 17 persons including eight American soldiers. Another American soldier was held for questioning.

The eight soldiers were hospitalized with minor injuries. All but two will be released tomorrow.

German police said two of nine injured Germans were in critical condition. They said the grenade was thrown by a man in an American uniform who entered the bar after the military patrolmen had ordered a group of soldiers to leave because of the midnight curfew.

Girl's Appeal Rejected In Roller Coaster Case

ANNAPOLIS, June 18 (AP) — The Court of Appeals today upheld the lower court decision which refused a Baltimore girl's claim against the operators of a roller coaster at Tolchester Beach from which she fell and was seriously hurt in 1951.

The opinion upheld a Talbot county circuit court decision which found non negligence on the part of Wil-Mar, Ind.

The girl, Pauline Hawk, who was 15 years old at the time, claimed the upholstery on the roller coaster car was ripped and that her head struck an exposed board, knocking her unconscious. She fell from the coaster car and landed on a shack below.

School Program Cut

LONDON, June 18 (AP)—Britain today ordered a one-third cut in its school building program to help the fight against inflation.

Minister of Education Sir David Eccles told local education authorities that of 89 million pounds—249 million dollars—school construction on schedule, only 144 million dollars will be started before next March 31.

Two Young Cypriots Sentenced To Death

NICOSIA, Cyprus, June 18 (AP)—Two young Cypriots were sentenced to death by a Nicosia judge today for slaying a British Royal Air Force corporal.

Both are aged 22 and come from Paleomotocho Village.

A third youth, aged 18, was given life imprisonment.

The court was told the victim, Cpl. Patrick Hale, had given the trio a drink of water just before the shooting May 16.

Hydrogen Bomb Miss Informant Reported Sought

HONOLULU, June 18 (AP)— The Honolulu Advertiser said today that military intelligence authorities and the FBI are closing in on an Eniwetok-based service man who told the Honolulu Star-Bulletin last Friday that the May 21 H-bomb missed its target by seven miles.

In Washington, the FBI said it was not participating in the inquiry.

After publication of the Star-Bulletin story and circulation of other reports in Washington, the Air Force Saturday issued a brief formal statement acknowledging that the air-dropped H-bomb at Bikini had missed the target island of Namu by "somewhat less than four miles."

The Advertiser's story today said intelligence authorities were more concerned with the fact that someone talked than with the "mixture of fact and scuttlebutt he dispensed."

The Advertiser reported that the informant or informants spent a rest leave in Honolulu last week at the same hotel where a Star-Bulletin reporter lives.

The Star-Bulletin's Friday account quoted the unidentified technician as saying two men on Eniwetok, 180 miles from the blast scene, were "permanently" blinded because they did not cover their eyes when the big blast went off.

Truck Apparently Carrying Body Sought

BALTIMORE, June 18 (AP) — Maryland police have been asked to look for a truck which a Baltimorean said passed through the city about 5 p.m., apparently carrying a body.

The alert described the truck as "make and model unknown, painted yellow."

Police said the informant told them the truck with New York license tags drove south on Light Street, possibly headed down U.S. 301. He said a canvas flap at the rear blew open, disclosing what looked like a body.

The pressure between needle and phonograph record groove is about 25,000 pounds per square inch.

Navy Bombers Tote Guided Missiles

CLEVELAND, June 18 (AP)—The Defense Department's top missile man said today the Navy is already operating and the Air Force will soon have missiles which can be launched from a bomber against targets far beyond the aircraft's range.

E. V. Murphree, special assistant for guided missiles to the secretary of defense, said that the Navy's Petrel and the Air Force Rascal "Will permit a bomber to deliver highly effective payloads without the necessity of the bombers penetrating defense surrounding the target."

The London, England, metropolitan area has 8,300,000 people.

Eighteen others were injured yesterday, some seriously, in this greatest single blow to the army's campaign against militant union-with-Greece advocates since the rebellion flared across this Mediterranean island colony April 1, 1955.

Throughout their long struggle, the rebels had killed 37 soldiers with bombs and bullets.

The British have put a $28,000 price on the head of the rebel chieftain Dighenis — whom they identify as a former Greek army colonel named George Grivas — and he is one of 11 men they still hope to net on the sunbaked Troodos ridges.

The fire toll developed on ridges which rise to a peak of 6,406 feet overlooking all Cyprus and the coasts of Turkey and Lebanon.

Whether set by man or nature, a point still undetermined, the fire had a relatively harmless start in the mountain brush and scrub pine and soldiers were detached from the hunt to fight it.

"The casualties were caused by a sudden and erratic change of the wind which blew the fire at high speed toward the troops," the British announced. Some casualties were caused by exploding gasoline tanks of vehicles caught by the fire. There were no civilian casualties."

A British official said the fire is now under control.

Forest fires have attended some previous military operations on the island. These have led to British charges that Cypriots set them to screen the flight of suspects and to Cypriot charges that the British troops were setting the woods afire with mortar shelling or carelessness with their cigarettes.

Villagers who might have helped fight the Troodos fire were told their help was not needed. British officers fear the villagers, once in the cordoned area, might help the rebel high command escape.

EGYPTIAN FLAG RAISED AT PORT SAID—Premier Gamal Nasser (right) helps raise flag of Egypt over the Navy House in Port Said, Egypt, during ceremony yesterday in which Egypt formally took over guardianship of the Suez Canal Zone. Opening a national three-day celebration of the departure of British troops after 73 years of occupation, Nasser, acclaimed by mobs that tried to kiss him, uttered prayer, "We pray God no foreign flag ever flies through our skies."

Truman Won't Look At Himself In Wax

LONDON, June 18 (AP)—Harry S. Truman refused today to look at a dummy of himself in Madame Tussaud's wax works.

"See myself in wax?" the former President remarked to reporters. "Why, I don't give a damn about seeing sights like that."

Madame Tussaud's, one of the favorite haunts of visitors to London, contains hundreds of dummies of widely known personalities—from kings and presidents to notorious murderers.

Luminous Watch Dials Increase Total Radiation

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) — Congress was told today even a luminous watch dial contributes the kind of radiation that could mar one's descendants — but a wrist watch has less effect than a pocket model.

Dr. H. Bentley Glass, Johns Hopkins University genetecist, appeared before a House Government Operations subcommittee studying civil defense matters. He is one of a group at the Baltimore university that prepared a recent report on the damage which an increase in radiation exposure could do to future generations.

Simply evacuating cities threatened by nuclear attacks would not do much to prevent this long-range damage, Glass said. Refugees in the open, or under ordinary shelter would still be exposed to radioactive fallout that would affect their sex organs, producing harmful mutations among their descendants.

For protection, he said, populations should be sheltered underground for as much as three weeks.

Glass cited radium-painted watch dials as one of the sources of radiation Americans encounter in the ordinary course of their lives. He repeated the estimate of the Johns Hopkins group that this total radiation, even counting nuclear weapons tests at the present rate, is below the level considered dangerous from the genetic point of view.

Position makes the difference between the effect of a luminous watch carried in the pocket and one on the wrist. Glass said, since the genetic effect is determined by the amount of radiation reaching the sex organs.

By the same token, he said, dental X-ray pictures are less likely to be harmful than fluoroscope studies of the abdominal region.

All-Woman Jury Drawn In Kentucky

PARIS, Ky., June 18 (AP)—An all-woman jury was empaneled in Circuit court today, apparently the first in Kentucky history.

"It was a lucky draw," said Judge William B. Ardery. There were 60 names in the jury wheel. The first 12 names I pulled out were women. Since all were qualified, they were accepted for duty."

Ardery told the women their work would "be pleasant and easy at this court term."

He also said the all-woman panel "apparently is the first in the state and possibly the nation."

Dulles Reported Cool To Pineau's UN Aid Proposal

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) — French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau tried but apparently failed today to sell Secretary of State Dulles on his plan to channel some American foreign aid through the United Nations.

Dulles was reported to have expressed no enthusiasm whatever for Pineau's proposal during a two-hour review of world problems at the State Department.

The meeting was the first of three such talks scheduled between Dulles and Pineau, mainly to chart new moves to offset Russia's softer policies toward the West.

Pineau stressed to reporters after the meeting that what he had in mind was that the United States distribute only a small part of its foreign aid billions through the United Nations.

He suggested that perhaps 6 per cent of American aid be channeled in this way, leaving the U. S. free to give the other 94 per cent to other countries at it now does.

Pineau declined to give any clue as to Dulles' reaction to his plan, first proposed several months ago.

Demos Say GOP Abets Industry "Cannibalism"

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The Democratic Digest said today that "cannibalism on a large scale" is being practiced in the business community with encouragement from the Eisenhower administration.

"Big businesses are swallowing little ones and merging with each other at a dangerous rate," said the July issue of the Democratic National Committee's official publication. It added:

"As this trend intensifies, the Eisenhower administration, responsible for administering the laws designed to stop it, is pursuing a policy of benevolent inaction."

The publication said the Department of Justice has been using the consent decree to "legalize the very monopoly it is charged by law to oppose."

"The record of the Eisenhower administration," it added, "has shown mergers and monopoly increasing, while giant corporations make an easy peace with the supposed enforcers of the laws.

"Instead of civilizing the cannibals, the administration has encouraged them. While this conforms to the GOP policy of big business first, it is hurting the public and jeopardizing the health of our system of free enterprise."

The Digest in another article cited presidential assistant Howard Pyle's offhand "right to suffer" remark last month about the Detroit unemployed auto workers, for which he later apologized, as one of many by administration officials from the President on down.

"Running through all these remarks," the article said, "is a theme which says: In our system of values the individual counts for little except in the abstract. But the people thus disposed of are not inclined to consider themselves in the abstract."

Chevrolet Builds Millionth '56 Vehicle

DETROIT, June 18 (AP)—The nation's car industry continues to hold down its overall production, but Chevrolet, biggest of the auto makers, is running only slightly behind last year's record volume.

The big General Motors producers, surging farther ahead of Ford division, built its millionth vehicle last week. It counted 819,869 cars and 183,725 trucks as its 1956 output through June 16. Ford division, meanwhile, brought its 1956 output to 649,863 cars and 149,150 trucks.

For Chevrolet its 1956 output compared with 877,519 cars and 177,092 trucks, built in the comparable 1955 period. In car output the difference is less than nine days production for Chevrolet.

8 U.S. Soldiers Hurt In Munich Bombing

MUNICH, Germany, June 18 (AP)—A hand grenade exploded in the bar of the "Seventh Heaven" night club here just before midnight last night, injuring 17 persons including eight American soldiers. Another American soldier was held for questioning.

The eight soldiers were hospitalized with minor injuries. All but two will be released tomorrow.

German police said two of nine injured Germans were in critical condition. They said the grenade was thrown by a man in an American uniform who entered the bar after the military patrolmen had ordered a group of soldiers to leave because of the midnight curfew.

Girl's Appeal Rejected In Roller Coaster Case

ANNAPOLIS, June 18 (AP) — The Court of Appeals today upheld the lower court decision which refused a Baltimore girl's claim against the operators of a roller coaster at Tolchester Beach from which she fell and was seriously hurt in 1951.

The opinion upheld a Talbot county circuit court decision which found non negligence on the part of Wil-Mar, Ind.

The girl, Pauline Hawk, who was 15 years old at the time, claimed the upholstery on the roller coaster car was ripped and that her head struck an exposed board, knocking her unconscious. She fell from the coaster car and landed on a shack below.

School Program Cut

LONDON, June 18 (AP)—Britain today ordered a one-third cut in its school building program to help the fight against inflation.

Minister of Education Sir David Eccles told local education authorities that of 89 million pounds—249 million dollars—school construction on schedule, only 144 million dollars will be started before next March 31.

Two Young Cypriots Sentenced To Death

NICOSIA, Cyprus, June 18 (AP)—Two young Cypriots were sentenced to death by a Nicosia judge today for slaying a British Royal Air Force corporal.

Both are aged 22 and come from Paleomotocho Village.

A third youth, aged 18, was given life imprisonment.

Hydrogen Bomb Miss Informant Reported Sought

HONOLULU, June 18 (AP)— The Honolulu Advertiser said today that military intelligence authorities and the FBI are closing in on an Eniwetok-based service man who told the Honolulu Star-Bulletin last Friday that the May 21 H-bomb missed its target by seven miles.

In Washington, the FBI said it was not participating in the inquiry.

After publication of the Star-Bulletin story and circulation of other reports in Washington, the Air Force Saturday issued a brief formal statement acknowledging that the air-dropped H-bomb at Bikini had missed the target island of Namu by "somewhat less than four miles."

The Advertiser's story today said intelligence authorities were more concerned with the fact that someone talked than with the "mixture of fact and scuttlebutt he dispensed."

The Advertiser reported that the informant or informants spent a rest leave in Honolulu last week at the same hotel where a Star-Bulletin reporter lives.

The Star-Bulletin's Friday account quoted the unidentified technician as saying two men on Eniwetok, 180 miles from the blast scene, were "permanently" blinded because they did not cover their eyes when the big blast went off.

Truck Apparently Carrying Body Sought

BALTIMORE, June 18 (AP) — Maryland police have been asked to look for a truck which a Baltimorean said passed through the city about 5 p.m., apparently carrying a body.

The alert described the truck as "make and model unknown, painted yellow."

Police said the informant told them the truck with New York license tags drove south on Light Street, possibly headed down U.S. 301. He said a canvas flap at the rear blew open, disclosing what looked like a body.

The pressure between needle and phonograph record groove is about 25,000 pounds per square inch.

Navy Bombers Tote Guided Missiles

CLEVELAND, June 18 (AP)—The Defense Department's top missile man said today the Navy is already operating and the Air Force will soon have missiles which can be launched from a bomber against targets far beyond the aircraft's range.

E. V. Murphree, special assistant for guided missiles to the secretary of defense, said that the Navy's Petrel and the Air Force Rascal "Will permit a bomber to deliver highly effective payloads without the necessity of the bombers penetrating defense surrounding the target."

The London, England, metropolitan area has 8,300,000 people.

PSC Told W. Md. Railway Discourages Passengers

BALTIMORE, June 18 (AP)—The Western Maryland Railway has discouraged passenger riding between Hagerstown and Baltimore, the Public Service Commission was told today.

Trains are late regularly, schedules don't fit the needs of potential passengers and there aren't enough stops, the PSC heard from witnesses.

The witnesses are opposing a request by the Railway to discontinue its four daily trains for passengers. It said it is costing $160,000 a year to operate them.

John G. Luntz of Fairfield, Pa., said once a passenger train was made an hour and seven minutes late because a freight train had been "deliberately" given the right of way.

He said the schedules are such that passengers arrive in Baltimore an hour too early for shopping or work. Some stops, he added, offer only one-way service.

Luntz also criticized what he called two "luxurious private cars" assigned to the railway's president and vice president. Not only do they cost a lot to operate, but they are so heavy they slow down the passenger trains to which they are attached, Luntz testified.

The company has contended that most of the usage on the present runs is by short-haul passengers between Baltimore and Glyndon. Witnesses said nothing had been done to encourage long-haul passengers.

Two witnesses based their opposition to discontinuance of the service on the convenience to their homes and businesses. One of them said he would be willing to pay a higher fare in order to retain the service.

The hearing, begun last week, concluded today. The commission gave counsel until Aug. 1 to submit briefs.

Presbyterians Elect Weaver Moderator

FREDERICK, June 18 (AP)—The Rev. David W. Weaver of Baltimore was elected moderator today at the opening of the 101st annual synod of the Baltimore Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Weaver succeeded the Rev. Wendell S. Treadick Jr., pastor of the Warner Memorial Church in Kensington.

The new moderator has been pastor of the Hunting Ridge church since 1941, coming to Baltimore from Mauch Chunk, Pa. He is a graduate of Washington & Jefferson College and the Princeton Theological Seminary.

The Rev. Weaver is a former moderator of the Presbytery of Baltimore. He is the chairman of the committee on stewardship and promotion of the Synod.

Election of the moderator was the first business of the four-day synod at Hood College.

A memorial service for deceased ministers and elders was held this evening and the Rev. Tredick presided at a service of Holy communion.

Nixon Pays Visit To Boys State

ANNAPOLIS, June 18 (AP)—Boys State, a youth group devoted to studying the principles of representative government and good citizenship, got going on a week-long program today with some words from Vice President Richard Nixon.

The vice president stopped by St. John's College briefly on his way back to Washington after opening the President's Conference on Fitness of American Youth at the Naval Academy and told the boys one of their group would possibly become vice president.

He also predicted that one or more of the 140 representatives would be future State or national legislators.

Nixon said he was looking forward to meeting Maryland's two boy senators when they attend Boys Nation in Washington later in the summer. The senators will be elected Friday to represent the state at the national meeting.

During the week, the delegates sponsored by various American Legion posts across the state, will discuss and study such things as city, county, State and federal governmental functions and the various integrated activities of their agencies and departments.

Statewide general elections and the election of the two senators will take place Friday.

Strangulation Caused Death Of Venable Girl

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) — Shelby Jean Venable, 16-year-old Maryland girl found face down in a Virginia stream last Thursday, was strangled to death, Loudoun County's pathologist reported tonight.

"Strangulation has been clearly established by our tests," said Dr. Oscar B. Hunter Jr., Washington physician who conducts pathological tests for the county. He directed the first autopsy made on the body.

"There was definite injury to the neck," he continued, "and she was not alive when she was placed in the water."

Dr. Hunter said it has not been possible to determine if the Venable girl was sexually assaulted.

"The degree of deterioration of the tissues makes it impossible to state whether or not she was raped," he said.

Dr. Hunter was asked if he placed any qualification on his decision that strangulation was the cause of death.

"No," he declared, "this is a definite statement—the final word. The facts as now established show strangulation as the cause."

He said the girl "did not drown," was not shot or poisoned and suffered no head injuries.

Dr. Hunter said his disclosures could be considered a report made jointly with Dr. G. T. Mann, chief medical examiner of the state of Virginia. Dr. Mann said earlier today that "we are satisfied" Shelby Jean died of violence but added that "the precise mechanism awaits further confirmatory tests."

Dr. Hunter and his staff conducted the first autopsy on the body shortly after its discovery and have been working on tissue examinations since. He said Friday he expected a decision by today.

Shelby Jean, from Laurel, Md., disappeared June 1 along with a friend, 18-year-old Mary Elizabeth Fellers of Beltsville.

On June 9 the body of the Fellers girl was found in the Potomac River near Brunswick, Md. Then a fisherman last Thursday discovered the Venable girl's body in a Catoctin Creek—just nine miles from the Brunswick location. Both bodies were nude.

The report from Dr. Hunter apparently adds up officially to a double murder.

Woman Felled By 'Flying' Cow

BAD AXE, Mich., June 18 (AP)—Pedestrian Mrs. Janet Whittaker, 62, looked up to see a cow flying at her.

Bossy had been knocked off her feet by a car on a rural road. Mrs. Whittaker was knocked down and suffered minor abrasions. The car suffered $300 damages. The cow got a severe shaking up.

Rural Women Begin "School"

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 18 (AP)—Nearly a thousand women arrived here today for the opening of the 30th annual Rural Women's Short Course.

By mid-afternoon, a total of 986 wives and mothers had arrived at the University of Maryland campus for a week of schooling in various phases of home economics. University officials said registration would probably top the 1,000 figure by the end of the day.

The women came by auto and chartered bus, registered and were taken to dormitories to unpack. Allegany County had the largest delegation, with a total of 108 registered. There were 94 women from Baltimore city, and 84 from Baltimore County.

A vesper service tonight was the only scheduled event on the arrival day. Dr. William E. Smith, of the University Methodist Church, College Park, was the speaker. His topic—"The Fine Art of Living Together."

A Washington County group provided the music.

Classes begin tomorrow morning. The women have a choice of 19 courses to choose among.

Missing Man's Body Found Near Aberdeen

ABERDEEN, Md., June 8 (AP)—The body of a man was found today in the Bush River inlet near the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge south of here.

Dr. Gerald Palmer, Harford County medical examiner, said a relative identified the body as that of Cornelius Pitt, 52, of near Aberdeen.

Pitt had been missing since Friday. Palmer said the body had been in the water for several days.

Guitarist Dies In Fire

HOLLYWOOD, June 18 (AP) — Guitarist Billy Dillard, 30, a member of the Red Norvo jazz trio, burned to death yesterday when fire swept through his Hollywood Hills apartment.

A weekend guest of Dillard's, Robert Tully, 28, a UCLA student and professional trumpet player, was seriously burned in the blaze.

Prison Watchman Who Fled Nabbed

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., June 18 (AP)—State Penitentiary officials said an unwatched night watchman who escaped two weeks ago was on his way back to prison today.

Officials said Lacy Shrewbsury, 40, was arrested in Baltimore Sunday in a police raid. Prison Guard Ray Morris left for Baltimore to return the escapee.

Shrewsbury, a prison trusty, fled while on duty as a night watchman. Prison officials commented only, "the night watchman has lost his job."

Marbury Named Port Authority Counsel

BALTIMORE, June 18 (AP)—William L. Marbury, Baltimore lawyer, was appointed today counsel for Maryland's new port authority.

The authority, authorized by the 1956 General Assembly, held its first meeting last Thursday.

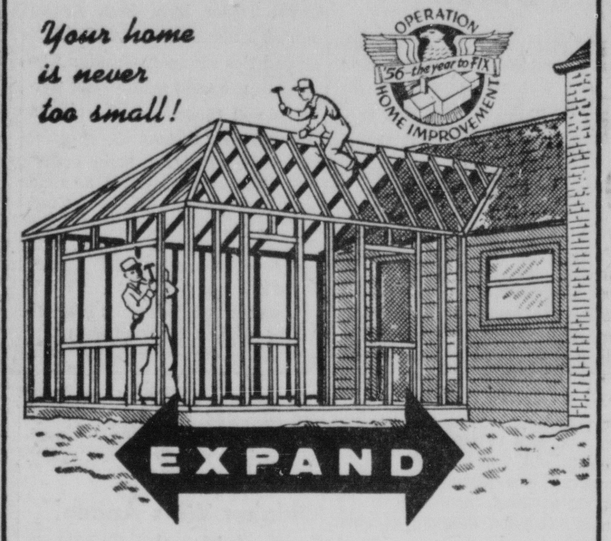

Marbury's selection as legal representative was announced by Robert W. Williams, chairman of the authority, and C. Ferdinand Sybert, attorney general.

Marbury is a former assistant attorney general.

Big Torque of the Best Sellers

IT WOULD stand to reason that automobiles selling in the same league, so to speak, would be pretty close in their engineering specifications.

Like in "torque multiplication"—the twisting force a transmission delivers to the drive shaft. (The greater the torque multiplication, the greater the performance).

But what do you find?

You find that any '56 Buick with advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow delivers a higher torque ratio than any standard-production car in America.*

And you find that this high-torque performance is one reason for Buick's best-seller standing. For Buick is now more strongly positioned in the Top 3 of the nation's biggest-selling automobiles.

That's news—and there's plenty more where that came from. For the '56 Buick is jam-packed with new engineering and styling advances to make it the best Buick yet, by far.

That new Dynaflow, for example, brings you the world's only switch-pitch performance in cars—plus a new part-throttle getaway response that's swifter, surer, and a gas-saver to boot.

The new V8 engine is 322-cubic-inches big, and packed with the highest horsepowers, the highest compressions in all Buick annals.

There's a joyous new ride, too—a new steering magic—a new "sense of direction" in your every handling maneuver.

Thing to do is come see for yourself. That way you can also look at the prices that have helped move Buick to a new sales success—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller ones.

Will you do that, this week?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Woman Felled By 'Flying' Cow

BAD AXE, Mich., June 18 (AP)—Pedestrian Mrs. Janet Whittaker, 62, looked up to see a cow flying at her.

Bossy had been knocked off her feet by a car on a rural road. Mrs. Whittaker was knocked down and suffered minor abrasions. The car suffered $300 damages. The cow got a severe shaking up.

FOUR OF A KIND—Mrs. M. R. Stone, Huntington, W. Va., proudly displays quadruplet goats. Multiple goat births are the rule, but quadruplets are unusual. The kids, three days old, weighed five pounds each. Three are female, one male. (AP Photofax)

The dog population of the United States is estimated at 22,500,000 and there are some 2,300 hospitals to take care of them.

The phrase "almighty dollar" is attributed by some experts to Washington Irving in his The Creole Village.

Rural Women Begin "School"

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 18 (AP)—Nearly a thousand women arrived here today for the opening of the 30th annual Rural Women's Short Course.

By mid-afternoon, a total of 986 wives and mothers had arrived at the University of Maryland campus for a week of schooling in various phases of home economics. University officials said registration would probably top the 1,000 figure by the end of the day.

The women came by auto and chartered bus, registered and were taken to dormitories to unpack. Allegany County had the largest delegation, with a total of 108 registered. There were 94 women from Baltimore city, and 84 from Baltimore County.

A vesper service tonight was the only scheduled event on the arrival day. Dr. William E. Smith, of the University Methodist Church, College Park, was the speaker. His topic—"The Fine Art of Living Together."

A Washington County group provided the music.

Classes begin tomorrow morning. The women have a choice of 19 courses to choose among.

Missing Man's Body Found Near Aberdeen

ABERDEEN, Md., June 8 (AP)—The body of a man was found today in the Bush River inlet near the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge south of here.

Dr. Gerald Palmer, Harford County medical examiner, said a relative identified the body as that of Cornelius Pitt, 52, of near Aberdeen.

Pitt had been missing since Friday. Palmer said the body had been in the water for several days.

Guitarist Dies In Fire

HOLLYWOOD, June 18 (AP) — Guitarist Billy Dillard, 30, a member of the Red Norvo jazz trio, burned to death yesterday when fire swept through his Hollywood Hills apartment.

A weekend guest of Dillard's, Robert Tully, 28, a UCLA student and professional trumpet player, was seriously burned in the blaze.

Prison Watchman Who Fled Nabbed

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., June 18 (AP)—State Penitentiary officials said an unwatched night watchman who escaped two weeks ago was on his way back to prison today.

Officials said Lacy Shrewbsury, 40, was arrested in Baltimore Sunday in a police raid. Prison Guard Ray Morris left for Baltimore to return the escapee.

Shrewsbury, a prison trusty, fled while on duty as a night watchman. Prison officials commented only, "the night watchman has lost his job."

Marbury Named Port Authority Counsel

BALTIMORE, June 18 (AP)—William L. Marbury, Baltimore lawyer, was appointed today counsel for Maryland's new port authority.

The authority, authorized by the 1956 General Assembly, held its first meeting last Thursday.

Marbury's selection as legal representative was announced by Robert W. Williams, chairman of the authority, and C. Ferdinand Sybert, attorney general.

Marbury is a former assistant attorney general.

Big Torque of the Best Sellers

IT WOULD stand to reason that automobiles selling in the same league, so to speak, would be pretty close in their engineering specifications.

Like in "torque multiplication"—the twisting force a transmission delivers to the drive shaft. (The greater the torque multiplication, the greater the performance).

But what do you find?

You find that any '56 Buick with advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow delivers a higher torque ratio than any standard-production car in America.*

And you find that this high-torque performance is one reason for Buick's best-seller standing. For Buick is now more strongly positioned in the Top 3 of the nation's biggest-selling automobiles.

That's news—and there's plenty more where that came from. For the '56 Buick is jam-packed with new engineering and styling advances to make it the best Buick yet, by far.

That new Dynaflow, for example, brings you the world's only switch-pitch performance in cars—plus a new part-throttle getaway response that's swifter, surer, and a gas-saver to boot.

The new V8 engine is 322-cubic-inches big, and packed with the highest horsepowers, the highest compressions in all Buick annals.

There's a joyous new ride, too—a new steering magic—a new "sense of direction" in your every handling maneuver.

Thing to do is come see for yourself. That way you can also look at the prices that have helped move Buick to a new sales success—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller ones.

Will you do that, this week?

13 Railroad Cars Derail

BELPRE, Ohio (AP) — Thirteen proved unlucky in the Baltimore & Ohio's third accident in 2½ weeks—the derailment of 13 freight cars here Saturday.

Tracks were cleared Sunday after the derailment just short of a bridge across the Ohio River to Parkersburg, W. Va. The train, High Car 96, was on its way from St. Louis to New York with about 90 cars. No one was injured.

Fire Chief Williams Mulligan of Belpre said two bridges were damaged—a concrete underpass where the accident occurred and a wooden trestle.

G. S. Harris, assistant division superintendent, said in Grafton, W. Va., that the cause is not yet known, but that officials suspect a burned out journal box on one of the derailed cars.

He estimated damage at about $40,000.

"YMCA Water Safety Rules"....

... and don't forget these other important YMCA water safety rules: Pick a safe place to swim. Keep within the limits of your swimming ability. After hard exercise, relax a bit before you hit the water. Always race toward the shore or parallel to it, never away from shore. If you can't swim, stay out of small boats. Don't take a sailboat out unless you're a good swimmer and understand sailing. Avoid swimming during electrical storms. When attempting a rescue, stay out of the water if at all possible. Try to reach the victim with a pole, rope, clothing or something buoyant. And most important of all, if you're in trouble in the water, force yourself to keep calm. Cramps don't cause drowning—panic is the danger. Remember that comparatively small objects will support you if you'll just take advantage of your body's natural buoyancy. So happy paddling! Barton Church Asks For Bids On Property

BARTON — Sealed bids are being sought for the sale of a parcel of land and improvements thereon, located on Latrobe Street next to the elementary school here.

David E. Kirk, secretary of the Board of Trustees of the First Presbyterian Church, said that bids will be received on or before Monday, July 30 and will be opened at 7 30 p. m. (EDT) that day.

The property is improved by a two-story brick building containing eight rooms and divided into two apartments with gas, electric and water.

The "Lashbaugh's property," was deeded to the church under a deed from James H. and Maude Dawson, dated February 8, 1955 and filed among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 265, Folio 323.

All bids must be accompanied by a check payable to the Board of Trustees of the church in the amount of ten per cent of the bid. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

CINCINNATI, June 18 —(INS)— Father Flanagan used to say, and Father Wegner repeats at Boys Town, that there's no such thing as a bad boy. Flanagan, gone to his reward, and Wegner, vigorously engaged in rewarding work in the Omaha area, must obtain a measure of satisfaction out of the work of Operation Youth, a pet project of 125-year old Xavier University. There are no such things as smart and privileged bad boys either.

Operation Youth annually brings to Xavier some 300 high school students from eight surrounding states for a week of tours, exposure to the roles of labor and management, the course of private industry and other mature and sobering things like our foreign policy, and responsibilities of the free press and so forth.

Xavier is a Jesuit school. The application blank which a delegate to Operation Youth fills out contains no questions as to the applicant's religion, color or race. Delegates are chosen by civic and fraternal groups from the top third of their high school classes. But to be sure that it never becomes a convention of miniature long-hairs, the Jesuits insist that each accepted delegate engage in at least one extra activity—sports or otherwise.

The forum operates on the premise that even kids who do well in school and are not the slightest menace to society still should know what makes the nation click. There are lectures on "what is a right?" and to the astonishment of an old sportswriter who covered it the answer wasn't "what you follow a left hook with."

"Democracy in action for 'teenage youth," is the cover piece of the program. Congressman Hale Boggs of Louisiana, lauding the movement in the Congressional Record, calls it a program to "sell America to the youth of America." "It's a program," he says, "which teaches young men the basic truths and blessings of American life by having them 'live America' for a week at Xavier Xavier has answered the challenge of our time by developing a program as enjoyable as it is educational, a program to sell America to the youth of America."

You'll fly at greater heights, greater speeds and more safely as a result of progress being made at General Electric's nearby Evendale plant. It is a vast jet and rocket plant employing 14,000 men and women. Its latest known product is the J-79 engine which shocks the stub-winged Lockheed F-104-A fighter through the air at speeds still un-announced but believed to be around 1,500 mph. It may develop as much as 13,000 pounds thrust, or 13,000 horsepower.

GE's J-47, which has been in the historic Boeing B-47 from the start, has little resemblance today to the original J-47 jet engine. This engine has undergone 20,000 design changes in its life —that's six a day — which gives you some idea of how fast we are traveling.

The Evendale plant, which numbers among its skilled hands many German experts rounded up near the end of the war or since escaped from behind the iron curtain, has built the engine which will lift the huge three-stage rocket which will thrust man's first moon into space two years hence. The job is done and the men who built it are satisfied that it will pass all its tests at Malta, N. Y. It will provide the original propulsion, carrying the whole mass 40 miles into the air before it breaks away. In that time, which will take two minutes, it will give the rocket a speed of nearly 4,000 miles an hour —and burn enough fuel to keep your car and your son's car and his son's car running until some time into the 21st century.

Barton Church Asks For Bids On Property

BARTON — Sealed bids are being sought for the sale of a parcel of land and improvements thereon, located on Latrobe Street next to the elementary school here.

David E. Kirk, secretary of the Board of Trustees of the First Presbyterian Church, said that bids will be received on or before Monday, July 30 and will be opened at 7 30 p. m. (EDT) that day.

The property is improved by a two-story brick building containing eight rooms and divided into two apartments with gas, electric and water.

The "Lashbaugh's property," was deeded to the church under a deed from James H. and Maude Dawson, dated February 8, 1955 and filed among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 265, Folio 323.

All bids must be accompanied by a check payable to the Board of Trustees of the church in the amount of ten per cent of the bid. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

CINCINNATI, June 18 —(INS)— Father Flanagan used to say, and Father Wegner repeats at Boys Town, that there's no such thing as a bad boy. Flanagan, gone to his reward, and Wegner, vigorously engaged in rewarding work in the Omaha area, must obtain a measure of satisfaction out of the work of Operation Youth, a pet project of 125-year old Xavier University. There are no such things as smart and privileged bad boys either.

Operation Youth annually brings to Xavier some 300 high school students from eight surrounding states for a week of tours, exposure to the roles of labor and management, the course of private industry and other mature and sobering things like our foreign policy, and responsibilities of the free press and so forth.

Xavier is a Jesuit school. The application blank which a delegate to Operation Youth fills out contains no questions as to the applicant's religion, color or race. Delegates are chosen by civic and fraternal groups from the top third of their high school classes. But to be sure that it never becomes a convention of miniature long-hairs, the Jesuits insist that each accepted delegate engage in at least one extra activity—sports or otherwise.

The forum operates on the premise that even kids who do well in school and are not the slightest menace to society still should know what makes the nation click. There are lectures on "what is a right?" and to the astonishment of an old sportswriter who covered it the answer wasn't "what you follow a left hook with."

"Democracy in action for 'teenage youth,'" is the cover piece of the program. Congressman Hale Boggs of Louisiana, lauding the movement in the Congressional Record, calls it a program to "sell America to the youth of America."

"It's a program," he says, "which teaches young men the basic truths and blessings of American life by having them 'live America' for a week at Xavier Xavier has answered the challenge of our time by developing a program as enjoyable as it is educational, a program to sell America to the youth of America."

You'll fly at greater heights, greater speeds and more safely as a result of progress being made at General Electric's nearby Evendale plant. It is a vast jet and rocket plant employing 14,000 men and women. Its latest known product is the J-79 engine which shocks the stub-winged Lockheed F-104-A fighter through the air at speeds still un-announced but believed to be around 1,500 mph. It may develop as much as 13,000 pounds thrust, or 13,000 horsepower.

GE's J-47, which has been in the historic Boeing B-47 from the start, has little resemblance today to the original J-47 jet engine. This engine has undergone 20,000 design changes in its life —that's six a day — which gives you some idea of how fast we are traveling.

The Evendale plant, which numbers among its skilled hands many German experts rounded up near the end of the war or since escaped from behind the iron curtain, has built the engine which will lift the huge three-stage rocket which will thrust man's first moon into space two years hence. The job is done and the men who built it are satisfied that it will pass all its tests at Malta, N. Y. It will provide the original propulsion, carrying the whole mass 40 miles into the air before it breaks away. In that time, which will take two minutes, it will give the rocket a speed of nearly 4,000 miles an hour —and burn enough fuel to keep your car and your son's car and his son's car running until some time into the 21st century.

Rec Board's Stand Draws Fire Of City Councilmen

A Cumberland Recreation Board statement that it believed it wiser to take no further action on property acquisitions until the Mayor and Council laid down in writing policies it wishes the board to follow, has come under fire of an opponent and a proponent of the proposed purchase of Southview Addition.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, who voted against the purchase of Southview last week, took exception and said the board is supposed to make recommendations and, if they are turned down, continue to make recommendations.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long, who voted for the purchase, said he went along with Buchholtz's view on that point and added "If they feel that way they should be called in and have a meeting to find out what they plan to do. I don't think we should sit here and have them tell us what to do," Long continued.

No Meetings Held

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan asked if any meetings had been held with the board and Long and Buchholtz said none had since they had been in council. It was pointed out meetings had been held with various members and the chairman, however.

The Recreation Board, in a letter signed by Chief Circuit Judge George Henderson, chairman, and Florence Yankelevitz, secretary, said it regretted action of council in rejecting the proposed purchase. (Council rejected the move 3-2 last week. Keegan and Long supported it but Buchholtz, Mayor Roy W. Eves and Commissioner William J. Edwards voted against it.)

The letter said it had read accounts and received Eves' letter, which made various suggestions for its future activities, but that it does not know how council thinks as a whole or along what lines it desires the board to take action. For that reason, the board said it believed it wiser to take no further action with reference to property acquisition until council, as a whole, lays down in writing policies it wishes the board to follow.

Long Praises Members

Long had praise for members of the board who, he said, "have served well and without pay. And it is a surprise to me after the rebuff of their plans that they didn't resign."

Buchholtz also took exception to a resolution presented by the South Cumberland Business Men's Association in which it said action by council in rejecting the purchase was "regretted."

He particularly pointed to a section which said council disregarded professional recommendations and cited waste of time, effort and taxpayer's money as well as retarding a substantial permanent recreation program.

Long suggested that the association's letter be referred to the Recreation Board and if they deem it advisable to bring Southview up for consideration again they (the board) may have information which council should have.

Council also received a letter from John J. Mitchell, 118 Winton Place, commending Eves, Edwards and Buchholtz for their vote against purchase of Southview Addition.

Rec Group Meet Set

A meeting of the Columbia Street Playground Association will be held today at 7:30 p. m. at the playlot, according to Joseph J. Seibert, chairman, who said parents of children who use the facilities should attend in order that supervision for the summer season can be arranged.

Court Room Work Begins

Work was started yesterday on placing the plywood underlay for the new tile and carpet floor in the main Circuit Court room at the Court House.

The tile, which will be laid in the area set aside for spectators, is of a cork color, while the carpet is a bluish color with brown flecks. The carpeting will be installed in the section containing the jury box and bench.

Completion of the flooring work will end the court room modernization project begun several months ago. The entire interior has been repainted and remodeled, and solid walnut furniture formerly used in the Federal Court in the Post Office building has been installed.

Dept. Personnel Changes Receive City's Approval

A number of appointments were approved yesterday by the Mayor and Council.

William R. Hudson was named temporary draftsman in the Engineering Department during the illness of John Treiber. His salary will be $300 a month.

Season Recreation Department jobs and changes were approved as follows:

John J. Kilroy Jr., replaced by Robert Reger as laborer at $1 an hour; Jean Harden hired as extra typist at $1 an hour; R. Eugene Shaw replaced by Joseph R. Gallen as softball-baseball director at $150 a month; Adrian Knippenberg status changed from ballfield leader to playground leader at same $80 monthly rate; Harry McFarland replaced as playground director by William Fair at $90 a month; Alice M. Fitzwater replaced as playground director by June P. Bush at $90 a month; Richard Feller hired as playground leader at $80 a month; Randolph Stein replaced as playground projectionist by Thomas Buser at $40 a month; Kenneth Birmingham salary changed from $175 to $200 a month retroactive to June 4 as assistant playground supervisor.

Edward Bock, 430 Valley Street, operator of a repair shop, submitted a petition with 31 signatures in answer to a complaint last week by a neighbor, Powell T. Hess, 427 Furnace Street, against noise from the shop and traffic in his private driveway.

Bock said Hess is the only one to make a complaint about noise and said Hess' complaint is not against noise but over the traffic situation which exists in that immediate area.

Council authorized payment of $8,825.22 to Cumberland Contracting Company as estimate No. 8 (semi-final) for work April 27-May 4 on the water line to Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company; and $750 to Samuel E. Clingan, a reimbursement for costs involved in removing obstructions for the flood easement area on North Mechanic Street which was the obligation of the city but which Clingan performed at the city's request.

Purchase of an easement for flood control from Blanche E. and Mary Louise Snyder was approved.

Council accepted options for purchase of right-of-way easements from the federal government covering 22 acres for $10,900. The money to be paid the city represents land previously acquired locally for flood work with the understanding tracts would be conveyed to the government when it contributed its share of the purchase price. A similar order for eight tracts involving $4,965 was also approved and Mayor Roy W. Eves authorized to execute the option and deeds in both instances.

City Approves Order To Cut Health Dept. Appropriation

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved an order, introduced by Mayor Roy W. Eves, which will, in effect, reduce the city appropriation for Health Department services during the next fiscal year.

The order instructs City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson to include in budget ordinances in August, the amount of $33,113.49 for the fiscal year July 1, 1956-June 30, 1957, payable to Allegany County Commissioners for supplying personnel and expenses for the health program as had been previously set up in the city's budget under Health Department and Cooperative Laboratory. The city will continue, however, to appropriate $540 toward the compensation of the state bacteriologist since this expense is not included in expenses taken over by the State Board of Health.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, told council this assurance was needed from the city under the new Case Committee plan which provides for a more equal distribution of state funds to counties for health work. It goes into effect July 1. Frantz added the combined city and county budget will be approximately $153,000, of which the state will furnish about $80,000. The remainder, about $73,000, has to be assumed locally, he said.

Dr. Frantz said the Case Committee found some counties receive more state funds than others, and moved for an equal distribution of these funds. He said it would appear that local funds needed each year would be less, but it will be up to the city and county to get together about the first of the year and negotiate the amounts to be paid. It is possible, he added, that the two governments could arrive at a "fair minimum amount" as the years go by, and he estimated that the state will appropriate more money in the future.

Prior to yesterday's meeting, Mayor Eves cited figures which showed the plan would effect a saving of $7,475.51 this year. Next year, when the anticipated total budget will be $53,161.71, including increased salaries required by state law, the saving will be $12,889.22.

Health activities in this fiscal year amounted to $40,272.49.

The earth's rotation slows down very slightly over any long period of years.

Ordinance For New Flood Bond Issue Is Read

The Mayor and Council introduced an ordinance yesterday for the sale Tuesday, September 25, of a $150,000 flood project bond issue.

The ordinance was read the first time and will go to its second reading next week.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long issued the following summary incident to introduction of the ordinance:

He explained that it is hoped this issue would represent the final one required of the city in order to obtain funds to meet its full obligations under the flood control contract with the federal government.

Some Real Estate Needed

Long continued there is still some real estate to be acquired as well as obligations for contributions toward construction costs. The Baltimore Street bridge is still among the remaining major items and the city has a substantial contribution toward the span, he said.

Commissioner Long further pointed out that in arriving at the amount of bonds to be issued, he reviewed that matter with City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson, and that the flood control files reveal there should be approximately $71,000 to be repaid by the federal government to the city. This is reimbursement for property acquisition and certain construction costs originally absorbed by the City and for which the federal government has agreed to reimburse the City.

Represent Funds Paid

Funds to be reimbursed represent $18,584.00 for work paid for by the city on the Market Street bridge; $16,971 for funds advanced by the city on the Valley Street bridge and $35,736.00 for real estate acquisitions by the city on behalf of the government in Ridgeley, and along Wills Creek in Cumberland.

Commissioner Long further pointed out that this bond issue will be sold on September 25, the same date being the date agreed upon for the sale of the $150,000 Memorial Hospital bonds. Long explained that the joint sale totaling $300,000.00 should attract more purchasers than would the sale of the two bond issues at different dates. Also he added it is hoped that the bond market will show favorable improvement for municipal issues by early fall.

Cadillac

Just Graduated...To a Cadillac!

It's graduation time! And this happy gentleman—appropriately enough—has just gone through some important graduation exercises of his own.

It was just a few minutes ago, in fact, that he stood in his dealer's showroom and accepted the keys to his first Cadillac car.

But even though he now holds his final degree, so to speak, in motor car ownership, his education in all the good things of motordom is only beginning.

Take performance, for instance. The car is so smooth and powerful, and so nimble and obedient that it automatically revises a man's standards of automotive performance.

Consider comfort. Rolling along the broadest boulevard or taking the roughest bylane, the car is incredibly smooth and level in ride.

And think about pride and satisfaction. What an extraordinary feeling it is to sit in command of the "car of cars"—and find yourself the subject of admiring glances on every hand.

Have you ever considered how wonderful it would be to "graduate" to Cadillac? If you have, then this is a marvelous time to make the move.

Certainly, it has never been easier to sign your name to the title. We are, happily, in a position to offer you prompt delivery on your favorite mod[illegible]d we know you will be pleased to learn how practical Cadillac ownership has now become.

Why not stop in while the springtime is still with us—and spend an hour at the wheel?

It's a wonderful season and a wonderful car—and a wonderful opportunity to enjoy them both!

Season Recreation Department jobs and changes were approved as follows:

John J. Kilroy Jr., replaced by Robert Reger as laborer at $1 an hour; Jean Harden hired as extra typist at $1 an hour; R. Eugene Shaw replaced by Joseph R. Gallen as softball-baseball director at $150 a month; Adrian Knippenberg status changed from ballfield leader to playground leader at same $80 monthly rate; Harry McFarland replaced as playground director by William Fair at $90 a month; Alice M. Fitzwater replaced as playground director by June P. Bush at $90 a month; Richard Feller hired as playground leader at $80 a month; Randolph Stein replaced as playground projectionist by Thomas Buser at $40 a month; Kenneth Birmingham salary changed from $175 to $200 a month retroactive to June 4 as assistant playground supervisor.

Edward Bock, 430 Valley Street, operator of a repair shop, submitted a petition with 31 signatures in answer to a complaint last week by a neighbor, Powell T. Hess, 427 Furnace Street, against noise from the shop and traffic in his private driveway.

Bock said Hess is the only one to make a complaint about noise and said Hess' complaint is not against noise but over the traffic situation which exists in that immediate area.

Council authorized payment of $8,825.22 to Cumberland Contracting Company as estimate No. 8 (semi-final) for work April 27-May 4 on the water line to Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company; and $750 to Samuel E. Clingan, a reimbursement for costs involved in removing obstructions for the flood easement area on North Mechanic Street which was the obligation of the city but which Clingan performed at the city's request.

Purchase of an easement for flood control from Blanche E. and Mary Louise Snyder was approved.

Council accepted options for purchase of right-of-way easements from the federal government covering 22 acres for $10,900. The money to be paid the city represents land previously acquired locally for flood work with the understanding tracts would be conveyed to the government when it contributed its share of the purchase price. A similar order for eight tracts involving $4,965 was also approved and Mayor Roy W. Eves authorized to execute the option and deeds in both instances.

City Approves Order To Cut Health Dept. Appropriation

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved an order, introduced by Mayor Roy W. Eves, which will, in effect, reduce the city appropriation for Health Department services during the next fiscal year.

The order instructs City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson to include in budget ordinances in August, the amount of $33,113.49 for the fiscal year July 1, 1956-June 30, 1957, payable to Allegany County Commissioners for supplying personnel and expenses for the health program as had been previously set up in the city's budget under Health Department and Cooperative Laboratory. The city will continue, however, to appropriate $540 toward the compensation of the state bacteriologist since this expense is not included in expenses taken over by the State Board of Health.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, told council this assurance was needed from the city under the new Case Committee plan which provides for a more equal distribution of state funds to counties for health work. It goes into effect July 1. Frantz added the combined city and county budget will be approximately $153,000, of which the state will furnish about $80,000. The remainder, about $73,000, has to be assumed locally, he said.

Dr. Frantz said the Case Committee found some counties receive more state funds than others, and moved for an equal distribution of these funds. He said it would appear that local funds needed each year would be less, but it will be up to the city and county to get together about the first of the year and negotiate the amounts to be paid. It is possible, he added, that the two governments could arrive at a "fair minimum amount" as the years go by, and he estimated that the state will appropriate more money in the future.

Prior to yesterday's meeting, Mayor Eves cited figures which showed the plan would effect a saving of $7,475.51 this year. Next year, when the anticipated total budget will be $53,161.71, including increased salaries required by state law, the saving will be $12,889.22.

Health activities in this fiscal year amounted to $40,272.49.

The earth's rotation slows down very slightly over any long period of years.

Ordinance For New Flood Bond Issue Is Read

The Mayor and Council introduced an ordinance yesterday for the sale Tuesday, September 25, of a $150,000 flood project bond issue.

The ordinance was read the first time and will go to its second reading next week.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long issued the following summary incident to introduction of the ordinance:

He explained that it is hoped this issue would represent the final one required of the city in order to obtain funds to meet its full obligations under the flood control contract with the federal government.

Some Real Estate Needed

Long continued there is still some real estate to be acquired as well as obligations for contributions toward construction costs. The Baltimore Street bridge is still among the remaining major items and the city has a substantial contribution toward the span, he said.

Commissioner Long further pointed out that in arriving at the amount of bonds to be issued, he reviewed that matter with City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson, and that the flood control files reveal there should be approximately $71,000 to be repaid by the federal government to the city. This is reimbursement for property acquisition and certain construction costs originally absorbed by the City and for which the federal government has agreed to reimburse the City.

Represent Funds Paid

Funds to be reimbursed represent $18,584.00 for work paid for by the city on the Market Street bridge; $16,971 for funds advanced by the city on the Valley Street bridge and $35,736.00 for real estate acquisitions by the city on behalf of the government in Ridgeley, and along Wills Creek in Cumberland.

Commissioner Long further pointed out that this bond issue will be sold on September 25, the same date being the date agreed upon for the sale of the $150,000 Memorial Hospital bonds. Long explained that the joint sale totaling $300,000.00 should attract more purchasers than would the sale of the two bond issues at different dates. Also he added it is hoped that the bond market will show favorable improvement for municipal issues by early fall.

Local Girl Capped At Sibley Hospital

Patricia Ann Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Weaver, 606 Montgomery Avenue, was capped at a recent ceremony at the Lucy Webb Hayes School of Nursing of Sibley Memorial Hospital, Washington.

Her parents, and a group of friends and relatives, attended the capping ceremony, held in the chapel of Rust Hall Nurses Home.

Cadillac

Just Graduated...To a Cadillac!

It's graduation time! And this happy gentleman—appropriately enough—has just gone through some important graduation exercises of his own.

It was just a few minutes ago, in fact, that he stood in his dealer's showroom and accepted the keys to his first Cadillac car.

But even though he now holds his final degree, so to speak, in motor car ownership, his education in all the good things of motordom is only beginning.

Take performance, for instance. The car is so smooth and powerful, and so nimble and obedient that it automatically revises a man's standards of automotive performance.

Consider comfort. Rolling along the broadest boulevard or taking the roughest bylane, the car is incredibly smooth and level in ride.

And think about pride and satisfaction. What an extraordinary feeling it is to sit in command of the "car of cars"—and find yourself the subject of admiring glances on every hand.

Have you ever considered how wonderful it would be to "graduate" to Cadillac? If you have, then this is a marvelous time to make the move.

Certainly, it has never been easier to sign your name to the title. We are, happily, in a position to offer you prompt delivery on your favorite mod[illegible]d we know you will be pleased to learn how practical Cadillac ownership has now become.

Why not stop in while the springtime is still with us—and spend an hour at the wheel?

It's a wonderful season and a wonderful car—and a wonderful opportunity to enjoy them both!

Kruson Hall Dedicated

This new college dormitory for women was dedicated this month on the campus of Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y. The building, named in honor of a Frostburg man's mother, has been equipped by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Kruson, of Frostburg. Both are alumni of Alfred University and they attended the special dedicatory event.

Mr. And Mrs. Joseph H. Kruson Equip Building At Alma Mater

FROSTBURG—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Kruson of Frostburg, were guests of honor at Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y., on the occasion of the dedication of Christie Ann Skinner Kruson Hall—equipped by Mr. and Mrs. Kruson as a memorial to Mr. Kruson's mother.

Christie Anne Skinner Kruson was graduated from Alfred University from the Laureate Arts degree in 1875, and later received an honorary doctor's degree from that institution on the occasion of its semi-centennial celebration in 1886.

Erected at a total cost of $450,000, Kruson Hall on the Alfred University campus is a model for modern college dormitories and has been designated to accommodate 80 young colllege women and a head resident.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Kruson are alumni of Alfred University. Mr. Kruson has served on the Board of Trustees of his Alma Mater for 12 years. In addition to his undergraduate work at Alfred University. Mr. Kruson also received his Professional Ceramic Engineering degree from Alfred University in 1943.

Kruson is a long-time member of the Pennsylvania Ceramic Society of which he was formerly president. He is affiliated with the American Ceramic Society and repesents the Refractories Division of that organization as a member of the Advisory Council, a group of outstanding leaders in the entire industry who have been selected to act in aiding the United States Bureau of Standards in bringing about uniformity of standards in the ceramic industry. Mr. Kruson perfected the formula of the widely-used Kruzite High Alumina Brick which a grateful industry named after him.

Formerly president of the Big Savage Refractories Corporation, before that company consolidated under the name of the Mexico Refractories Corporation, Mr. Kruson is now executive vice president of the larger company. In addition he serves as production supervisor of the Eastern Subsidiaries of the Corporation including two fireclay producing companies near Frostburg, and Niles, Ohio, respectively, and a silica refractries producting company located in Van Dyke, Penn.

While on the Alfred University campus, Kruson also participated in the initial sessions of the Refractries Symposium being held in the New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University during the last three weeks of June. Delivering one of the major addresses of the symposium, Kruson spoke on the subject of "Alumina Reinforced Fireclay Refractories" tracing the history and development of the manufacture of high alumina refractory brick made from diaspore clays discovered in Missouri in post-Civil War days to the modern manufacture of the bricks made from bauxite imported from deposits located in the Guiana area in northern South America.

CD Of A Plans Installation

MT. SAVAGE — The regular monthly meeting of Court Theresa Number 557, Catholic Daughters of America, was held recently in St. Patrick's Hall with Mrs. Vivian Mullaney, grand regent, presiding.

The installation of new officers will be held Thursday, June 21, at 8 p. m. in the hall. Plans for the summer carnival for St. Patrick's Catholic Church were discussed. Mrs. Vivian Mullaney was named chairlady of the supper committee with Mrs. Margaret Walsh as assistant.

The court will make a pilgrimage to St. Francis College, Loretta, August 15. Reservations for members must be made by August 1.

Innoculation Program Ends This Week

Dog Owners Must Comply With Law

KEYSER—According to County Prosecutor Vernon E. Rankin, a number of dog owners have failed to have their dogs vaccinated as required by law, and the present innoculation period ends next Monday.

For the convenience of those who failed to comply with this compulsory regulation when the clinics were open in their particular districts, Oscar H. Gustafson and Harrell Smith will be at Potomac State College farm Friday from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. and all dog owners in the county may bring their animals there for innoculations.

In the mean time, the two men announced their schedule for this week. Today, they will be at Wiley Ford school building from 4 to 9 p. m. Tomorrow, they will be at Short Gap School from 8 a. m. until noon and at Patterson Creek School from 5 to 9 p. m. On Friday, they will be at the college farm all day.

Attorney Rankin said the innoculation of all dogs in the county is compulsory. Dogs not innoculated must be destroyed and owners are subject to a fine and jail term if convicted of failure to comply with the regulation. He emphasized his office's intention of strictly enforcing this law in the interest of public safety.

Central High School Day To Feature Homecoming

Event Planned At Class Dinner

LONACONING—At the twentieth anniversary of the class of 1936 of Central High School Saturday evening at the VFW home, a motion was made to plan for a "Central High Day" during the Lonaconing Homecoming Week in June, 1957.

"Central High School Day" will be observed by a reunion of all Central graduates and those who attended Central High School. Plans will be inaugurated for an appropriate memorial to Prof. Arthur F. Smith, who dedicated his life to Central.

Thomas Devlin was toastmaster for the occasion. Invocation was given by Lowell M. Sowers. Roll call was made by Thomas Devlin for the 30 members of the class who were in attendance.

Memoriam was observed for two deceased members of the class, Mrs. Irene Wiland Miller and Mrs. Mary Dean Sprinkle; and faculty deceased, Principal Arthur Francis Smith, Winfield S. Morris, and Mrs. Mary Esther Smith Fields.

Joseph Meyers gave the class statistics and had compiled information on class members' residences and families.

Mrs. Lydia Bradburn Reeves presented awards to Mrs. Margaret Martin Rivard, Wyandotte, Mich., for traveling the longest distance to attend the class reunion; to Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas, Sharan, Pa., for class members being married the longest time; to George Grove, Lonaconing, for having the most children, a family of six; to Thomas Devlin, Lonaconing, for having the youngest child, born February 25, 1956.

A gift was given to John Armstrong for traveling from Pennsylvania for the teacher coming the longest distance; to David Evans, Lonaconing, for his military service record; to Mrs. Elizabeth Cameron Meyers, recent bride; and to Miss Marie Merrbaugh, for programs.

Their class song "Farewell, Dear Central" was sung by all. Miss Sandra Dillon played piano accompaniment. The group looked at a display of class pictures and letters from members unable to attend following the rost beef dinner.

The banquet tables were decorated with red roses and candelbra. Curtiss candy favors were at each place setting with a program with their class colors, green and white, used on the program covers.

Faculty members who gave short addresses were John Armstrong, Joseph K. Haugen, Lowell M. Sowers; and Mrs. Jennie Jones Grahame, secretary at Central School for the Class of 1936.

A letter was read from Miss Daisy Cline, of 19906 Eldora Road, Cleveland 16, Ohio, that she regretted due to her convalescing from pneumonia that she could not be in Lonaconing for their class reunion but extended her wishes for their happy reunion.

Mrs. Eulah Barr Duckworth, of Frostburg, who was instrumental in planning with the committee for the reunion was unable to attend due to an emergency operation of one of her children on Saturday afternoon. Miss Annetta Yates, of Cumberland, music teacher, was unable to attend due to her mother's invalid condition. Mrs. Lois Wood MacMannis sent a letter of best wishes to the class of 1936.

Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Donald, Gilmore; Miss Deborah Birdsall, Mrs. Myrtle Birdsall, Lonaconing; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robertson, Gilmore; Mrs. Gerald Reeves, Frostburg; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, LaVale; Mr. and Mrs. John C. Meyers, Lonaconing; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Devlin, Lonaconing.

Kruson Hall Dedicated

This new college dormitory for women was dedicated this month on the campus of Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y. The building, named in honor of a Frostburg man's mother, has been equipped by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Kruson, of Frostburg. Both are alumni of Alfred University and they attended the special dedicatory event.

Mr. And Mrs. Joseph H. Kruson Equip Building At Alma Mater

FROSTBURG—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Kruson of Frostburg, were guests of honor at Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y., on the occasion of the dedication of Christie Ann Skinner Kruson Hall—equipped by Mr. and Mrs. Kruson as a memorial to Mr. Kruson's mother.

Christie Anne Skinner Kruson was graduated from Alfred University from the Laureate Arts degree in 1875, and later received an honorary doctor's degree from that institution on the occasion of its semi-centennial celebration in 1886.

Erected at a total cost of $450,000, Kruson Hall on the Alfred University campus is a model for modern college dormitories and has been designated to accommodate 80 young colllege women and a head resident.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Kruson are alumni of Alfred University. Mr. Kruson has served on the Board of Trustees of his Alma Mater for 12 years. In addition to his undergraduate work at Alfred University. Mr. Kruson also received his Professional Ceramic Engineering degree from Alfred University in 1943.

Kruson is a long-time member of the Pennsylvania Ceramic Society of which he was formerly president. He is affiliated with the American Ceramic Society and repesents the Refractories Division of that organization as a member of the Advisory Council, a group of outstanding leaders in the entire industry who have been selected to act in aiding the United States Bureau of Standards in bringing about uniformity of standards in the ceramic industry. Mr. Kruson perfected the formula of the widely-used Kruzite High Alumina Brick which a grateful industry named after him.

Formerly president of the Big Savage Refractories Corporation, before that company consolidated under the name of the Mexico Refractories Corporation, Mr. Kruson is now executive vice president of the larger company. In addition he serves as production supervisor of the Eastern Subsidiaries of the Corporation including two fireclay producing companies near Frostburg, and Niles, Ohio, respectively, and a silica refractries producting company located in Van Dyke, Penn.

While on the Alfred University campus, Kruson also participated in the initial sessions of the Refractries Symposium being held in the New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University during the last three weeks of June. Delivering one of the major addresses of the symposium, Kruson spoke on the subject of "Alumina Reinforced Fireclay Refractories" tracing the history and development of the manufacture of high alumina refractory brick made from diaspore clays discovered in Missouri in post-Civil War days to the modern manufacture of the bricks made from bauxite imported from deposits located in the Guiana area in northern South America.

CD Of A Plans Installation

MT. SAVAGE — The regular monthly meeting of Court Theresa Number 557, Catholic Daughters of America, was held recently in St. Patrick's Hall with Mrs. Vivian Mullaney, grand regent, presiding.

The installation of new officers will be held Thursday, June 21, at 8 p. m. in the hall. Plans for the summer carnival for St. Patrick's Catholic Church were discussed. Mrs. Vivian Mullaney was named chairlady of the supper committee with Mrs. Margaret Walsh as assistant.

The court will make a pilgrimage to St. Francis College, Loretta, August 15. Reservations for members must be made by August 1.

The monthly card party for July has been canceled. The card party for August will be held Wednesday, August 1, in St. Patrick's Hall. Mrs. Adelaide Logsdon will be the chairlady of this affair.

Innoculation Program Ends This Week

Dog Owners Must Comply With Law

KEYSER—According to County Prosecutor Vernon E. Rankin, a number of dog owners have failed to have their dogs vaccinated as required by law, and the present innoculation period ends next Monday.

For the convenience of those who failed to comply with this compulsory regulation when the clinics were open in their particular districts, Oscar H. Gustafson and Harrell Smith will be at Potomac State College farm Friday from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. and all dog owners in the county may bring their animals there for innoculations.

In the mean time, the two men announced their schedule for this week. Today, they will be at Wiley Ford school building from 4 to 9 p. m. Tomorrow, they will be at Short Gap School from 8 a. m. until noon and at Patterson Creek School from 5 to 9 p. m. On Friday, they will be at the college farm all day.

Attorney Rankin said the innoculation of all dogs in the county is compulsory. Dogs not innoculated must be destroyed and owners are subject to a fine and jail term if convicted of failure to comply with the regulation. He emphasized his office's intention of strictly enforcing this law in the interest of public safety.

Central High School Day To Feature Homecoming

Event Planned At Class Dinner

LONACONING—At the twentieth anniversary of the class of 1936 of Central High School Saturday evening at the VFW home, a motion was made to plan for a "Central High Day" during the Lonaconing Homecoming Week in June, 1957.

"Central High School Day" will be observed by a reunion of all Central graduates and those who attended Central High School. Plans will be inaugurated for an appropriate memorial to Prof. Arthur F. Smith, who dedicated his life to Central.

Thomas Devlin was toastmaster for the occasion. Invocation was given by Lowell M. Sowers. Roll call was made by Thomas Devlin for the 30 members of the class who were in attendance.

Memoriam was observed for two deceased members of the class, Mrs. Irene Wiland Miller and Mrs. Mary Dean Sprinkle; and faculty deceased, Principal Arthur Francis Smith, Winfield S. Morris, and Mrs. Mary Esther Smith Fields.

Joseph Meyers gave the class statistics and had compiled information on class members' residences and families.

Mrs. Lydia Bradburn Reeves presented awards to Mrs. Margaret Martin Rivard, Wyandotte, Mich., for traveling the longest distance to attend the class reunion; to Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas, Sharan, Pa., for class members being married the longest time; to George Grove, Lonaconing, for having the most children, a family of six; to Thomas Devlin, Lonaconing, for having the youngest child, born February 25, 1956.

A gift was given to John Armstrong for traveling from Pennsylvania for the teacher coming the longest distance; to David Evans, Lonaconing, for his military service record; to Mrs. Elizabeth Cameron Meyers, recent bride; and to Miss Marie Merrbaugh, for programs.

Their class song "Farewell, Dear Central" was sung by all. Miss Sandra Dillon played piano accompaniment. The group looked at a display of class pictures and letters from members unable to attend following the rost beef dinner.

The banquet tables were decorated with red roses and candelbra. Curtiss candy favors were at each place setting with a program with their class colors, green and white, used on the program covers.

Faculty members who gave short addresses were John Armstrong, Joseph K. Haugen, Lowell M. Sowers; and Mrs. Jennie Jones Grahame, secretary at Central School for the Class of 1936.

A letter was read from Miss Daisy Cline, of 19906 Eldora Road, Cleveland 16, Ohio, that she regretted due to her convalescing from pneumonia that she could not be in Lonaconing for their class reunion but extended her wishes for their happy reunion.

Mrs. Eulah Barr Duckworth, of Frostburg, who was instrumental in planning with the committee for the reunion was unable to attend due to an emergency operation of one of her children on Saturday afternoon. Miss Annetta Yates, of Cumberland, music teacher, was unable to attend due to her mother's invalid condition. Mrs. Lois Wood MacMannis sent a letter of best wishes to the class of 1936.

Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Donald, Gilmore; Miss Deborah Birdsall, Mrs. Myrtle Birdsall, Lonaconing; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robertson, Gilmore; Mrs. Gerald Reeves, Frostburg; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, LaVale; Mr. and Mrs. John C. Meyers, Lonaconing; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Devlin, Lonaconing.

Hearing Set For Miner In Dual Slaying

Benton Alexander Faces Murder Charge

A preliminary hearing will be given Benton Wesley Alexander, 42-year-old Kingwood, W. Va., miner, today on charges of shooting and killing his wife, Nora Elma Alexander, 34, and their landlord, Stephen A. Melish, 38, of Crellin.

The double slaying occurred late Saturday night in the Melish home at Turner Douglas, a mining camp near Crellin.

Faces Two Charges

Alexander will be charged on two counts of murder, Prosecutor James T. Dailey Jr., of Preston County, said last night. The preliminary hearing, set for 1 p. m. before Magistrate F. W. Pritt in Kingwood, was requested by Alexander's counsel, Dailey said.

Dailey said investigators will take the murder weapon and the bullets which were removed from the bodies to Charleston today for examination in the state police criminal laboratory there. The prosecutor said Melish was shot in both eyes and the forehead by three bullets from the .22 caliber rifle while Mrs. Alexander was shot once in the head.

Both Alexander and Melish were coal miners, the latter working for the Kray Coal Company in Kingwood and Melish for the Stanley Coal Company in Crellin. The Alexanders had been boarding with Melish for about a month, authorities said.

Services Planned

Trooper J. G. Coleman of the West Virginia State Police and Sheriff W. R. Schooley of Preston County, are assisting in the probe of the dual slaying.

Funeral services for Mrs. Alexander are scheduled at the Bolden Funeral Home in Oakland. Rev. Ralph Jack will officiate and burial will be in the Deer Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Alexander was born at Freeport, W. Va., a daughter of Mrs. Tina (Sisler) Friend and the late Allen Butler.

Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Patricia Ann Dillsworth and Miss Arlene Alexander, both at home; three sons, James Robert Alexander, Benton Edward Alexander, and Farris A. Alexander, also at home; two sisters, Mrs. Opal Watring, Terra Alta, and Mrs. Mary Sisler, McCoole; two brothers, Orval and Merrill Butler, both of South Bend, Ind.

Melish was born at Johnstown, a son of Andrew and Dorothy (Yagersky) Melish. He is survived by a brother, Johil Melish, Creighton, Pa.; three sisters, Mrs. Anna Natalia, Butler, Pa.; Mrs. Helen Brisko, Connellsville, Pa.; and Mrs. Pauline Contensso, Detroit, Mich.

His body was taken to the Davidson Funeral Home in Morgantown. Funeral services are not complete.

Pine Ave. Plans Week's Program

Pine Avenue Playground will continue its registration program for youngsters the remainder of this week, beginning at 10 a. m. each day, Jean Etta Beckward, director, announces.

Also included in the schedule at the playlot will be the organization of ball teams, clubs and scheduling of swimming lessons this week.

Tomorrow there will be a newspaper staff meeting at the playground and picnic day will be held in the afternoon from 11:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Wieners and refreshments will be provided.

Thursday a doll show is planned as well as movies at dusk. The doll show will begin at 7:30 p. m. and prizes will be awarded for largest, smallest, largest collection, prettiest and most unusual dolls.

Friday at 2 p. m. a crafts class is scheduled.

would file suit in federal court challenging the constitutionality of Miami's bus segregation laws.

A resolution condemning bus boycotts as "untenable" was adopted yesterday at a mass meeting of about 400 Negroes, including NAACP leaders.

At Montgomery, Ala., where a bus boycott has been in progress more than six months, opposing lawyers had until Tusday to tell a three-judge federal panel what they think the neft step should be in a decision outlawing bus segregation in the city.

Segregation Bill Passed In Louisiana

[By The Associated Press]

Southern prosegregationists received some support Monday from new legislative action in Louisiana while Miami, Fla., Negroes rejected the idea of a bus boycott similar to those in progress at Montgomery, Ala., and Tallahassee, Fla.

On the other hand, two Negro youths enrolled as undergraduates at the summer session of North Carolina State College and the United Presbyterian Church in North America adopted a resolution favoring racial integration in the church.

At Baton Rouge, the Louisiana Senate approved 37-0 a bill designed to help New Orleans evade a federal court order to integrate its public school system. The bill, which now goes to the House, in effect would require integration suits to be filed against the state, with a legislative act needed to file the suit.

At the same time, the Senate Education Committee unanimously approved four segregation measures which would permit firing of Louisiana teachers, school bus drivers and other school employes for advocating integrations. The measures previously passed the House.

In Richmond, the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals threw out a decision of Hanover Circuit Judge Leon M. Bazile that any expenditure from a Hanover County bond issue for nonsegregated schools would be illegal because the referendum authorizing the bonds was held prior to the U.S. Supreme Court ruling outlawing segregation in public schools.

Bond attorneys had been divided in their interpretation of Bazile's decision. But the general effect was that bond issues were delayed and in many instances county school boards in Virginia held up planning programs pending a ruling on the Hanover County school board's appeal.

At Miami, Fla., local leaders of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, turned down suggestions for a bus boycott and said that instead they

FORD sets 500-mile record at Indianapolis Speedway

Again proves nobody outperforms Ford

... dramatic demonstration of the kind of performance and roadability that makes all your driving more fun in a Ford!

Ford's record was timed and certified by the United States Auto Club

A Ford V-8 hurtled across the brick and asphalt surface of tough and testing Indianapolis Speedway . . . whirling through the tight turns and flashing over the straight stretches . . . to set a mark that no stock car ever reached before!

Previous to Ford's record run, no other stock car had gone even one lap at Indianapolis at 100 m.p.h., but one of Ford's laps was timed at the electrifying speed of 113.7 m.p.h.! And Ford averaged 107.126 m.p.h. for the full five hundred miles . . . close to the average set by the extremely costly, specially-built racer which won the Memorial Day "500"!

Ford fully realizes that the welter of claims and counter claims about "racing victories" (many of them completely contradictory) must be confusing and disillusioning to the public. Ford ran this race against time, over the true "Classic" distance and at the most famous track in America, in order to dispel this cloud of doubt and disbelief and prove that no one outperforms Ford!

Peter de Paolo, leader of the team of drivers that piloted the winning Ford, states flatly: "No other stock car could have equalled this performance!" And Pete de Paolo should know, for he was the first driver to win the "500" Classic with a better than 100 m.p.h. average. And now he comes back with a group of drivers to establish a stock car record with the great '56 Ford!

Yet, this was no mere race against the stop watch. Ford's alert responsiveness and sheer roadability proved more than a match for the treacherous turns . . . taking them smoothly and giving the great Ford V-8 a chance to use its blazing acceleration in the straightaways.

Ford wrote this new mark large and bold in the record books. And the whole Ford did the trick. From the hood-full of throbbing horsepower to the road-hugging rear end, Ford demonstrated that it has what it takes to make your driving more enjoyable. Convince yourself that driving a Ford can be real fun. Test drive a '56 Ford. There's a set of keys waiting for you, so come in and see us soon.

'Cult Of Personality' Gets Another Victim

Many observers have been wondering when the Soviet "new look" would take note of another Stalin pet, Trofin D. Lysenko. It was Lysenko who applied Marx to genetics and came up with his own version of the old Lamarckian doctrine that acquired characteristics can be inherited.

This delighted Stalin because he took it to mean, in effect, that communism itself can be transmitted by heredity to create "the New Soviet Man." Lysenko became the cock of the Communist scientific walk, his theories officially endorsed by the central Communist committee of the Communist party.

When the new look first began to be visible, it was reported that Lysenko had been quietly shifted to a position of little authority and that his doctrines were no longer being taken as gospel. But only now has the inevitable official denunciation appeared.

Lysenko, of course, is charged with falling for the "cult of personality." It is pointed out now in Russia, as it was pointed out years ago in bourgeois capitalist countries, that Lysenko's experimental work was so sloppy that no other scientist has been able, under controlled conditions, to verify his results.

But Lysenko is not asked to shoulder all the blame. Other scientific workers in Russia (unnamed) are castigated for not having had the courage to refute Lysenko's frauds.

This is the supreme irony. There were scientists in Russia with too much integrity to accept Lysenkoism, and some of them did speak out. Where are they now? The ones who had more caution than courage are still alive, and their whereabouts is known. Even if they had spoken out, they would have accomplished nothing but their own ruin.

One might as well ask why Bulganin and Khrushchev said nothing about the evils of the "cult of personality" until Stalin had been three years in his tomb.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Li'l Abner Diplomacy

Everybody comes up with ideas and there can be no objection to that if the ideas are of value. Thomas J. Watson of the International Business Machines Corporation put signs all over his factories and offices containing the single word, "Think." His employes were supposed to think, but what about? Were they to think about business machines, world problems, or the evil of taxes?

It would be truly wonderful if everybody had a mind like Aristotle's and could think out all sorts of problems, but even Aristotle got twisted when he tried to think in the biologic sciences about which he was more mythological than scientific. On the other hand, Einstein thought brilliantly in the natural sciences, but was a dud in the realm of politics and the American Constitution.

So when someone comes up with the idea of a people-to-people diplomacy and brings everything down to the simplicities of Li'l Abner Yokum of Dogpatch, U. S. A., the prospect of confusion becomes increasingly great because obviously thought can only be generated by knowledge and most of us know very little about the facts of life which make others seem to be so queer.

Why, for instance, are so many Italians Communists? And that bothers many Americans, some of whom thought that the best way to solve the problem would be to load Italy down with financial and military aid; then all Italians would be grateful to the United States and they would forthwith become capitalists. In all this "thinking" about Italy, such thinkers forget that were socialism objectionable to Italians there could never have been a Mussolini, who was a Socialist, the associate for many years of Angelica Balabanov. They have called Mussolini a Fascist so long that they have forgotten that Fascism like Nazism was an offshoot of Hegelianism plus Marxism, and that the Italian people welcomed Mussolini's brand and lived under it for 21 years until Italy was defeated in war by American troops and then Mussolini was murdered. It is probably correct to say that Mussolini was not murdered for having wrong ideas but for being defeated. The worst that can happen to a politician is to be defeated.

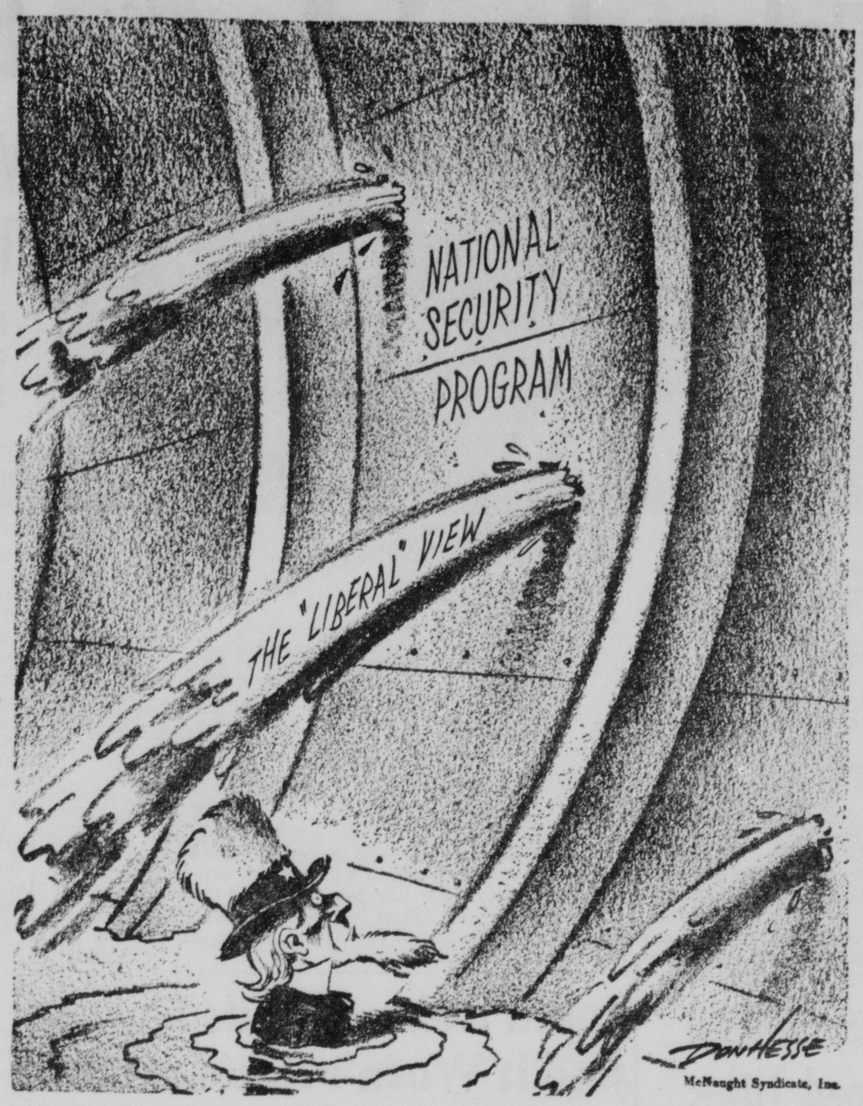

So, the thinkers worry about France and wonder why the French people seem not to give a tinker's damn about what happens to their country for which the Americans fought and bled in two wars. The idea again was to pour hundreds of millions of dollars into France, to make France the capital of NATO, and to make up in American aid what the French people default in taxes. And then the French would all be pro-American. We now grow very angry with the French because they take our money but go awry in their own way just the same. They have no sense of gratitude.

What we seem to forget is that France has more or less been at war since 1789; that Napoleon built an empire on the bodies of dead Frenchmen; that Germany invaded France and occupied all or large parts of France in 1870, 1914 and 1940; that France is now a battlefield between Soviet Russia and the United States and must, by any logic, be destroyed—physically destroyed—in the next war; and that the French do not care at all for what they see ahead of them. Also, the French had built a nest-egg for themselves in Morocco and Algeria and that just as the French were let down in French Indochina by their allies and associates, so they are now being let down by Great Britain and the United States in their North African problems because "colonialism" has become unpopular in the democratic countries.

So the average Frenchman says that he hates war and taxes and all he wants is to be left to his own devices and that he can eat bread and cheese and drink wine under one faker as under another, meaning his own politicians. No Li'l Abner diplomacy, no pen friendships, no people-to-people propaganda will make very much difference as long as the prospects for the future is war and taxes. The Frenchman says that he will be dead and buried before the politicians stop stealing and before peace comes to mankind. Therefore he wants to live while he is alive. It is an idea.

Leaks In The Ship's Hold

War Danger Now Lies In Conventional Weapons

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The biggest news story in the world today — and the hardest to write—relates to the grave danger of defeat which faces the United States and its allies at the hands of the Soviet gangsters who control the largest single military apparatus of all times.

It isn't solely a question of atomic bombs or intercontinental bombers or missiles. Even if the United States Congress appropriated all the money the Air Force is asking for, it wouldn't alter the situation. For the next war may never see atomic weapons of any kind used because of the danger of mutual destruction. Hence, the potential value of conventional armies with conventional navies and air forces and conventional bombs becomes more important than ever before, coincident with some form of counterstrategy to meet the infiltration of smaller countries by the enemy.

Conventional War The Danger

What stands out as the central fact about the whole problem is the virtual certainty that neither side will use atomic bombs or weapons because public opinion in all countries will prohibit their use. Nuclear war will not be tolerated. The threat of conventional war, therefore, will take its place. In this the United States and its allies are woefully weak. They have not awakened to the need of this deterrent, too.

The truth is a paradox—General LeMay is right in wanting all the air power he can get as a deterrent and Generals Ridgeway and Taylor are right also in wanting all the conventional arms they can get as a deterrent. The three armed services are right on the whole in emphasizing the need for more of each of their respective forces. Their disputes reflect an honest groping for some solution to the most difficult problem America has ever faced.

The real factor of fear is derived from the prospect that, even though no international agreement exists or may exist, the aggressors will, of their own volition, refrain from the use of any nuclear weapons. Then what? Would the Western aAllies ever initiate the use of such weapons in defense and thus invite retaliation. Military men are confident that the answer will be "yes." Politi cal governments — civilians who control them—will have the decision and the consensus of many civilian officials here and in Europe is that the answer will be "no."

Race Suicide Feared

The idea of "race suicide" and of "wiping the human race from the face of the earth" has been so widely advertised everywhere that what began as a Communist propaganda line a few years ago—when the Soviet government was in an inferior and unprepared status with respect to the manufacture of superbombs—now has been endorsed inside the United States by high officials, scientists, spokesmen for the church and many sections of the press. It seems clear that no civilian government in the free world will ever authorize the initial use of atomic weapons.

All this means is that, as the chances of a nuclear war grow remote, due to the stalemate in superbomb strength and the state of public opinion on both sides of the iron curtain, the military control of the world will go to these governments which have the advantage in conventional arms.

At a result, Moscow and Peking will dominate both Europe and Asia. Western Europe, which has up to now considered itself protected by the North Atlantic Treaty organization, will discover in due time the fallacy of the "new look" in military organization. For the dimunition of ground forces and the arming of remaining divisions with nuclear weapons merely emphasizes the danger that Moscow conquer Western Europe without firing a single shot, because nuclear weapons would never be used.

The Soviets have offered to reduce their land armies by 1,200,000 men. This, however, is a small proportion of their total. It is a clever maneuver designed to get the West to deplete its far smaller armfies. The Communists coincidentally have begun their "parliamentary offensive," which means infiltration in the parliaments of Western Europe and a stepped-up activity inside the United States, where already three Supreme Court justices say that Communist activity is just "another political party."

Thus, on the political front as well as on the military front, the Communists are threatening. The whole answer doesn't lie merely in spending more money for air power or in spending more money than ever before to mobilize ground armies — even though both are necessary. It lies basically in the principle reiterated a few days ago by Secretary of State Dulles, when he said:

Shoulder Pain Could Stem From "Million" Causes

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Nature did a poor job in making our neck and shoulders. She crowded too many blood vessels, nerves, muscles, bursas, and bones into a space that should be twice as large. This part of our anatomy is so complicated that when shoulder pain occurs there are a "million" possible causes.

Years ago I was asked to see a chauffeur who had been sent to bed with a "bad heart." Pain was greatest in the left shoulder and the old ticker was suspected because distress appeared on exertion. I entered the picture because there were doubts about the diagnosis. I asked him what kind of exertion led to pain and he said, "When I wash the car."

Extending the arms to reach the top or the hood brought on discomfort. Subsequent studies showed he had a thickened muscle in the neck that crowded important nerves and blood vessels when he lifted his arms over the head. He was cured by a simple operation.

Several months later I saw a union official who complained of vague aching in the left shoulder. It was not incapacitating but was constant and sufficient to interfere with sleep. At first, laboratory and X-ray tests were normal. Since the cause was obscure, we had nothing to offer except pain-killing drugs to relieve distress temporarily.

Every day we searched for a new clew to the diagnosis and it finally showed up. The upper lid of the left eye began to droop and the pupil became constricted. Some lesion had grown large enough to press upon a certain nerve in the neck that makes connections with the involved eye.

The man was developing Pancoast's tumor, one of the most elusive of malignancies. It originates at the very top of the lungs where it is hidden from view by X-ray and escapes detection until it presses upon neighboring structures.

Shoulder pain also follows injuries to the vertebrae in the neck. In such instances, the distorted vertebrae press upon the nerves of the brachial plexus. Shoulder pain also stems from coronary thrombosis and from irritation of the diaphragm.

Arthritis of the shoulder joint and bursitis are the most common local causes. They are easier to diagnose because the affected part is tender to the touch and pain is brought on by movements of the arm. The new hormones, hydrocortisone and prednisolone, have been most helpful in sore shoulder due to these latter causes X-ray and physical therapy are useful also.

John Foster Dulles Tells President He Wants To Resign Next Winter

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — John Foster Dulles has told Ike that come next winter he wants to retire as secretary of state. He gave this word before the President's illness, says he's tired, very tired, that four years is enough... White House prediction is that Dulles will get the next Supreme Court vacancy. However, this poses a problem. Attorney General Brownell also eyes the Supreme Court (though he'd probably have tough confirmation problems in the Senate), as does ex-Gov. Tom Dewey. But all are New Yorkers and can't be piled into the Supreme Court even if the vacancies occurred, because there's the already one New Yorker there, John Harlan, incidentally a Dewey recommendation, and doing an A-1 job....Inside reason Milton Eisenhower resigned from Penn State was not to take a government job but to campaign for his brother. The decision was made before the second illness, when Milton figured brother Ike would need someone to make speeches for him. He didn't want to do this on the university's time or get the university mixed up in politics....More and more Republicans are eying Milton in case brother Ike now says no. Col. Bob Guggenheim, ex-ambassador to Portugal, started the idea by calling up Sherman Adams, Chairman Len Hall, and others....The Democrats, who trained Milton for 10 long years in government, have to admit he's an extremely able gent. But Len Hall grumbles that he's not really a Republican.

The Draft And Dewey—Air Force officers are urging that the draft be abolished. They argue inside the Pentagon that the three services can now recruit all the men they really need....Ex-Gov. Tom Dewey is building up a terrific law practice—now that he's the closest private attorney to Eisenhower. Latest clients are—Pan American Airways and Eastern Airlines.... Though Mrs. Eisenhower is confident her husband will recover from his present illness, she is more opposed than ever to his running again. She realizes, however, this is a decision he will have to make himself....The British embassy has cabled London that it's now uncertain Eisenhower will run for a second term. Until Ike speaks out himself, the embassy advised the British government not to make any long-range plans which depend on Eisenhower.... First important job being tackled by Fred Seaton, new secretary of the interior, is the problem of converting salt water to fresh water. This was started under Oscar Chapman, but allowed to languish under Doug McKay. Seaton believes that if scientists can develop a cheap method of taking the salt out of salt water, huge areas of the world, including New Mexico, Nevada, and the Sahara Desert, can be made to blossom like a Garden of Eden.

Ike's Dinner Parties—Vice President Nixon may not know it, but he's converting the children of stanch Democrats over to the GOP. The vice president may win enemies in the political arena, but at home he's a model, loving father and husband. He's so nice to the neighborhood kids when they come in to play with his children that they go home telling their Democratic parents that they've become Republicans....Ike should have stuck by his initial rule not to go to big dinners. Maybe he wouldn't have got sick. The trouble seems to be that like some housewives he doesn't like big dinners at his own home—the White House. He laid down this rule shortly before Italian President Gronchi arrived in the U.S.A. in February and refused to give a dinner for him even though he was the first Italian president in history ever to visit the U.S.A.; and even though it's routine for the President to give a state dinner for every head of state. "Health" was the official excuse, though there was some diplomatic eyebrow-lifting when Eisenhower stayed up playing poker until 12:30 three days before President Gronchi arrived, held a stag White House dinner just after he left, and attended John Foster Dulles' birthday dinner one day before he arrived....The rule against White House dinners was kept in force for other visitors, including the president of Indonesia, but the health excuse wore through when Ike went to the huge Gridiron dinner and the equally big White House Photographers dinner. It was after the latter that he was stricken....Those who watched him say six little appetizers at a pre-dinner cocktail party may have touched off his subsequent tragic seizure. Ike did not take a drink. But he did eye a tray of appetizers and snitched one almost every time the waiter passed by. What he liked was a miniature meatball, very juicy, but also on the greasy side. He had six....Knowing he was on a diet, Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks viewed this with alarm, sidled over to Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, suggested he police his presidential patient. Either Snyder wasn't worried or too many small meatballs had already downed the Presidential hatch.

Under The Dome—Arthur Miller, playwright and friend of Marilyn Monroe, is the author of "The Crucible," story of Salem witch-burning. This week the House Un-American Activities Committee will burn Miller in the congressional witness chair—thanks to the witch-burning tactics of new Committee Counsel Dick Arens. He's determined to get more headlines for the Un-American Activities Committee and knows that big Hollywood names linked to beautiful actresses is one way to do it.

They're Sure He'll Run

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower will announce that he is still a candidate even before he leaves Walter Reed Hospital, if the confident expectations of the Republican high command are fulfilled.

The reasons for making such an announcement immediately will certainly be urged on the President as soon as he is well enough to discuss the matter, if they have not been already. These reasons are obvious enough.

Another long period of speculation about the President's intentions, like that which followed the President's heart attack last autumn, would have the most damaging political effects. It would generate anew the old sub-surface divisions in the Republican party. Worst of all, weeks of such will-he-won't-he speculation would focus all attention on the so-called "health issue," which is the last thing the Republican leadership wants.

Announcement Expected Soon

His top advisers express absolute confidence that the President will agree that the matter must be disposed of immediately, for national and international as well as political reasons. They are sure that, in the next few days, he will either issue a statement announcing his continued candidacy or authorize Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty or another high administration official to do so in his name.

In fact, the confidence that the President will soon authorize a "possitive" statement is so absolute that it suggests that the President may already have indicated his intention not to withdraw. At any rate, there is not the slightest visible tendency even to consider altering the present Republican campaign plans. And these plans are geared in every possible way to an Eisenhower candidacy.

Word has already gone out, for example, that the San Francisco convention will be limited to three days, instead of the traditional four or five. The whole convention has been planned in advance in remarkable detail, and the proceedings are all tailored to lead up to the dramatic climax of the President's acceptance speech.

Rough Drafting Started

The whole campaign thereafter will be built wholly around the President. The highlights of the campaign are to be a small number of major Presidential radio and television broadcasts, probably six. The subject matter of these six broadcasts is already being carefully canvassed, and some initial rough drafting has actually started.

Each of the broadcasts is planned to last a half an hour, but the President himself is expected to take not more than 20 or 22 minutes of this time. The rest will be devoted to giving the broadcasts variety and pace, with interchanges between the President and administration officials, visual demonstrations of facts and figures, and so on.

This is in line with the accepted theory that televiewers will not listen to long, formal set speeches, even by the President of the United States. Negotiations are also under way for the best television hours for the presidential broadcasts. One matter remains unsettled — the point of origin of the broadcasts.

Even before his recent illness, a non-whistlestop, television campaign had been planned for the President but in the last few weeks before his sudden operation, the President had begun acting like a warhorse scenting battle, and the campaign plans were revised to allow for a number of airborne forays to the hustings. Whether this will happen again in the new circumstances remains to be seen. But the planners hope that the President will fly to key points, especially Chicago and New York, for at least two or three of his broadcasts.

Serenely Confident

Other aspects of the campaign have also been pre-planned in surprising detail. The vice president's campaign which will be managed for the first time by the national committee, is being carefully blocked out already. And a series of five minute "spots," introduced by the President, and presenting in serial form the achievements of the Eisenhower administration, is another likely feature of what will be a new kind of presidential campaign.

Obviously, the heart and soul of this new kind of campaign is the candidacy of Dwight D. Eisenhower. If the President were to withdraw, the whole campaign would simply blow up in the face of the Republican leadership. But those who should know—those who were right about the President's intentions last time—are serenely confident that nothing of the sort will happen. They are sure, on the contrary, not only that the President is still a candidate, but that he will publicly confirm his candidacy within the next few days.

'Cult Of Personality' Gets Another Victim

Many observers have been wondering when the Soviet "new look" would take note of another Stalin pet, Trofin D. Lysenko. It was Lysenko who applied Marx to genetics and came up with his own version of the old Lamarckian doctrine that acquired characteristics can be inherited.

This delighted Stalin because he took it to mean, in effect, that communism itself can be transmitted by heredity to create "the New Soviet Man." Lysenko became the cock of the Communist scientific walk, his theories officially endorsed by the central Communist committee of the Communist party.

When the new look first began to be visible, it was reported that Lysenko had been quietly shifted to a position of little authority and that his doctrines were no longer being taken as gospel. But only now has the inevitable official denunciation appeared.

Lysenko, of course, is charged with falling for the "cult of personality." It is pointed out now in Russia, as it was pointed out years ago in bourgeois capitalist countries, that Lysenko's experimental work was so sloppy that no other scientist has been able, under controlled conditions, to verify his results.

But Lysenko is not asked to shoulder all the blame. Other scientific workers in Russia (unnamed) are castigated for not having had the courage to refute Lysenko's frauds.

This is the supreme irony. There were scientists in Russia with too much integrity to accept Lysenkoism, and some of them did speak out. Where are they now? The ones who had more caution than courage are still alive, and their whereabouts is known. Even if they had spoken out, they would have accomplished nothing but their own ruin.

One might as well ask why Bulganin and Khrushchev said nothing about the evils of the "cult of personality" until Stalin had been three years in his tomb.

These Days

Li'l Abner Diplomacy

Everybody comes up with ideas and there can be no objection to that if the ideas are of value. Thomas J. Watson of the International Business Machines Corporation put signs all over his factories and offices containing the single word, "Think." His employes were supposed to think, but what about? Were they to think about business machines, world problems, or the evil of taxes?

It would be truly wonderful if everybody had a mind like Aristotle's and could think out all sorts of problems, but even Aristotle got twisted when he tried to think in the biologic sciences about which he was more mythological than scientific. On the other hand, Einstein thought brilliantly in the natural sciences, but was a dud in the realm of politics and the American Constitution.

So when someone comes up with the idea of a people-to-people diplomacy and brings everything down to the simplicities of Li'l Abner Yokum of Dogpatch, U. S. A., the prospect of confusion becomes increasingly great because obviously thought can only be generated by knowledge and most of us know very little about the facts of life which make others seem to be so queer.

Why, for instance, are so many Italians Communists? And that bothers many Americans, some of whom thought that the best way to solve the problem would be to load Italy down with financial and military aid; then all Italians would be grateful to the United States and they would forthwith become capitalists. In all this "thinking" about Italy, such thinkers forget that were socialism objectionable to Italians there could never have been a Mussolini, who was a Socialist, the associate for many years of Angelica Balabanov. They have called Mussolini a Fascist so long that they have forgotten that Fascism like Nazism was an offshoot of Hegelianism plus Marxism, and that the Italian people welcomed Mussolini's brand and lived under it for 21 years until Italy was defeated in war by American troops and then Mussolini was murdered. It is probably correct to say that Mussolini was not murdered for having wrong ideas but for being defeated. The worst that can happen to a politician is to be defeated.

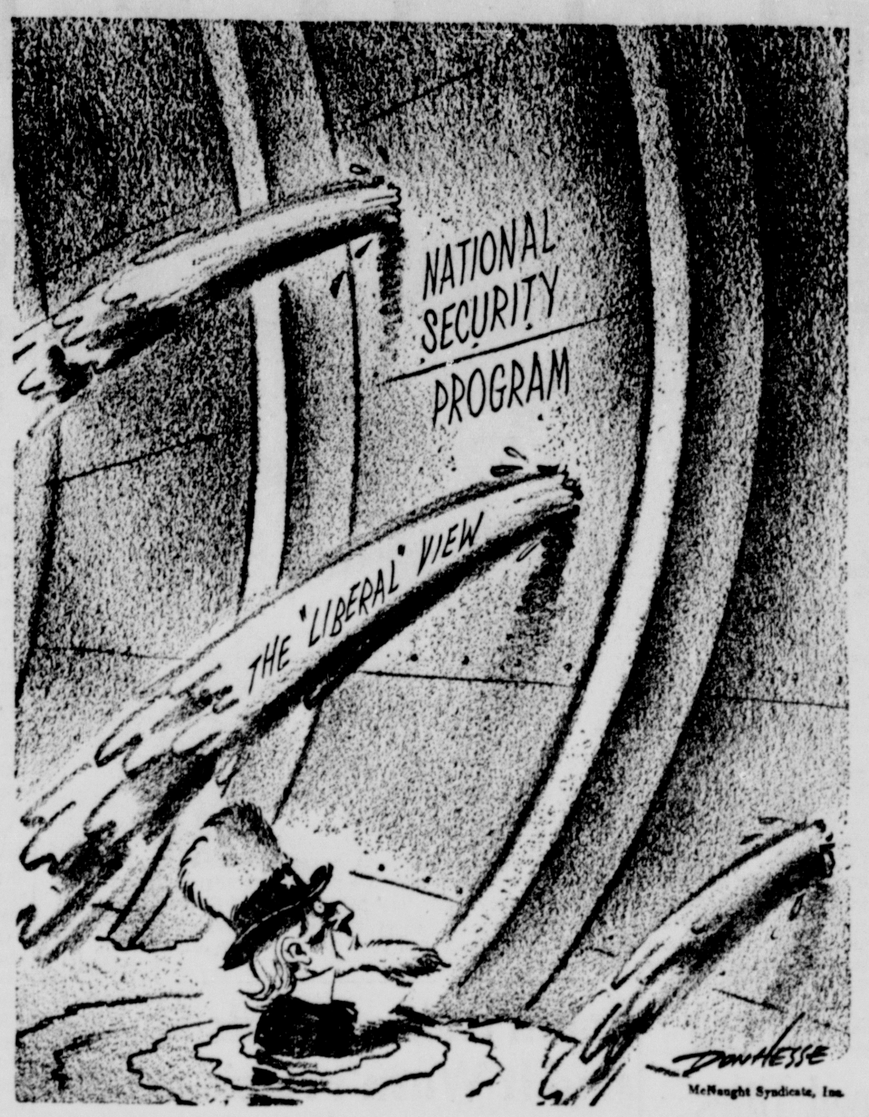

So, the thinkers worry about France and wonder why the French people seem not to give a tinker's damn about what happens to their country for which the Americans fought and bled in two wars. The idea again was to pour hundreds of millions of dollars into France, to make France the capital of NATO, and to make up in American aid what the French people default in taxes. And then the French would all be pro-American. We now grow very angry with the French because they take our money but go awry in their own way just the same. They have no sense of gratitude.

What we seem to forget is that France has more or less been at war since 1789; that Napoleon built an empire on the bodies of dead Frenchmen; that Germany invaded France and occupied all or large parts of France in 1870, 1914 and 1940; that France is now a battlefield between Soviet Russia and the United States and must, by any logic, be destroyed—physically destroyed—in the next war; and that the French do not care at all for what they see ahead of them. Also, the French had built a nest-egg for themselves in Morocco and Algeria and that just as the French were let down in French Indochina by their allies and associates, so they are now being let down by Great Britain and the United States in their North African problems because "colonialism" has become unpopular in the democratic countries.

So the average Frenchman says that he hates war and taxes and all he wants is to be left to his own devices and that he can eat bread and cheese and drink wine under one faker as under another, meaning his own politicians. No Li'l Abner diplomacy, no pen friendships, no people-to-people propaganda will make very much difference as long as the prospects for the future is war and taxes. The Frenchman says that he will be dead and buried before the politicians stop stealing and before peace comes to mankind. Therefore he wants to live while he is alive. It is an idea.

Leaks In The Ship's Hold

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The biggest news story in the world today — and the hardest to write—relates to the grave danger of defeat which faces the United States and its allies at the hands of the Soviet gangsters who control the largest single military apparatus of all times.

It isn't solely a question of atomic bombs or intercontinental bombers or missiles. Even if the United States Congress appropriated all the money the Air Force is asking for, it wouldn't alter the situation. For the next war may never see atomic weapons of any kind used because of the danger of mutual destruction. Hence, the potential value of conventional armies with conventional navies and air forces and conventional bombs becomes more important than ever before, coincident with some form of counterstrategy to meet the infiltration of smaller countries by the enemy.

Conventional War The Danger

What stands out as the central fact about the whole problem is the virtual certainty that neither side will use atomic bombs or weapons because public opinion in all countries will prohibit their use. Nuclear war will not be tolerated. The threat of conventional war, therefore, will take its place. In this the United States and its allies are woefully weak. They have not awakened to the need of this deterrent, too.

The truth is a paradox—General LeMay is right in wanting all the air power he can get as a deterrent and Generals Ridgeway and Taylor are right also in wanting all the conventional arms they can get as a deterrent. The three armed services are right on the whole in emphasizing the need for more of each of their respective forces. Their disputes reflect an honest groping for some solution to the most difficult problem America has ever faced.

The real factor of fear is derived from the prospect that, even though no international agreement exists or may exist, the aggressors will, of their own volition, refrain from the use of any nuclear weapons. Then what? Would the Western aAllies ever initiate the use of such weapons in defense and thus invite retaliation. Military men are confident that the answer will be "yes." Politi cal governments — civilians who control them—will have the decision and the consensus of many civilian officials here and in Europe is that the answer will be "no."

Race Suicide Feared

The idea of "race suicide" and of "wiping the human race from the face of the earth" has been so widely advertised everywhere that what began as a Communist propaganda line a few years ago—when the Soviet government was in an inferior and unprepared status with respect to the manufacture of superbombs—now has been endorsed inside the United States by high officials, scientists, spokesmen for the church and many sections of the press. It seems clear that no civilian government in the free world will ever authorize the initial use of atomic weapons.

All this means is that, as the chances of a nuclear war grow remote, due to the stalemate in superbomb strength and the state of public opinion on both sides of the iron curtain, the military control of the world will go to these governments which have the advantage in conventional arms.

At a result, Moscow and Peking will dominate both Europe and Asia. Western Europe, which has up to now considered itself protected by the North Atlantic Treaty organization, will discover in due time the fallacy of the "new look" in military organization. For the dimunition of ground forces and the arming of remaining divisions with nuclear weapons merely emphasizes the danger that Moscow conquer Western Europe without firing a single shot, because nuclear weapons would never be used.

The Soviets have offered to reduce their land armies by 1,200,000 men. This, however, is a small proportion of their total. It is a clever maneuver designed to get the West to deplete its far smaller armies. The Communists coincidentally have begun their "parliamentary offensive," which means infiltration in the parliaments of Western Europe and a stepped-up activity inside the United States, where already three Supreme Court justices say that Communist activity is just "another political party."

Thus, on the political front as well as on the military front, the Communists are threatening. The whole answer doesn't lie merely in spending more money for air power or in spending more money than ever before to mobilize ground armies — even though both are necessary. It lies basically in the principle reiterated a few days ago by Secretary of State Dulles, when he said:

He gave this word before the President's illness, says he's tired, very tired, that four years is enough... White House prediction is that Dulles will get the next Supreme Court vacancy. However, this poses a problem. Attorney General Brownell also eyes the Supreme Court (though he'd probably have tough confirmation problems in the Senate), as does ex-Gov. Tom Dewey. But all are New Yorkers and can't be piled into the Supreme Court even if the vacancies occurred, because there's the already one New Yorker there, John Harlan, incidentally a Dewey recommendation, and doing an A-1 job....Inside reason Milton Eisenhower resigned from Penn State was not to take a government job but to campaign for his brother. The decision was made before the second illness, when Milton figured brother Ike would need someone to make speeches for him. He didn't want to do this on the university's time or get the university mixed up in politics....More and more Republicans are eying Milton in case brother Ike now says no. Col. Bob Guggenheim, ex-ambassador to Portugal, started the idea by calling up Sherman Adams, Chairman Len Hall, and others....The Democrats, who trained Milton for 10 long years in government, have to admit he's an extremely able gent. But Len Hall grumbles that he's not really a Republican.

The Draft And Dewey—Air Force officers are urging that the draft be abolished. They argue inside the Pentagon that the three services can now recruit all the men they really need....Ex-Gov. Tom Dewey is building up a terrific law practice—now that he's the closest private attorney to Eisenhower. Latest clients are—Pan American Airways and Eastern Airlines.... Though Mrs. Eisenhower is confident her husband will recover from his present illness, she is more opposed than ever to his running again. She realizes, however, this is a decision he will have to make himself....The British embassy has cabled London that it's now uncertain Eisenhower will run for a second term. Until Ike speaks out himself, the embassy advised the British government not to make any long-range plans which depend on Eisenhower.... First important job being tackled by Fred Seaton, new secretary of the interior, is the problem of converting salt water to fresh water. This was started under Oscar Chapman, but allowed to languish under Doug McKay. Seaton believes that if scientists can develop a cheap method of taking the salt out of salt water, huge areas of the world, including New Mexico, Nevada, and the Sahara Desert, can be made to blossom like a Garden of Eden.

Ike's Dinner Parties—Vice President Nixon may not know it, but he's converting the children of stanch Democrats over to the GOP. The vice president may win enemies in the political arena, but at home he's a model, loving father and husband. He's so nice to the neighborhood kids when they come in to play with his children that they go home telling their Democratic parents that they've become Republicans....Ike should have stuck by his initial rule not to go to big dinners. Maybe he wouldn't have got sick. The trouble seems to be that like some housewives he doesn't like big dinners at his own home—the White House. He laid down this rule shortly before Italian President Gronchi arrived in the U.S.A. in February and refused to give a dinner for him even though he was the first Italian president in history ever to visit the U.S.A.; and even though it's routine for the President to give a state dinner for every head of state. "Health" was the official excuse, though there was some diplomatic eyebrow-lifting when Eisenhower stayed up playing poker until 12:30 three days before President Gronchi arrived, held a stag White House dinner just after he left, and attended John Foster Dulles' birthday dinner one day before he arrived....The rule against White House dinners was kept in force for other visitors, including the president of Indonesia, but the health excuse wore through when Ike went to the huge Gridiron dinner and the equally big White House Photographers dinner. It was after the latter that he was stricken....Those who watched him say six little appetizers at a pre-dinner cocktail party may have touched off his subsequent tragic seizure. Ike did not take a drink. But he did eye a tray of appetizers and snitched one almost every time the waiter passed by. What he liked was a miniature meatball, very juicy, but also on the greasy side. He had six....Knowing he was on a diet, Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks viewed this with alarm, sidled over to Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, suggested he police his presidential patient. Either Snyder wasn't worried or too many small meatballs had already downed the Presidential hatch.

Under The Dome—Arthur Miller, playwright and friend of Marilyn Monroe, is the author of "The Crucible," story of Salem witch-burning. This week the House Un-American Activities Committee will burn Miller in the congressional witness chair—thanks to the witch-burning tactics of new Committee Counsel Dick Arens. He's determined to get more headlines for the Un-American Activities Committee and knows that big Hollywood names linked to beautiful actresses is one way to do it.

They're Sure He'll Run

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower will announce that he is still a candidate even before he leaves Walter Reed Hospital, if the confident expectations of the Republican high command are fulfilled.

The reasons for making such an announcement immediately will certainly be urged on the President as soon as he is well enough to discuss the matter, if they have not been already. These reasons are obvious enough.

Another long period of speculation about the President's intentions, like that which followed the President's heart attack last autumn, would have the most damaging political effects. It would generate anew the old sub-surface divisions in the Republican party. Worst of all, weeks of such will-he-won't-he speculation would focus all attention on the so-called "health issue," which is the last thing the Republican leadership wants.

Announcement Expected Soon

His top advisers express absolute confidence that the President will agree that the matter must be disposed of immediately, for national and international as well as political reasons. They are sure that, in the next few days, he will either issue a statement announcing his continued candidacy or authorize Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty or another high administration official to do so in his name.

In fact, the confidence that the President will soon authorize a "possitive" statement is so absolute that it suggests that the President may already have indicated his intention not to withdraw. At any rate, there is not the slightest visible tendency even to consider altering the present Republican campaign plans. And these plans are geared in every possible way to an Eisenhower candidacy.

Word has already gone out, for example, that the San Francisco convention will be limited to three days, instead of the traditional four or five. The whole convention has been planned in advance in remarkable detail, and the proceedings are all tailored to lead up to the dramatic climax of the President's acceptance speech.

Rough Drafting Started

The whole campaign thereafter will be built wholly around the President. The highlights of the campaign are to be a small number of major Presidential radio and television broadcasts, probably six. The subject matter of these six broadcasts is already being carefully canvassed, and some initial rough drafting has actually started.

Each of the broadcasts is planned to last a half an hour, but the President himself is expected to take not more than 20 or 22 minutes of this time. The rest will be devoted to giving the broadcasts variety and pace, with interchanges between the President and administration officials, visual demonstrations of facts and figures, and so on.

This is in line with the accepted theory that televiewers will not listen to long, formal set speeches, even by the President of the United States. Negotiations are also under way for the best television hours for the presidential broadcasts. One matter remains unsettled — the point of origin of the broadcasts.

Even before his recent illness, a non-whistlestop, television campaign had been planned for the President but in the last few weeks before his sudden operation, the President had begun acting like a warhorse scenting battle, and the campaign plans were revised to allow for a number of airborne forays to the hustings. Whether this will happen again in the new circumstances remains to be seen. But the planners hope that the President will fly to key points, especially Chicago and New York, for at least two or three of his broadcasts.

Serenely Confident

Other aspects of the campaign have also been pre-planned in surprising detail. The vice president's campaign which will be managed for the first time by the national committee, is being carefully blocked out already. And a series of five minute "spots," introduced by the President, and presenting in serial form the achievements of the Eisenhower administration, is another likely feature of what will be a new kind of presidential campaign.

Obviously, the heart and soul of this new kind of campaign is the candidacy of Dwight D. Eisenhower. If the President were to withdraw, the whole campaign would simply blow up in the face of the Republican leadership. But those who should know—those who were right about the President's intentions last time—are serenely confident that nothing of the sort will happen. They are sure, on the contrary, not only that the President is still a candidate, but that he will publicly confirm his candidacy within the next few days.

Cincinnati Wins, 7-4, Takes Lead As Pirates Lose, 3-2

Redlegs Score Three In 10th, Whip Phillies

Lawrence Chalks Up Eighth Consecutive Victory In Relief

PHILADELPHIA, June 18 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs beat down the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4 in a ten-inning seesaw battle tonight to take over the National League lead from the Pittsburgh Pirates, who lost to Milwaukee 3-2.

The victory put the Redlegs a half game ahead of the Pirates in the tight National League race.

Ted Kluszewski singled to start the three-run 10th. Jim Dyck ran for him. Frank Robinson also sinsingled, Ed Bailey sacrificed, Ray Jablonski was intentionally passed, and Roy McMillan blooped a single over second to score Dyck with the winning run.

Robinson scored on a sacrifice fly by reliefer Brooks Lawrence, and Temple singled off Willie Jones' glove bringing in Jablonski. McMillan was out at the plate.

It was Lawrence's eighth straight victory in relief. He took over for Herschel Freeman in the ninth with the score at 4-4.

It was a game of costly errors. Freeman set up the Phillies in the seventh on a balk after Elmer Valo scored on a single by Frank Baumholtz. Losing pitcher Harvey Haddix doubled, scoring Baumholtz. Earlier in the frame, Del Ennis singled and Valo doubled him home.

Cincinnati came back in the eighth with singles by Robinson and Bailey, who scored on a wild pitch by Haddix. Then Marv Blaylock tripled to left center for the Phils, and scored as Bailey dropped the ball at the plate after Ennis flied to short center.

Ray Jablonski banged out his 12th homer of the season for the Redlegs' score.

Roanoke, Niles Mibsters Lead In Tournament

Stanley, Leonard Win 9 Of 10 Games

ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 18 (AP)—Ray Stanley of Roanoke, Va., last year's southern champion, shared the lead with Billy Leonard of Niles, Ohio, in the opening round of the National Marbles Championship today.

Both boys won 9 out of 10 games in their individual league competition. Ronald Poindexter of Huntington, W. Va., placed high among the leaders with 10 wins in 12 games.

Vietta Ward of Cleveland leads in the girls' division with 9 victories and 1 defeat.

Dick Hickman of Huntington, W. Va., an 11-year-old youngster who lost out in the finals last year to Raymond Jones of Pittsburgh, also is in contention with 7 victories and 3 losses. His brother, Robert, was the 1954 champion.

David Cope Fifth With 3-7 Record

David Cope, of Centre Street School, Cumberland's representative in the national marbles tourney, finished in fifth place in his league at the close of the first day's shooting at Asbury Park, N. J.

Competing with five others in League No. 2, Cope won three and lost seven games.

Dennis Kyle, Richwood, W. Va., leads the league with an 8-2 record. Others in the league finished in the following order: Wilkes-Barre, Pa., 7-3, Hoboken, N. J., 6-4, Athens, Ohio, 5-5, Cumberland, Md., 3-7, and Racine, Wis., 1-9.

Dick Hickman, brother of Bob Hickman, Huntington, W. Va., 1954 national champion, led League 3 with a 7-3 record.

Small Fry To Start • • • Yanks Are Coming!

Never Lost Series • • • Johnnies Are Shaky

By C. V. BURNS

RAIN washed out the scheduled openers in Cumberland's Dapper Dan Little League yesterday but the small fry hope to kick off the lid in a pair of games today at Penn Avenue Field.

This is the seventh season for the D.D. circuit.

1955—George Gormer's Senators defeated the Red Sox.

1954—George Gormer's Senators defeated the Pirates.

1953—Tom Seifert's Tigers defeated the Braves.

1952—Bob Collins' Red Sox defeated the Braves.

1950—"Sparky" Chisholm's Tigers defeated the Red Sox.

THERE'S a French middleweight, Germinal Ballarin, who is due in the United States for bouts, and appears with a handlebar mustache. He weighs in with the mustache on and then shaves it off because boxing commissions frown on it. Then he grows it back before he accepts another fight.

THE YANKS are coming!

John Neun, of Baltimore, "trouble shooter" for the New York Yankees, informs us by letter that this territory will be thoroughly scouted for young baseball talent this summer.

Neun reports that he and Benny Artigiani, one-time Barton High School soccer coach, and Middl. Atlantic Baseball League catcher of bygone days, will cover the entire state in the hun for baseball ivory.

The success of the Yankees, most solid organization in major league baseball, is in its great scouting system. Hence, the visit of its "bird dogs" will be most welcome throughout this area.

"SINCE Bill Hahn has been coaching football at Fort Hill have the Sentinels ever lost a series to any school?" is the question popped by a local fan.

During his 11 years as head coach at Fort Hill, Hahn's teams hold the distinction of never having lost a series to any school.

The Sentinels have met 24 different schools during that period.

Four schools have appeared on the Fort Hill schedule regularly during the 11 years and Hahn's record against them is as follows:

LaSalle 11-0; Martinsburg 9-1-1; Allegany 9-1-2 and Hagerstown 7-2-2.

Others include: Moorefield 6-0, Beall 6-0, Westminster 5-0, Keyser 4-0, Ridgeley 6-0-1, Handley 3-2 and Washington and Lee, Arlington, Va., 2-2.

Grafton, Calvin Coolidge of Washington, D. C., Bedford, Fairmont West, Front Royal, Va., and Franklin, Pa., are 0-2 against Hahn's teams. Five other schools are 0-1.

The only schools holding an edge over Fort Hill are Morgantown High, which played the Sentinels for the first time last fall, and Linsly of Wheeling, winner in 1951 by the score of 14-13. The second game scheduled with Linsly was cancelled on account of rain.

THE JOHNSTOWN Club of the Eastern League, buried in last place, needs help—and soon—if Class A baseball is to stay in the Pennsylvania city. The present club appears to be too weak for the league.

The parent New York Giants have been advised that the Johnnies can't go on very long without some reinforcements.

New York has no Class A talent available at the present time.

SHERWOOD JOHNSTON, Briggs Cunningham, Walter Hansgen, William B. Lloyd, James H. Kimberly and Jack McAfee, all of whom have participated in sports car races at the local airport the past two years, will participate in the June Classic Road Races to be held this weekend at Elkhart Lake, Wis.

The windup will be a 150-mile race on Sunday at 3 p. m. There will be seven races in two days, including a 100-mile event on Saturday.

JUST A YEAR ago this week the bangtails were running at Fairgo.

Cumberland's first 12-day meeting this year gets under way September 12 and ends September 25.

MAHOOL Advertising, Inc., Baltimore, is the agency handling the advertising, public relations and publicity for this year's meet at Fairgo.

MANY inquiries are received by the Cumberland Fair Association in regard to the races in September.

One letter the other day came from Cecil A. Rhodes, of St. Catherine's, Ont., Canada, who asks that he be sent the records for the various distances at the local half miler.

Rhodes is a trainer and says he will be here in September.

SCRUB, a favorite of Fairgo racegoers the past two years, romped home the winner at Thistledown, Ohio, the other day and returned $36.20 for $2.

Last year Scrub won at Fairgo and paid $8.20. In 1954 he won two races here at $7.60 and $20.80.

IF the All-Star game in Washington July 10 is rained out at 1 p. m., it will be played that night at 8 and then, if postponed, it will start at 10:30 a. m., next day.

STEVE NAGY, the bowling star, recently gave an exhibition at an old soldier's home in Johnson City, Tenn. Steve rang up eight strikes in a row but the audience of old men, watching bowling for the first time, failed to be impressed.

He carried on, rolled a perfect game, and still no comment. He added two more in the next game for 14 in a row and then one old fellow leaned over to another and said:

"You know, that there bowling thing must be an easy game. That there fellow keeps knocking down all the pins every time he shoots at 'em."

Randy Turpin Scores KO In 5th

BIRMINGHAM, England, June 18 (AP)—Former world middleweight champion Randolph Turpin of Britain, now on the comeback trail, scored a knockout victory over Jacques Bro of France in the fifth round of their light heavyweight bout tonight.

Turpin weighed 175½, Bro 169½.

Bro's speed was of little help as Randy bore in with hard punches, although the Frenchman made occasional short and spirited counter attacks.

Turpin tore in from the start and was still on the attack as the decisive fifth round opened.

He landed a sharp blow to Bro's body and followed it with a left to the heart.

Bro, his nose bleeding badly from earlier battering, sprawled to the canvas clutching his left side. He tried to get up but couldn't make it.

Rams' Owner Refuses To Buy Out Partners

LOS ANGELES, June 18 (AP)—Co-owner Daniel Reeves today declined to buy out his partners in the Los Angeles Rams football club and asked Superior Court to dissolve the partnership.

A month ago Edwin Pauley, Fred Levy and Hal Seley proposed that Reeves either buy their two-thirds interest in the National League club for 2 million dollars or sell them his one-third interest for 1 million dollars.

"At that time I said, as I have many times in the past, that I never have been and am not now interested in selling my interest in the Rams at any price," Reeves said today at a news conference.

"After 15 years as president, sole owner and later managing partner of the organization, my attachment to the Rams is such that it can never be measured in terms of money."

Pony Loop Leaders To Meet Wednesday

Rain washed out the Bi-State Pony Baseball League's battle for first place between the Cresaptown Lions and Ellerslie yesterday and the game has been rescheduled for Wednesday at 6 p. m., at Cresaptown, Manager Dale Broadwater of the Lions announced last night.

The deadlocked leaders own 6-0 records.

Three other games scheduled in the league also were postponed yesterday on account of rain.

Genovese Named Johnstown Pilot

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 18 (AP)—Frank (Chick) Genovese, a scout with the New York Giants, today was named manager of the Johnstown Johnnies of the Class A Eastern League.

Genovese, former manager at Minneapolis and Knoxville, succeeds Andy Gilbert, whose team lost 33 of its 49 games so far this season.

The change was authorized by the parent club, the New York Giants, and approved by the board of directors of the Johnstown club.

Cary Middlecoff Paid Caddy $500

ROCHESTER, N. Y.J une 18 (AP)—William F. Anson, 37, who was paid $500 to caddy for Cary Middlecoff, winner of the U.S. Open, said today he'd "be glad to do the job any day for nothing."

Anson took a week off from his job as shipping clerk for Eastman Kodak Co. to work in the Open. His assignment to Middlecoff was drawn out of a hat. Tournament regulations prescribed a minimum of $5 for each of the four rounds for caddy service.

Jones, Armour Copped Titles Despite Sevens

Middlecoff Had Two, Won National Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP) — There's an ancient links adage that golfers who roll sevens don't win big championships, but don't they?

Cary Middlecoff had two sevens on his card last weekend in capturing the 56th National Open at the Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester, N. Y. He took seven whacks on the par-five fourth hole on his first round and a triple-bogey seven on the 17th on his second.

Yet he finished with rounds of 71-70-70-70—281 to beat Ben Hogan and Julius Boros by a stroke for golf's premier crown.

He didn't make history by winning with two sevens.

The mighty Bob Jones shot four sevens during tournament triumphs back in the golden era.

In 1926 at Scioto, Jones had a seven on the 18th hole in the opening round yet rallied for a winning 293. In 1929 at Winged Foot he had not one, but two, sevens on the final round. Yet he tied Al Espinosa at 294 and won the 36-hole playoff.

In 1930, the year of Jones' famous grand slam, he shot a seven on the eighth hole of the British Open at Hoylake but finally won with a score of 291.

Tommy Armour, the silver Scot, pulled perhaps the most fantastic rendezvous with the magic number in the U.S. Open at Oakmont in 1927. He took three sevens during the 72 holes, finished in a tie with Harry Cooper at 301 and won the playoff.

Ted Kroll's seven on the 16th hole at Oak Hill joined the list of famous blowups in this tournament of taut nerves and short tempers.

He needed only par in on the last three holes to tie Middlecoff for the title. The triple-bogey seven crushed his bid.

The most memorable of Open blowups, of course, was Sam Snead's harrowing eight on the final hole at Philadelphia's Spring Mill in 1939 when he needed only a bogey five to win.

Robin Roberts Ends Slump And It Wasn't Accidental

Blames Curve Ball As Cause Of Trouble

PHILADELPHIA, June 18 (AP) — Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies ended his pitching slump yesterday by beating the Chicago Cubs, and like everything else the great right hander does, it wasn't accidental.

The morning after his last Wednesday night mauling by Milwaukee, Roberts and three teammates went out to the Braves' park. It was early in the morning because the train left at noon.

Roberts pitched a full hour. He was determined to find out what was wrong. He just wasn't used to being a consistent loser. He had lost four in a row. What worried the pitcher even more than the defeats was the belting he was taking. He was being knocked out of the box regularly.

"Something had to be haywire," he said. "Here I was throwing better than I have for three years; feeling better than I have for three years — and getting my brains knocked out."

Curve Causes Trouble

Roberts discovered that his trouble stemmed from a curve ball. Let him explain it:

"I've been trying to throw that sweeping curve ball. And to throw it you have to stand up straighter and get more snap. I am not a stand up pitcher. I have to be low and follow through."

Roberts proved his point yesterday. He held the Cubs to a double through the first six innings and outfielder Elmer Valo said he should have caught that one. He relaxed with a big lead and the Cubs picked up a run.

Roberts has his own pet theory of how to pitch. He says, "The secret of pitching is throwing them what they're looking for and getting them out."

That may sound strange, since most pitchers will tell you the trick is to throw the batter off balance, get him out on a pitch he isn't expecting.

But then, who is going to argue with a guy who has won 20 games or more each year for the past six.

Won Six, Lost Eight

Roberts now has a 6-8 record for the season and even with a return to form he's going to have to go some to reach the 20-game class this time.

Szuzina, Cotton Fight To Draw

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Germany's Franz Szuzina, a 9-5 underdog in his New York and television debut, held Toledo's Charley Cotton to a draw in their 10-round bout at St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

Cotton outweighed his rival, 160½ to 165½.

Referee Petey Scalzo voted for Franz, 5-4-1. Judge Bill Recht scored it 7-3 for Cotton. Judge Joe Agnello called it a draw, giving each five rounds and five points. The AP card had it even, 4-4-2.

Paul Minner Falls In Bath Tub, Suffers Slight Concussion

NEW YORK, June 18 (INS) — Pitcher Paul Minner of the Chicago Cubs suffered a slight concussion when he slipped and fell today in the bath tub in his New York hotel room.

Dr. Allen D. Tanney, who attended Minner, said he will be kept in the hospital for X-rays and observation for two to three days and will not pitch for at least ten days.

Ronnie Shavlik Signed By Knicks

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Ronnie Shavlik, 6-8 North Carolina State star, signed today with the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Assn., giving the Knicks their second promising big man.

Shavlik, the club's No. 1 draft selection, joins Utah's Gary Bergen, also 6-8, on the Knick roster.

Warren Spahn Hands Bucs Third Successive Defeat

Milwaukee Cops 3d In Row Under Haney; Shepard Hits Homer

PITTSBURGH, June 18 (AP)—Joe Adcock's two-run double and an error gave Warren Spahn and the Milwaukee Braves all the runs they needed tonight to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 and drop them into second place.

The left-handed Spahn went all the way for the Braves, who have won three games in a row since Fred Haney replaced Charley Grimm as manager.

Spahn spaced out eight Pittsburgh hits, striking out five and walking none for his second win over the Pirates in four decisions. He now has a 4-6 record.

The loss marked the first time this season the Pirates have lost three in a row. It also halted a nine-game winning streak for Pittsburgh under the lights.

Catcher Jack Shepard's fourth homer in the fourth inning with one aboard gave the Pirates their only runs.

Ronnie Kline, who started for the Pirates after but two days' rest was hit hard in the first three innings, giving up three runs. He was charged with his fifth defeat against six victories.

Cincinnati displaced the Pirates in first place with a 7-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. Milwaukee moved to within a half game of the fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals.

Milwaukee scored two runs in the first after Bill Bruton singled with one out. He advanced to third on Eddie Mathews' double down the left-field line. Hank Aaron was intentionally passed, filling the bases. Adcock smacked a double, scoring Bruton and Mathews.

The Braves picked up their final run in the third when Bobby Thomson walked and advanced to third on a sacrifice and a stolen base. Logan was safe at first on an error by Dick Groat, Thomson scoring.

Redlegs Score Three In 10th, Whip Phillies

Lawrence Chalks Up Eighth Consecutive Victory In Relief

PHILADELPHIA, June 18 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs beat down the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4 in a ten-inning seesaw battle tonight to take over the National League lead from the Pittsburgh Pirates, who lost to Milwaukee 3-2.

The victory put the Redlegs a half game ahead of the Pirates in the tight National League race.

Ted Kluszewski singled to start the three-run 10th. Jim Dyck ran for him. Frank Robinson also sinsingled, Ed Bailey sacrificed, Ray Jablonski was intentionally passed, and Roy McMillan blooped a single over second to score Dyck with the winning run.

Robinson scored on a sacrifice fly by reliefer Brooks Lawrence, and Temple singled off Willie Jones' glove bringing in Jablonski. McMillan was out at the plate.

It was Lawrence's eighth straight victory in relief. He took over for Herschel Freeman in the ninth with the score at 4-4.

It was a game of costly errors. Freeman set up the Phillies in the seventh on a balk after Elmer Valo scored on a single by Frank Baumholtz. Losing pitcher Harvey Haddix doubled, scoring Baumholtz. Earlier in the frame, Del Ennis singled and Valo doubled him home.

Cincinnati came back in the eighth with singles by Robinson and Bailey, who scored on a wild pitch by Haddix. Then Marv Blaylock tripled to left center for the Phils, and scored as Bailey dropped the ball at the plate after Ennis flied to short center.

Ray Jablonski banged out his 12th homer of the season for the Redlegs' score.

Stanley, Leonard Win 9 Of 10 Games

ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 18 (AP)—Ray Stanley of Roanoke, Va., last year's southern champion, shared the lead with Billy Leonard of Niles, Ohio, in the opening round of the National Marbles Championship today.

Both boys won 9 out of 10 games in their individual league competition. Ronald Poindexter of Huntington, W. Va., placed high among the leaders with 10 wins in 12 games.

Vietta Ward of Cleveland leads in the girls' division with 9 victories and 1 defeat.

Dick Hickman of Huntington, W. Va., an 11-year-old youngster who lost out in the finals last year to Raymond Jones of Pittsburgh, also is in contention with 7 victories and 3 losses. His brother, Robert, was the 1954 champion.

David Cope Fifth With 3-7 Record

David Cope, of Centre Street School, Cumberland's representative in the national marbles tourney, finished in fifth place in his league at the close of the first day's shooting at Asbury Park, N. J.

Competing with five others in League No. 2, Cope won three and lost seven games.

Dennis Kyle, Richwood, W. Va., leads the league with an 8-2 record. Others in the league finished in the following order: Wilkes-Barre, Pa., 7-3, Hoboken, N. J., 6-4, Athens, Ohio, 5-5, Cumberland, Md., 3-7, and Racine, Wis., 1-9.

Dick Hickman, brother of Bob Hickman, Huntington, W. Va., 1954 national champion, led League 3 with a 7-3 record.

Small Fry To Start • • • Yanks Are Coming!

Never Lost Series • • • Johnnies Are Shaky

By C. V. BURNS

RAIN washed out the scheduled openers in Cumberland's Dapper Dan Little League yesterday but the small fry hope to kick off the lid in a pair of games today at Penn Avenue Field.

This is the seventh season for the D.D. circuit.

Here are the past winners:

1955—George Gormer's Senators defeated the Red Sox.

1954—George Gormer's Senators defeated the Pirates.

1953—Tom Seifert's Tigers defeated the Braves.

1952—Bob Collins' Red Sox defeated the Braves.

1950—"Sparky" Chisholm's Tigers defeated the Red Sox.

THERE'S a French middleweight, Germinal Ballarin, who is due in the United States for bouts, and appears with a handlebar mustache. He weighs in with the mustache on and then shaves it off because boxing commissions frown on it. Then he grows it back before he accepts another fight.

THE YANKS are coming!

John Neun, of Baltimore, "trouble shooter" for the New York Yankees, informs us by letter that this territory will be thoroughly scouted for young baseball talent this summer.

Neun reports that he and Benny Artigiani, one-time Barton High School soccer coach, and Middl. Atlantic Baseball League catcher of bygone days, will cover the entire state in the hunt for baseball ivory.

The success of the Yankees, most solid organization in major league baseball, is in its great scouting system. Hence, the visit of its "bird dogs" will be most welcome throughout this area.

"SINCE Bill Hahn has been coaching football at Fort Hill have the Sentinels ever lost a series to any school?" is the question popped by a local fan.

During his 11 years as head coach at Fort Hill, Hahn's teams hold the distinction of never having lost a series to any school.

The Sentinels have met 24 different schools during that period.

Four schools have appeared on the Fort Hill schedule regularly during the 11 years and Hahn's record against them is as follows:

LaSalle 11-0; Martinsburg 9-1-1; Allegany 9-1-2 and Hagerstown 7-2-2.

Others include: Moorefield 6-0, Beall 6-0, Westminster 5-0, Keyser 4-0, Ridgeley 6-0-1, Handley 3-2 and Washington and Lee, Arlington, Va., 2-2.

Grafton, Calvin Coolidge of Washington, D. C., Bedford, Fairmont West, Front Royal, Va., and Franklin, Pa., are 0-2 against Hahn's teams. Five other schools are 0-1.

The only schools holding an edge over Fort Hill are Morgantown High, which played the Sentinels for the first time last fall, and Linsly of Wheeling, winner in 1951 by the score of 14-13. The second game scheduled with Linsly was cancelled on account of rain.

THE JOHNSTOWN Club of the Eastern League, buried in last place, needs help—and soon—if Class A baseball is to stay in the Pennsylvania city. The present club appears to be too weak for the league.

The parent New York Giants have been advised that the Johnnies can't go on very long without some reinforcements.

New York has no Class A talent available at the present time.

SHERWOOD JOHNSTON, Briggs Cunningham, Walter Hansgen, William B. Lloyd, James H. Kimberly and Jack McAfee, all of whom have participated in sports car races at the local airport the past two years, will participate in the June Classic Road Races to be held this weekend at Elkhart Lake, Wis.

The windup will be a 150-mile race on Sunday at 3 p. m. There will be seven races in two days, including a 100-mile event on Saturday.

JUST A YEAR ago this week the bangtails were running at Fairgo.

Cumberland's first 12-day meeting this year gets under way September 12 and ends September 25.

MAHOOL Advertising, Inc., Baltimore, is the agency handling the advertising, public relations and publicity for this year's meet at Fairgo.

MANY inquiries are received by the Cumberland Fair Association in regard to the races in September.

One letter the other day came from Cecil A. Rhodes, of St. Catherine's, Ont., Canada, who asks that he be sent the records for the various distances at the local half miler.

Rhodes is a trainer and says he will be here in September.

SCRUB, a favorite of Fairgo racegoers the past two years, romped home the winner at Thistledown, Ohio, the other day and returned $36.20 for $2.

Last year Scrub won at Fairgo and paid $8.20. In 1954 he won two races here at $7.60 and $20.80.

IF the All-Star game in Washington July 10 is rained out at 1 p. m., it will be played that night at 8 and then, if postponed, it will start at 10:30 a. m., next day.

STEVE NAGY, the bowling star, recently gave an exhibition at an old soldier's home in Johnson City, Tenn. Steve rang up eight strikes in a row but the audience of old men, watching bowling for the first time, failed to be impressed.

He carried on, rolled a perfect game, and still no comment. He added two more in the next game for 14 in a row and then one old fellow leaned over to another and said:

"You know, that there bowling thing must be an easy game. That there fellow keeps knocking down all the pins every time he shoots at 'em."

Randy Turpin Scores KO In 5th

BIRMINGHAM, England, June 18 (AP)—Former world middleweight champion Randolph Turpin of Britain, now on the comeback trail, scored a knockout victory over Jacques Bro of France in the fifth round of their light heavyweight bout tonight.

Turpin weighed 175½, Bro 169½.

Bro's speed was of little help as Randy bore in with hard punches, although the Frenchman made occasional short and spirited counter attacks.

Turpin tore in from the start and was still on the attack as the decisive fifth round opened.

He landed a sharp blow to Bro's body and followed it with a left to the heart.

Bro, his nose bleeding badly from earlier battering, sprawled to the canvas clutching his left side. He tried to get up but couldn't make it.

Rams' Owner Refuses To Buy Out Partners

LOS ANGELES, June 18 (AP)—Co-owner Daniel Reeves today declined to buy out his partners in the Los Angeles Rams football club and asked Superior Court to dissolve the partnership.

A month ago Edwin Pauley, Fred Levy and Hal Seley proposed that Reeves either buy their two-thirds interest in the National League club for 2 million dollars or sell them his one-third interest for 1 million dollars.

"At that time I said, as I have many times in the past, that I never have been and am not now interested in selling my interest in the Rams at any price," Reeves said today at a news conference.

"After 15 years as president, sole owner and later managing partner of the organization, my attachment to the Rams is such that it can never be measured in terms of money."

Pony Loop Leaders To Meet Wednesday

Rain washed out the Bi-State Pony Baseball League's battle for first place between the Cresaptown Lions and Ellerslie yesterday and the game has been rescheduled for Wednesday at 6 p. m., at Cresaptown, Manager Dale Broadwater of the Lions announced last night.

The deadlocked leaders own 6-0 records.

Three other games scheduled in the league also were postponed yesterday on account of rain.

Genovese Named Johnstown Pilot

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 18 (AP)—Frank (Chick) Genovese, a scout with the New York Giants, today was named manager of the Johnstown Johnnies of the Class A Eastern League.

Genovese, former manager at Minneapolis and Knoxville, succeeds Andy Gilbert, whose team lost 33 of its 49 games so far this season.

The change was authorized by the parent club, the New York Giants, and approved by the board of directors of the Johnstown club.

Cary Middlecoff Paid Caddy $500

ROCHESTER, N. Y.J une 18 (AP)—William F. Anson, 37, who was paid $500 to caddy for Cary Middlecoff, winner of the U.S. Open, said today he'd "be glad to do the job any day for nothing."

Anson took a week off from his job as shipping clerk for Eastman Kodak Co. to work in the Open. His assignment to Middlecoff was drawn out of a hat. Tournament regulations prescribed a minimum of $5 for each of the four rounds for caddy service.

Jones, Armour Copped Titles Despite Sevens

Middlecoff Had Two, Won National Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP) — There's an ancient links adage that golfers who roll sevens don't win big championships, but don't they?

Cary Middlecoff had two sevens on his card last weekend in capturing the 56th National Open at the Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester, N. Y. He took seven whacks on the par-five fourth hole on his first round and a triple-bogey seven on the 17th on his second.

Yet he finished with rounds of 71-70-70-70—281 to beat Ben Hogan and Julius Boros by a stroke for golf's premier crown.

He didn't make history by winning with two sevens.

The mighty Bob Jones shot four sevens during tournament triumphs back in the golden era.

In 1926 at Scioto, Jones had a seven on the 18th hole in the opening round yet rallied for a winning 293. In 1929 at Winged Foot he had not one, but two, sevens on the final round. Yet he tied Al Espinosa at 294 and won the 36-hole playoff.

In 1930, the year of Jones' famous grand slam, he shot a seven on the eighth hole of the British Open at Hoylake but finally won with a score of 291.

Tommy Armour, the silver Scot, pulled perhaps the most fantastic rendezvous with the magic number in the U.S. Open at Oakmont in 1927. He took three sevens during the 72 holes, finished in a tie with Harry Cooper at 301 and won the playoff.

Ted Kroll's seven on the 16th hole at Oak Hill joined the list of famous blowups in this tournament of taut nerves and short tempers.

He needed only par in on the last three holes to tie Middlecoff for the title. The triple-bogey seven crushed his bid.

The most memorable of Open blowups, of course, was Sam Snead's harrowing eight on the final hole at Philadelphia's Spring Mill in 1939 when he needed only a bogey five to win.

Robin Roberts Ends Slump And It Wasn't Accidental

Blames Curve Ball As Cause Of Trouble

PHILADELPHIA, June 18 (AP) — Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies ended his pitching slump yesterday by beating the Chicago Cubs, and like everything else the great right hander does, it wasn't accidental.

The morning after his last Wednesday night mauling by Milwaukee, Roberts and three teammates went out to the Braves' park. It was early in the morning because the train left at noon.

Roberts pitched a full hour. He was determined to find out what was wrong. He just wasn't used to being a consistent loser. He had lost four in a row. What worried the pitcher even more than the defeats was the belting he was taking. He was being knocked out of the box regularly.

"Something had to be haywire," he said. "Here I was throwing better than I have for three years; feeling better than I have for three years — and getting my brains knocked out."

Curve Causes Trouble

Roberts discovered that his trouble stemmed from a curve ball. Let him explain it:

"I've been trying to throw that sweeping curve ball. And to throw it you have to stand up straighter and get more snap. I am not a stand up pitcher. I have to be low and follow through."

Roberts proved his point yesterday. He held the Cubs to a double through the first six innings and outfielder Elmer Valo said he should have caught that one. He relaxed with a big lead and the Cubs picked up a run.

Roberts has his own pet theory of how to pitch. He says, "The secret of pitching is throwing them what they're looking for and getting them out."

That may sound strange, since most pitchers will tell you the trick is to throw the batter off balance, get him out on a pitch he isn't expecting.

But then, who is going to argue with a guy who has won 20 games or more each year for the past six.

Won Six, Lost Eight

Roberts now has a 6-8 record for the season and even with a return to form he's going to have to go some to reach the 20-game class this time.

Szuzina, Cotton Fight To Draw

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Germany's Franz Szuzina, a 9-5 underdog in his New York and television debut, held Toledo's Charley Cotton to a draw in their 10-round bout at St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

Cotton outweighed his rival, 160½ to 165½.

Referee Petey Scalzo voted for Franz, 5-4-1. Judge Bill Recht scored it 7-3 for Cotton. Judge Joe Agnello called it a draw, giving each five rounds and five points. The AP card had it even, 4-4-2.

Paul Minner Falls In Bath Tub, Suffers Slight Concussion

NEW YORK, June 18 (INS) — Pitcher Paul Minner of the Chicago Cubs suffered a slight concussion when he slipped and fell today in the bath tub in his New York hotel room.

Dr. Allen D. Tanney, who attended Minner, said he will be kept in the hospital for X-rays and observation for two to three days and will not pitch for at least ten days.

Ronnie Shavlik Signed By Knicks

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Ronnie Shavlik, 6-8 North Carolina State star, signed today with the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Assn., giving the Knicks their second promising big man.

Shavlik, the club's No. 1 draft selection, joins Utah's Gary Bergen, also 6-8, on the Knick roster.

Warren Spahn Hands Bucs Third Successive Defeat

Milwaukee Cops 3d In Row Under Haney; Shepard Hits Homer

PITTSBURGH, June 18 (AP)—Joe Adcock's two-run double and an error gave Warren Spahn and the Milwaukee Braves all the runs they needed tonight to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 and drop them into second place.

The left-handed Spahn went all the way for the Braves, who have won three games in a row since Fred Haney replaced Charley Grimm as manager.

Spahn spaced out eight Pittsburgh hits, striking out five and walking none for his second win over the Pirates in four decisions. He now has a 4-6 record.

The loss marked the first time this season the Pirates have lost three in a row. It also halted a nine-game winning streak for Pittsburgh under the lights.

Catcher Jack Shepard's fourth homer in the fourth inning with one aboard gave the Pirates their only runs.

Ronnie Kline, who started for the Pirates after but two days' rest was hit hard in the first three innings, giving up three runs. He was charged with his fifth defeat against six victories.

Cincinnati displaced the Pirates in first place with a 7-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. Milwaukee moved to within a half game of the fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals.

Milwaukee scored two runs in the first after Bill Bruton singled with one out. He advanced to third on Eddie Mathews' double down the left-field line. Hank Aaron was intentionally passed, filling the bases. Adcock smacked a double, scoring Bruton and Mathews.

The Braves picked up their final run in the third when Bobby Thomson walked and advanced to third on a sacrifice and a stolen base. Logan was safe at first on an error by Dick Groat, Thomson scoring.

Yankees Beat Detroit, 7-4, On Mantle's 25th Home Run

Paul Foytack Is Victim Of 3-Run Wallop

McDougald, Belardi, Boone Also Connect; Don Larsen Winner

DETROIT, June 18 (AP)—Mickey Mantle hit another tape-measure home run today, this time clear out of Briggs Stadium, to break a 4-4 tie in the eighth inning and give the New York Yankees a 7-4 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

Mantle's two-on blast from the left side of the plate came off righthander Paul Foytack. The ball, hit against the wind, sailed onto the roof and took one bounce into Trumbull Avenue.

Thus, the 24-year-old blond Yankee slugger became the second man ever to hit a fair ball out of Briggs Stadium since it took its present form in 1937. Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox smashed one out of the park on May 4, 1939, his rookie year.

Ahead Of Babe's Pace

Today's was Mantle's 25th home run of the season, and put him 12 games ahead of the pace set by Babe Ruth when the Sultan of Swat cracked a record 60 home runs.

Mickey's tremendous blast went over at the 370-foot mark, bouncing once on the roof that stands 110-feet above the playing field.

Gil McDougald of the Yankees and the Tigers' Wayne Belardi and Ray Boone also hit for the circuit.

The victory went to Don Larsen, who relieved starter Bob Turley in the third and permitted Detroit only three hits the rest of the way.

Larsen has won four and lost one.

Turley Fails Again

Turley failed to last for the eighth time in 10 starts, giving up three of the Tiger runs while yielding five walks and three base hits, including Belardi's two-run homer in the first.

Three walks and a single produced Detroit's third run in the third inning and chased Turley. Boone's 11th home run came off Larsen in the fifth and was the final Detroit score.

The Yankees put together a walk, Andy Carey's double and Jerry Coleman's two-run single for a pair of runs in the second. McDougald's fourth home run behind a walk to Coleman gave them two more in the fifth.

Boone Ties Score

McDougald's drive gave the Yanks a 4-3 lead, and Boone's homer deadlocked it in the Tiger fifth.

That's the way it stood until Mantle belted one of Foytack's pitches out of the park.

It was Foytack's first start against New York, and his fifth loss compared with four victories.

Summer Tan Is 11th In Field Of Fifteen

BELMONT, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—Gerald S. Colella's Switch On, who had failed in three previous New York stakes engagements, closed with a rush to win the $23,900 Colin Handicap at Belmont Park today.

The 5-year-old son of Condiment-Tactic, ridden by Robert Ussery, outgamed Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action in a furious head-and-head duel the last 50 yards to win the camera decision by a head. Third money, a nose back, went to Wheatley Stable's Dark Ruler. Jack J. Amiel's Mr. Turf, a member of the three-horse mutuel field, led to mid-stretch, but bore out badly to finish fourth.

Big disappointment in the race was the performance of Mrs. John W. Galbreath's Summer Tan, 9-5 favorite, who finished 11th in the field of 14.

Switch On was timed in the good clocking of 1:10 3/5 for the six furlongs to earn a net purse of $16,650. Switch On shared second place in the weights with Jet Action at 123 pounds, three less than Summer Tan.

Second choice in the betting with the crowd of 22,443, Switch On returned the across the board mutuels of $11.00, $5.90 and $4.20. Jet Action paid $16.50 and $11.40 and Dark Ruler was $6.70 to show.

Switch On's victory, his 21st in 73 starts, moved the horse into the $200,000 class with total gleanings of $201,177. Colella is a shoe manufacturer from Havermill, Mass.

Bailey, Berra Gain In Major Batting Races

Long And Mantle Hold First Place

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Ed Bailey of Cincinnati and Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees, a coupe of Grade A catchers, are making rapid progress in the major league batting races.

The competition tightened considerably last week with Dale Long of Pittsburgh and the Yanks' Mickey Mantle no longer holding commanding leads.

Baily Trails Long

Bailey, with an increase of 10 points, lifted his average to .352 and is within range of Long's .359.

The Pirates' slugger, who took over the National League's top spot last week, slumped 11 points with only three hits in 14 at bats.

Mantle, a .400 hitter until recently, slumped 14 points to .383. He had seven hits, including three home runs which boosted his total circuits to 24. He also is setting the American League pace in runs batted in with 59.

Berra, Mantle's hard-hitting teammate, moved into a tie with Bob Nieman of Baltimore for fifth place in batting. Each is at .344. Berra slammed three homers for a season's total of 17 and he's in a four-way tie for the runnerup position in RBI's with 45. Vic Wertz of Cleveland, Jim Lemon of Washington and Harry Simpson of Kansas City also have 45.

Charley Maxwell of Detroit is only 17 points behind Mantle with .366 and Boston's Mickey Vernon, twice an American League batting champ, is a close third with .363. Maxwell dropped seven points in last week's games while Vernon climbed five with nine hits in 23 trips. The records include Sunday's games.

Boyer's .338 Third

Kenny Boyer of the St. Louis Cardinals moved up one noteh to third place in the National League batting chase despite a seven point decrease to .338. The sophomore third baseman batted in two runs to boost his league-leading aggregate to 50. Long leads in home runs with 17.

Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente dropped to fourth place. He tailed off 27 points to .333 with only three safeties in 19 times at bat. Wally Moon of the Cards is fifth with .330.

Swap Hockey Players

U.S. Wightman Team Defeats British, 5-2

Cops 20th Straight International Test

WIMLEDON, England, June 18 (AP)—A veteran team of American women tennis players won the Wightman Cup again today by the closest score of the post-war series—five matches to two.

It was the 20th consecutive victory for the United States in the women's international tennis competition and at the conclusion a British tennis official ruefully proposed the Americans should be "more decent and let us win once."

Britain hasn't won the Cup since 1930 and has gained only four victories in 28 international contests. Its chances of winning this year virtually disappeared last Friday when the U.S. swept the three opening matches.

Today's rain-delayed conclusion ended in a standoff. American team captain Louise Brough of Beverley Hills, Calif., gained the deciding point with a 3-6, 6-3, 6-4 victory over stubborn Angela Buxton. Then Miss Brough and Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, took an easy doubles victory over Miss Buxton and Angela Mortimer, 6-2, 6-2.

Shirley Bloomer, Britain's young third-ranked player, took a well-earned 6-4, 6-4 victory over Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode and Miss Mortimer defeated a carefree, disinterested Miss Fry 6-4, 6-3.

Boy Claims Golf Ball That Hit Him On Head

INDIANAPOLIS, June 18 (AP)—Getting hit on the head by a ball driven by Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., pro, didn't end 12-year-old caddy Clyde Kimbley's enthusiasm for golf.

The boy, following an exhibition match at Highland course yesterday as a spectator, sat up and said he wanted to keep the ball. He got it.

He was taken to a hospital, which reported X-rays showed he was not hurt seriously.

No two girls grow at the same rate.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Growing Up

"Please help with suggestions for my 16-year-old daughter who has an inferiority complex because she thinks being tall is a great handicap," writes a Minneapolis reader.

Height didn't stand in the way of a certain Philadelphia girl who married a prince and became the most famous bride in the world. Grace Kelly is 5 feet, 7½ inches and seems even taller because of her erect carriage. Height wasn't always a bed of roses for her, either. Many times she was close to tears when her height kept her from getting parts on Broadway. But, she kept on trying and hounding the managers, and one day she got a part with Raymond Massey, who, of course, was much taller. That was the beginning—you know the rest of the success story.

Don't be self-conscious about your height. Every girl goes through a period of two or three (or even four or five) years of uneven and rapid growth. Most get to worrying about themselves — that is natural and a part of growing up. It might be of some comfort to a girl to know that she is not the only one looking in the mirror and wondering, "Gosh—am I a freak?" All growing youngsters are doing the same thing. And, none of them are freaks. One girl may be the tallest or the shortest or the fattest in the crowd, but that doesn't mean she's not normal nor that there's anything wrong with her. When we say that a person is growing normally, it doesn't mean she is growing like everybody else around her. Each girl is different, and each grows according to what is right and normal for her.

If you're tall, stand tall. You do not diminish your height by slouching; you only destroy the statuesque charm that is your birthright.

YOUR POSTURE

Achieve grace of the highest degree—make yours the posture ideal—improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes. Read the informative, easy-to-follow booklet "YOUR POSTURE." Daily Bridge Lesson

by B. Jay Becker

West dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

	♠ — ♥ 7 6 4 ♦ A Q 9 6 5 2 ♣ A J 10 6
♠ Q J 9 6 ♥ J 9 5 3 ♦ 10 4 ♣ K 9 2	N W E S	♠ A 8 5 3 2 ♥ 10 ♦ 8 7 ♣ Q 8 7 4 3
	♠ K 10 7 4 ♥ A K Q 8 2 ♦ K J 3 ♣ 5

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	3 ♥
Pass	4 ♥	Pass	4 NT
Pass	5 ♥	Pass	6 ♥

Opening lead—queen of spades.

The bidding is recorded as it took place. The final contract was something short of perfect. Six diamonds or, in fact, seven diamonds are superior contracts. It will be noted that diamonds were referred to once during the bidding, after which no further reference to a girl's best friend was made. In this respect both North and South were derelict.

North should have bid four diamonds in place of four hearts. A six card suit is worthy of more than one honorable mention. The portrait of the hand is better painted if diamonds are rebid. Heart support can be shown later, if the opportunity arises.

Granting the four heart bid, however, South should have tried for the slam by means of a five diamond bid instead of the conventional four notrump. The diamond support may be of prime importance to North. It is better for South in this hand to give information than receive it.

It is not too easy, in actual practice, to arrive at the grand slam, although many ways to reach the seven diamond contract can be suggested. Any time the opponents have an ace, and the contractors have only 27 high card points, few tears need be shed for the failure to achieve the summit.

To add to the abortive bidding sequence, South proceeded to go down very quickly. The spade lead was trumped in dummy. Declarer took two rounds of trump, and discovered the bad trump break. There was no way to recover, and South had to lose a spade and a trump for down one.

The contract can be made if declarer plays more carefully. The 4-1 heart split is not so rare that it can be ignored. Declarer should lead a trump from dummy at trick two and let the defenders win it. This play insures twelve tricks even though one adversary has four trumps. It will cost the declarer 30 points every time the hearts break 3-2; it will gain him about 1,000 points every time the hearts break 4-1. Little strokes fell great oaks.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 18 (INS)—One way to get an actor to play in a movie is to stand by until he reads the script. That's exactly what Buddy Adler did with Marlon Brando when he took John Lee Mahin's completed copy of "Heaven Only Knows, Mr. Allyson" to Brando's house and waited while the actor read it.

When Brando agreed to co-star with Deborah Kerr, Buddy had to say that the starting date is Aug. 15, and that was agreeable, too.

John Huston, who has postponed "Tytee," also agreed to direct. Being told that the location scenes are to be made in the South Pacific helped persuade my traveling friend, John.

Sy Bartlett, who has been pretty busy at the hospital at the bedside of his bride who was so badly hurt a week ago when she fell getting out of the bathtub, has a new big project. He and his partner Gregory Peck have bought "The Thieves Market," by Liam (Bill) O'Brien and Vincent Evans, for their first Melville Productions film.

After Greg makes personal appearances with "Moby Dick" and as soon as Fay and Michael Kanin can write the script, Greg will go to Spain, where "The Thieves Market" will be filmed.

Mario Lanza had high hopes of playing Franz Schubert in "Blossom Time," but the deal fell through when Mario insisted on a generous percentage of the picture's world grosses.

Louis B. Mayer owns the screen rights to "Blossom Time," the famous musical which was made as a motion picture by Jeannette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy. The music is beautiful and 20th Century-Fox discussed making it, but the asking price of $600,000 for the property was prohibitive.

There can be no announcement from Darryl Zanuck about what his next picture will be until the four stockholders who protested his independent set-up with 20th Century-Fox (and lost) decide whether to appeal.

But Darryl is very happy over the degree of doctor of humanities awarded him by the University of Nebraska. He was the only one of the men honored who was not a university graduate. Darryl only went to high school.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Publication of Gene Markey's new book, "Kentucky Pride," and his promotion in the U. S. Navy from commander to rear admiral in the inactive reserve, came within a week of each other.

"Social Climber" saved my life at the Hollywood Turf Club Saturday when Liz Whitney's thoroughbred romped home to victory. We were the guests of Mervyn Leroy in the directors room, and it was a pleasant afternoon.

Other of Mervyn's guests were Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz. Lucille was a bright spot of summer color in a lavender dress, with her red hair. Bonita Granville and John Rather bet some of the horses I did, but we all had such a good time, losing didn't matter.

Assisting Mervyn in hosting was James B. Stewart, vice president of the Turf Club and a hard worker. Mrs. Leroy had to stay home with her daughter, Mrs. David Main, who was momentarily expecting a baby.

Frances and Sam Goldwyn sail July 5 on the Queen Mary, and while they're in Europe Sam will beat the drums for "Guys and Dolls"—and, believe me, he always does a good job.

Claude Jarman, who ten years ago, won a tiny Oscar for "The Yearling," is now entering officers training school in Newport. Time certainly does fly.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

No two girls grow at the same rate.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Growing Up

"Please help with suggestions for my 16-year-old daughter who has an inferiority complex because she thinks being tall is a great handicap," writes a Minneapolis reader.

Height didn't stand in the way of a certain Philadelphia girl who married a prince and became the most famous bride in the world. Grace Kelly is 5 feet, 7½ inches and seems even taller because of her erect carriage. Height wasn't always a bed of roses for her, either. Many times she was close to tears when her height kept her from getting parts on Broadway. But, she kept on trying and hounding the managers, and one day she got a part with Raymond Massey, who, of course, was much taller. That was the beginning—you know the rest of the success story.

Don't be self-conscious about your height. Every girl goes through a period of two or three (or even four or five) years of uneven and rapid growth. Most get to worrying about themselves — that is natural and a part of growing up. It might be of some comfort to a girl to know that she is not the only one looking in the mirror and wondering, "Gosh—am I a freak?" All growing youngsters are doing the same thing. And, none of them are freaks. One girl may be the tallest or the shortest or the fattest in the crowd, but that doesn't mean she's not normal nor that there's anything wrong with her. When we say that a person is growing normally, it doesn't mean she is growing like everybody else around her. Each girl is different, and each grows according to what is right and normal for her.

If you're tall, stand tall. You do not diminish your height by slouching; you only destroy the statuesque charm that is your birthright.

Daily Bridge Lesson

by B. Jay Becker

West dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♦	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	3 ♥
Pass	4 ♥	Pass	4 N T
Pass	5 ♥	Pass	6 ♥

Opening lead—queen of spades.

The bidding is recorded as it took place. The final contract was something short of perfect. Six diamonds or, in fact, seven diamonds are superior contracts. It will be noted that diamonds were referred to once during the bidding, after which no further reference to a girl's best friend was made. In this respect both North and South were derelict.

North should have bid four diamonds in place of four hearts. A six card suit is worthy of more than one honorable mention. The portrait of the hand is better painted if diamonds are rebid. Heart support can be shown later, if the opportunity arises.

Granting the four heart bid, however, South should have tried for the slam by means of a five diamond bid instead of the conventional four notrump. The diamond support may be of prime importance to North. It is better for South in this hand to give information than receive it.

It is not too easy, in actual practice, to arrive at the grand slam, although many ways to reach the seven diamond contract can be suggested. Any time the opponents have an ace, and the contractors have only 27 high card points, few tears need be shed for the failure to achieve the summit.

To add to the abortive bidding sequence, South proceeded to go down very quickly. The spade lead was trumped in dummy. Declarer took two rounds of trump, and discovered the bad trump break. There was no way to recover, and South had to lose a spade and a trump for down one.

The contract can be made if declarer plays more carefully. The 4-1 heart split is not so rare that it can be ignored. Declarer should lead a trump from dummy at trick two and let the defenders win it. This play insures twelve tricks even though one adversary has four trumps. It will cost the declarer 30 points every time the hearts break 3-2; it will gain him about 1,000 points every time the hearts break 4-1. Little strokes fell great oaks.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 18 (INS)—One way to get an actor to play in a movie is to stand by until he reads the script. That's exactly what Buddy Adler did with Marlon Brando when he took John Lee Mahin's completed copy of "Heaven Only Knows, Mr. Allyson" to Brando's house and waited while the actor read it.

When Brando agreed to co-star with Deborah Kerr, Buddy had to say that the starting date is Aug. 15, and that was agreeable, too.

John Huston, who has postponed "Tytee," also agreed to direct. Being told that the location scenes are to be made in the South Pacific helped persuade my traveling friend, John.

Sy Bartlett, who has been pretty busy at the hospital at the bedside of his bride who was so badly hurt a week ago when she fell getting out of the bathtub, has a new big project. He and his partner Gregory Peck have bought "The Thieves Market," by Liam (Bill) O'Brien and Vincent Evans, for their first Melville Productions film.

After Greg makes personal appearances with "Moby Dick" and as soon as Fay and Michael Kanin can write the script, Greg will go to Spain, where "The Thieves Market" will be filmed.

Mario Lanza had high hopes of playing Franz Schubert in "Blossom Time," but the deal fell through when Mario insisted on a generous percentage of the picture's world grosses.

Louis B. Mayer owns the screen rights to "Blossom Time," the famous musical which was made as a motion picture by Jeannette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy. The music is beautiful and 20th Century-Fox discussed making it, but the asking price of $600,000 for the property was prohibitive.

There can be no announcement from Darryl Zanuck about what his next picture will be until the four stockholders who protested his independent set-up with 20th Century-Fox (and lost) decide whether to appeal.

But Darryl is very happy over the degree of doctor of humanities awarded him by the University of Nebraska. He was the only one of the men honored who was not a university graduate. Darryl only went to high school.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Publication of Gene Markey's new book, "Kentucky Pride," and his promotion in the U. S. Navy from commander to rear admiral in the inactive reserve, came within a week of each other.

"Social Climber" saved my life at the Hollywood Turf Club Saturday when Liz Whitney's thoroughbred romped home to victory. We were the guests of Mervyn Leroy in the directors room, and it was a pleasant afternoon.

Other of Mervyn's guests were Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz. Lucille was a bright spot of summer color in a lavender dress, with her red hair. Bonita Granville and John Rather bet some of the horses I did, but we all had such a good time, losing didn't matter.

Assisting Mervyn in hosting was James B. Stewart, vice president of the Turf Club and a hard worker. Mrs. Leroy had to stay home with her daughter, Mrs. David Main, who was momentarily expecting a baby.

Frances and Sam Goldwyn sail July 5 on the Queen Mary, and while they're in Europe Sam will beat the drums for "Guys and Dolls"—and, believe me, he always does a good job.

Claude Jarman, who ten years ago, won a tiny Oscar for "The Yearling," is now entering officers training school in Newport. Time certainly does fly.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Market Continues Listless, Closes Lower On Average

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP) — The stock market put on another listless performance today and wound-up lower on average.

Only 1,440,000 shares were traded compared with 1,550,000 on Friday. Today's volume was the lowest since June 1, when the same number of shares changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 90 cents to $180.90, with the industrial component down $1, the rails down $1 and the utilities down 20 cents.

Of 1,109 issues traded there were 508 declines and 361 advances. There were 30 new lows for the year and 8 new highs.

For the second straight session, Panhandle Oil was the most active stock, closing at 15⅛, up ⅜ on 48,300 shares.

Panhandle has been heavily traded since Thursday when its proposed merger with American Petrofina was announced.

Second most active was U.S. and Foreign Securities, up ⅜ at 34⅜ on 37,900 shares. Third was Cosen Petroleum, off 1¼ at 44⅝ on 34,600 shares.

Chicago Board Of Trade

CHICAGO, une 18 (AP)—July soybeans broke 10 cents, the daily limit, at one time on the Board of Trade today. It was the second straight session of sharply lower prices for this contract.

Other grains also weakened. Oats, new crop corn and new crop soybeans were sold following weekend rains in parts of the Midwest plus a forecast for more scattered showers.

Closing prices:

Wheat: Jly 2.07-07⅛; Sep 2.09⅜; Dec 2.14⅛-14; Mar 2.14⅞-¾.

Corn: Jly 1.49⅝-¾; Sep 1.49½-¾; Dec 1.39⅛-39; Mar 1.43.

Oats: Jly 65⅝-½; Sep 66⅞; Dec 70⅛; Mar 71⅞.

Rye: Jly 1.22¼; Sep 1.23¾; Dec 1.26¾; Mar 1.30¼.

Soybeans: Jly 2.95½-¾; Sep 2.65¾-66; Nov 2.55-54¾; Jan. 2.58½-¼; Mar 2.61½-61.

Lard: Jly 11.05; Sep 11.50; Oct 11.60; Nov 11.47; Dec 12.75.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Use hot suds when you wash your silver. Little polishing is necessary when the silver is used frequently and washed in hot suds. A hot rinse and a good rub with the dish towel until it is thoroughly dry is helpful in caring for silver pieces.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HOW MUCH . . .

is Cumberland's Cable TV worth to you if it is available to your property?—even if you are not now making use of it or only planning to build later on?—we gave you the facts a few weeks ago of a community in New Jersey—just a short distance from New York City, which showed that Cable TV was worth up to $2000 on each residence that could not get good TV!

Yes—there is no doubt that good TV available is worth a lot of money to any residential property, and it certainly is worth a lot more to the ones that make use of the many things that it can bring right into their own home!

Make sure Cable TV is one thing you are going to get yourself and family. The costs are so very little for what you get. Won't you give it a try? Just call us!

Market Continues Listless, Closes Lower On Average

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP) — The stock market put on another listless performance today and wound-up lower on average.

Only 1,440,000 shares were traded compared with 1,550,000 on Friday. Today's volume was the lowest since June 1, when the same number of shares changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 90 cents to $180.90, with the industrial component down $1, the rails down $1 and the utilities down 20 cents.

Of 1,109 issues traded there were 508 declines and 361 advances. There were 30 new lows for the year and 8 new highs.

For the second straight session, Panhandle Oil was the most active stock, closing at 15⅛, up ⅜ on 48,300 shares.

Panhandle has been heavily traded since Thursday when its proposed merger with American Petrofina was announced.

Second most active was U.S. and Foreign Securities, up ⅜ at 34⅜ on 37,900 shares. Third was Cosen Petroleum, off 1¼ at 44⅝ on 34,600 shares.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Use hot suds when you wash your silver. Little polishing is necessary when the silver is used frequently and washed in hot suds. A hot rinse and a good rub with the dish towel until it is thoroughly dry is helpful in caring for silver pieces.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Slumberland Motel Reported Sold

Sale of the Slumberland Motel of 15 units was anounced here yesterday with the transaction reported to involve $125,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Smith, all of LaVale, sold the property to Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Buckley, of LaVale Terrace.

The attractive property is located on Route 40 near the Six Mile House. The transfer included a residence and office as well as the 15 modern units.

Bicycles were introduced into America from Europe in the early 1800s. They were called velocipedes, hobby horses and dandy carriages at the time.

HOW MUCH . . .

is Cumberland's Cable TV worth to you if it is available to your property?—even if you are not now making use of it or only planning to build later on?—we gave you the facts a few weeks ago of a community in New Jersey—just a short distance from New York City, which showed that Cable TV was worth up to $2000 on each residence that could not get good TV!

Yes—there is no doubt that good TV available is worth a lot of money to any residential property, and it certainly is worth a lot more to the ones that make use of the many things that it can bring right into their own home!

Make sure Cable TV is one thing you are going to get yourself and family. The costs are so very little for what you get. Won't you give it a try? Just call us!

In Memoriam

In loving memory of dear wife, and Mother, Bertie May King who passed away one year ago June 19, 1955.
Mother? She's not so far away,
When I see her face in each shining thing,
She comes again to the ones she left,
When each doubt is dead, and I've lost all fear,
That her hands will reach from the sunset sky,
To beckon us and draw us near.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of dear wife, and Mother, Bertie May King who passed away one year ago June 19, 1955.
Mother? She's not so far away,
When I see her face in each shining thing,
She comes again to the ones she left,
When each doubt is dead, and I've lost all fear,
That her hands will reach from the sunset sky,
To beckon us and draw us near.
Sadly missed by:

Recoverable Rocket Sled Breaks Record

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 18 (AP)—A recoverable rocket sled was credited by its builder today with setting a world's record for its type of craft of 1,560 miles an hour, approximately twice the speed of sound.

Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. said the record was set on a 10,000-foot rail track at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE

of valuable real estate consisting of a parcel of ground and the improvements thereon consisting of a two story frame apartment house containing twenty-seven rooms, on Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage dated April 25, 1947, and recorded among the Mortgage Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 195 folio 538, and duly assigned to Leslie J. Clark for the purpose of foreclosure, default having occurred in the covenants and conditions of said mortgage, the undersigned assignee of said mortgage will sell at public auction in front of the Lonaconing Branch of the Liberty Trust Company, Main Street, Lonaconing, Maryland on Tuesday, July 3, 1956 at 11:00 a. m. E.D.S.T.

All that lot or parcel of ground situated on Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland and being more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING for the same at a stake standing on the East side of Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland, said stake being South 46 degrees 39 minutes East 45.90 feet from a fire plug, and running thence North 74 degrees 05 minutes East 77.40 feet to a stake, thence North 45 degrees 32 minutes East 19 feet to a fence post; thence South 85 degrees 15 minutes East 22.30 feet to a fence post; thence South 81 degree 15 minutes East 180 feet to a stake standing on the West side of a road; thence with said road South 8 degrees 55 minutes East 165.40 feet to a stake; thence leaving said road; North 68 degrees 2 minutes West 284.60 feet to a stake, thence South 87 degrees 6 minutes West 39.50 feet to a stake standing on the East side of Jackson Street, thence with the East side of Jackson Street, North 9 degrees 44 minutes West 54.80 feet to the beginning, as surveyed in August, 1946.

IT BEING the same property which was conveyed by the Cumberland Real Estate Corporation to William H. Spiker and Winnie C. Spiker, his wife, by a deed dated September 7, 1946 and recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 211 folio 172.

The above described property is improved by a covered two story frame apartment building covered with composition siding containing 27 rooms, divided into apartments, three small washrooms, gas and electric.

State, county, and Town of Lonaconing taxes, and other public liens and charges will be adjusted to the day of sale.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third cash on the day of sale, balance upon ratification of said sale by the Court.

Magazine Calls On Dutch Faith Healer To 'Abdicate'

HAMBURG, Germany, June 18 (AP)—The German magazine that broke the story of a woman faith healer's influence over Dutch Queen Juliana called on the healer today to "abdicate."

Publisher Rudolf Augstein published a letter to his readers of Der Spiegel criticizing Dutch attempts to suppress the story.

He also expressed shock that following publication of the story rumors spread that Queen Juliana might abdicate or get a divorce or both.

Miss Greet Hofmans' 61, faith healer, was disclosed as center of a controversy in the Dutch royal court because of personal influence over the Queen after praying over the partly blind Princess Maria Cristiana, now 9.

The Dutch government has denied formally reports that she caused a rift between Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard that might lead to divorce.

A Dutch distributing firm prevented circulation in Holland of Der Spiegel and foreign newspapers that repeated the story.

Augstein's article said "We would be perturbed and shocked if Queen Juliana's abdication were even contemplated. We regret very much that that question came up for discussion. It is Greet Hofmans who should abdicate. This would be a great service rendered the Queen. It would be another defeat for those who try in the international field to hinder the spread of knowledge."

Augstein said the Dutch official denial of a divorce rumor was surprising because "no paper ever mentioned that possibility. The denial denies what has never been claimed.

"We merely said the Queen had come under the influence of a faith healer. But we never said that Greet Hofmans was meddling in Dutch internal politics. She managed to alienate the prince and the Cabinet from Juliana but it would be wrong to look upon Greet Hofmans as a sinister demon."

Recoverable Rocket Sled Breaks Record

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 18 (AP)—A recoverable rocket sled was credited by its builder today with setting a world's record for its type of craft of 1,560 miles an hour, approximately twice the speed of sound.

Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. said the record was set on a 10,000-foot rail track at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE

of valuable real estate consisting of a parcel of ground and the improvements thereon consisting of a two story frame apartment house containing twenty-seven rooms, on Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage dated April 25, 1947, and recorded among the Mortgage Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 195 folio 538, and duly assigned to Leslie J. Clark for the purpose of foreclosure, default having occurred in the covenants and conditions of said mortgage, the undersigned assignee of said mortgage will sell at public auction in front of the Lonaconing Branch of the Liberty Trust Company, Main Street, Lonaconing, Maryland on Tuesday, July 3, 1956 at 11:00 a. m. E.D.S.T.

All that lot or parcel of ground situated on Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland and being more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING for the same at a stake standing on the East side of Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland, said stake being South 46 degrees 39 minutes East 45.90 feet from a fire plug, and running thence North 74 degrees 05 minutes East 77.40 feet to a stake, thence North 45 degrees 32 minutes East 19 feet to a fence post; thence South 85 degrees 15 minutes East 22.30 feet to a fence post; thence South 81 degree 15 minutes East 180 feet to a stake standing on the West side of a road; thence with said road South 8 degrees 55 minutes East 165.40 feet to a stake; thence leaving said road; North 68 degrees 2 minutes West 284.60 feet to a stake, thence South 87 degrees 6 minutes West 39.50 feet to a stake standing on the East side of Jackson Street, thence with the East side of Jackson Street, North 9 degrees 44 minutes West 54.80 feet to the beginning, as surveyed in August, 1946.

IT BEING the same property which was conveyed by the Cumberland Real Estate Corporation to William H. Spiker and Winnie C. Spiker, his wife, by a deed dated September 7, 1946 and recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 211 folio 172.

The above described property is improved by a covered two story frame apartment building covered with composition siding containing 27 rooms, divided into apartments, three small washrooms, gas and electric.

State, county, and Town of Lonaconing taxes, and other public liens and charges will be adjusted to the day of sale.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third cash on the day of sale, balance upon ratification of said sale by the Court.

Magazine Calls On Dutch Faith Healer To 'Abdicate'

HAMBURG, Germany, June 18 (AP)—The German magazine that broke the story of a woman faith healer's influence over Dutch Queen Juliana called on the healer today to "abdicate."

Publisher Rudolf Augstein published a letter to his readers of Der Spiegel criticizing Dutch attempts to suppress the story.

He also expressed shock that following publication of the story rumors spread that Queen Juliana might abdicate or get a divorce or both.

Miss Greet Hofmans' 61, faith healer, was disclosed as center of a controversy in the Dutch royal court because of personal influence over the Queen after praying over the partly blind Princess Maria Cristiana, now 9.

The Dutch government has denied formally reports that she caused a rift between Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard that might lead to divorce.

Dutch newspapers held off printing the story for several days after it was published in Der Spiegel and reprinted around the world.

A Dutch distributing firm prevented circulation in Holland of Der Spiegel and foreign newspapers that repeated the story.

Augstein's article said "We would be perturbed and shocked if Queen Juliana's abdication were even contemplated. We regret very much that that question came up for discussion. It is Greet Hofmans who should abdicate. This would be a great service rendered the Queen. It would be another defeat for those who try in the international field to hinder the spread of knowledge."

Augstein said the Dutch official denial of a divorce rumor was surprising because "no paper ever mentioned that possibility. The denial denies what has never been claimed.

"We merely said the Queen had come under the influence of a faith healer. But we never said that Greet Hofmans was meddling in Dutch internal politics. She managed to alienate the prince and the Cabinet from Juliana but it would be wrong to look upon Greet Hofmans as a sinister demon."

VFW Encampment Opens This Week

Henry Hart Post No. 1411 Host To State Department Convention

More than 1,800 delegates and alternates, plus many other visitors, are expected here this week for the annual state encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Raymond F. Whitehair, general convention chairman and a past commander of Henry Hart Post No. 1411, VFW, which is host to the encampment, said last night that state department headquarters has notified the local committee "to expect a record attendance."

Paul Moore, chairman of housing, said yesterday that the Algonquin Hotel, Fort Cumberland Hotel and Allegany Inn Hotel have informed him they have capacity reservations for the conclave. He also stated that several motels have advised him that they, too, are booked solid. A list of private homes, where delegates can be placed, has been compiled to care for those who are unable to make hotel or motel reservations, Moore observed.

Met Here Five Years Ago

The convention here this year, the first VFW encampment in Cumberland since 1951, will be held Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Whitehair noted, with a banquet, dance, mammoth street parade and several business sessions and a memorial service on the program.

All business sessions are to be held in Central YMCA, just a block and a half from the VFW post home. Registrations will be made at the post home all day Thursday, with the convention to be called to order at the YMCA on Friday at 9:30 a. m. A formal reveille will open the convention at 8:45 a. m. Friday in front of the post home.

Business sessions will continue Friday with a recess scheduled for 2 p. m. tours, social hours, and committee meetings are scheduled for Friday afternoon and Friday night.

Street Parade Saturday

The convention will resume its deliberations at 9:30 a. m. Saturday with a recess again at 2 p. m. The street parade is scheduled for 3 p. m. Saturday. A banquet and dance will be held at Ali Ghan Shrine City Club at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night.

On Sunday, a business session is called for 9:30 a. m. The election is set on the agenda for 11 a. m. The installation is scheduled for noon with final adjournment at 1 p. m.

Whitehair said last night that all of the 102 posts in Maryland have qualified their delegations, and a record attendance is expected.

In addition, he noted, the Ladies Auxiliary, and the Grand Order of the Cootie, the funmakers of the VFW, will also hold their encampments concurrently. There are 87 auxiliary units in Maryland, each of which will send six or more delegates.

N. Y. Couple Hurt As Car Strikes Pole

Milk Truck Damaged By Broken Guy Wire

A New York couple was injured and two cars wrecked in a spectacular double accident on Route 220 about nine miles south of Cumberland near Rawlings yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gilmore Ray were admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital in "fair" condition after the mishap which occurred about 2:20 p. m. in a hard, driving rainstorm.

Trooper Lindberg Cook of the Maryland State Police gave this version:

Truck Hits Cable

The 65-year-old Ray and his wife Pauline, 56, were driving north on Route 220 at the height of the rainstorm. Ray's car skidded off the highway and struck a guy wire pole across the road from a utility pole.

The car spun backwards into the pole snapping it off in the center. The vehicle then careened off the road into a nearby field.

The guywire cable loosened by the breaking of the pole, hung across the highway about head high and was struck seconds later by a Mason Dairy milk truck driven by Calvin Edward Twigg, 49, of Cresaptown.

Trooper Cook said Twigg, unable to see the cable in the rain, struck the wire which snapped the cable and pole loose causing it to smash into the truck which was demolished. Twigg, fortunately, was unhurt.

The New York couple were taken to the hospital in Cumberland where they were reported suffering from possible internal injuries and are scheduled to undergo X-rays.

Crashes Into Pole

Ray had cuts of the forehead and hand and complained of chest and back injuries. Mrs. Ray had a deep laceration of the scalp and injuries to the right shoulder.

In another accident earlier yesterday, Mrs. Leota Weese, 55, of Wiley Ford, W. Va., was treated at Memorial Hospital for a fractured left hand, abrasions of the knees and forehead and bruised ankle, suffered when she lost control of her car in Wiley Ford and crashed into a pole about 11:30 a. m.

Mt. Royal Playground To Register Today

Registration of children will be held at 2 p. m. today at Mt. Royal Playground, Miss Ann Gibson, director, said last night. The opening of the playground was delayed yesterday by rain.

Tomorrow movies will be held at the playground, beginning at dusk, while a live pet show is scheduled for Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Woman Is Injured In Fall At Home

Mrs. Alda Arrington, of 186 Main Street, Ridgeley, fell at her home yesterday and was taken to Memorial Hospital, where she was admitted for treatment of a fractured right arm.

The 63-year-old woman caught her heel on the linoleum in the upstairs hallway at her home, put her arm out to protect herself and injured it on the door facing.

Kiwanians To Hear Del. George Hughes

Del. George R. Hughes, Jr., minority leader of the House of Delegates, will be guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday at noon in Central YMCA. He will discuss "Mental Hospitals in Maryland."

Jaycees Will Give Equipment To Hospital

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce has made plans to purchase certain items of medical apparatus needed by Sacred Heart Hospital.

Kenneth J. Williams, president said that the equipment will include an oxygen tent complete with accessories, a four wheel cart for transportation of oxygen cylinders, and a "Croupette."

The latter is an infant aid designed to administer constant humidity oxygen as well as to clear mucous from the infant's throat.

The price of the equipment is estimated to be in the vicinity of $1,000. A portion of the funds will be derived from the money that was made by the sponsorship of the Barter Theater.

At a meeting it was voted on that the balance be added in view of the great good that can be accomplished with these instruments.

The Jaycees are awaiting final approval from officials of Sacred Heart Hospital before placing the final order.

Music Workshop Sessions Open In Frostburg

Social Events Are Scheduled

The campus of Frostburg State Teachers College is buzzing with activity this week as some 60 teachers and supervisors from throughout Maryland convened there yesterday to attend a music education workshop.

The workshop will close June 27, according to Dr. James E. Spitznas, director of instruction for the State Department of Education. He said that the purpose of the sessions is to complete, for use in the 23 county school systems of Maryland, specific standards for and a descriptive account of vocal and instrumental music programs suitable in all 12 grades of elementary and secondary schools.

Events Scheduled

A number of events have been placed on the social calendar for the next few days during the stay of those participating.

Last night a community group sing was held at Compton Hall auditorium and tomorrow at 4:30 p. m. a reception and tea will be held by the president of the college, R. Bowen Hardesty and his wife, at Lowndes Hall.

On Saturday beginning at 3:40 p. m., a picnic supper will be held in the Swallow Falls recreation area in nearby Garrett county.

The Army Field Band will give a concert on Sunday evening at Compton Hall, beginning at 7:30 p. m. It is open to the public.

Started In 1950

Dr. Spitznas said that work on the program was started in 1950 when music offerings in county public schools were evaluated with the aid of nationally known educators and music specialists.

Since 1950 music organizations, school bands, orchestras and glee clubs and instructional programs in music have grown more rapidly than any other subject field.

The workshop in Frostburg will incorporate into a statewide curriculum plan the best of these gains and outline specific goals for the immediate future. Mrs. Gladys T. Hopkins, state supervisor of curriculum, is in charge of workshop administration.

JC Caravan Will Travel Through City

A caravan of about 100 automobiles with several hundred members of the Junior Association of Commerce and their wives from Virginia will pass through Cumberland on Saturday, June 23, enroute to the National Jaycee Convention in Kansas City, Mo.

Local Jaycees plan to extend a bit of hospitality to the travelers in their trip westward. Should the members of the caravan feel that they would like to remain here a little longer, the Queen City Chapter has arranged to take them through the downtown section of the city and out through LaVale.

There they will be served coffee and doughnuts. They will be given an opportunity to take a break during the long trip and also to get acquainted with the local Jaycees.

Vehicle Laws Overhaul Seen

OCEAN CITY, Md., June 18 (AP) —A program aimed at overhauling the state's motor vehicle laws was approved today at the 20th annual convention of the Maryland Law Enforcement Assn.

The resolution passed by about 200 members of the organization encompassed the fingerprinting and reregistration of all motorists in the state.

The delegates at the three-day convention also adopted a measure proposing that all motor vehicles in Maryland be required to have reflectorized license plates for better visibility.

In other business, delegates gave support to a Senate bill which imposes stiff penalties on narcotics violators and endorsed the entire highway safety program of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission.

Carver Playground Plans Doll Show

Carver Playground will hold a doll show tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded for the largest collection, prettiest, largest, smallest, most loveable, funniest and most unusual.

Miss Georgia Stephens, playground director, also announced that a picnic will be held at the playground on Thursday. Children are asked to bring their own lunches. Movies are to be shown at dusk.

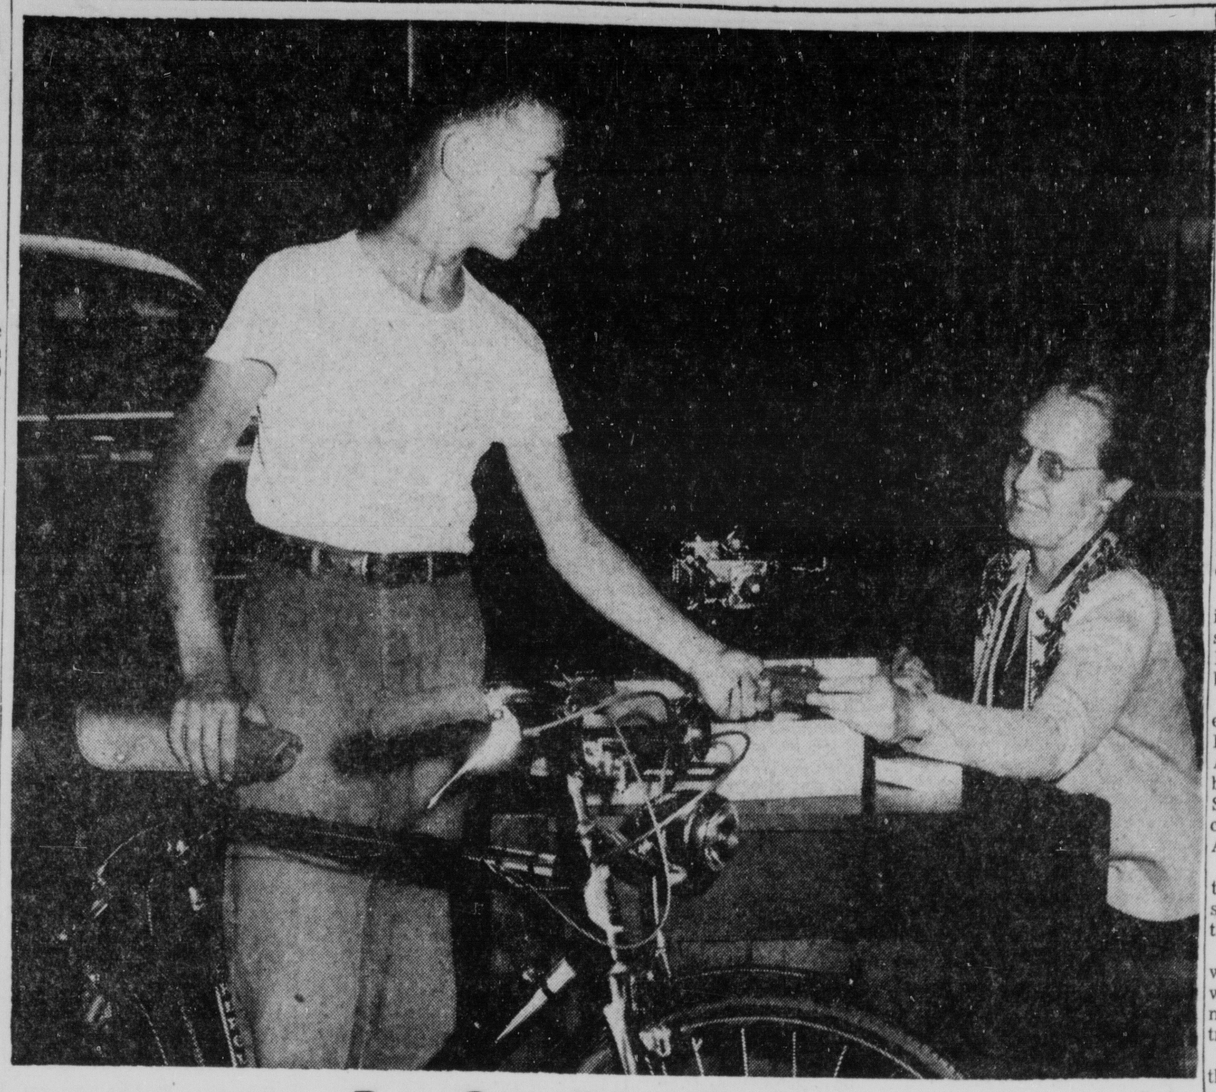

The Carver Playground Association will meet tonight at 8:30. All parents and friends are asked to attend.

Association To Meet

Centre Street Playground Association will hold its regular meeting today at 7:30 p. m. at the playground.

Clinic Is Planned

Boy Gets Bike Permit

Robert Sites, 321 Arch Street, gets his bicycle permit from Mrs. Vivian Turley, traffic clerk at Police Headquarters, on the first day new tags were issued. Mrs. Turley said 140 licenses were given given out yesterday, somewhat less than the average of 200 to 250 each day normally granted. Police said they thought yesterday's hard afternoon rain held down the number of applicants. The permits are being issued each day this week through Friday from 10 a. m. to noon and 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. All persons riding bicycles in the city must have a permit by July 1 and police have asked the some 1,700 bike owners to obtain them this week.

Father Seeking $4,500 Damages In Son's Death

Suit Follows 1955 Crash Near Dawson

The father of an 18-year-old area youth, who died of injuries sustained in an auto crash June 19, 1955, near Dawson on Route 220, has filed two damage suits in Allegany County Circuit Court and is seeking a total of $4,500 damages.

Claude M. Van Pelt, of Rawlings, through his counsel, Edward J. Ryan, is seeking $3,500 from Troy Collins and his father, Herbert Collins, also of Rawlings, for the loss of the services of his son, Ernest Van Pelt who had resided with him, and the loss of the wages of his son, who was employed at the time of his death, up to the time he reached the age of 21.

As administrator of the estate of his son, Van Pelt is also seeking an additional $1,000, because, according to the declaration, he was put to the expense of $687.16 for hospital and burial expenses.

The young victim, according to the declaration, was a passenger in a car owned and operated by Troy Collins, who drove the car "in such a reckless and careless manner, and high rate of speed," he lost control of the vehicle, left the highway, hit an embankment and careened back to the highway, where the auto upset.

Van Pelt claims that the driver was under the legal age to get a driver's license and his father, Herbert Collins, signed the form required for issuance of a license.

Young Van Pelt died on June 21, 1955, in Potomac Valley Hospital as a result of head and internal injuries. Another occupant of the car, Earl Elwood Critchfield, 34, of Chevy Chase, former Amcelle plant worker, died enroute to the hospital as a result of injuries.

Rowlesburg Featured In B&O Magazine

"Ever been to Rowlesburg?"

If you happen to get hold of a June issue of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad magazine, you will be able to read an interesting article on the little community located in Preston County, W. Va.

According to the article, the B&O pushed its way westward, more than a century ago, across the densely forested mountain region.

One of the communities which was founded along the main line of the railroad is Rowlesburg, named in honor of James Rowles, B&O construction engineer, who surveyed and planned that section of the railroad. The article gives a vivid historical story of the little community, which is located in the buckwheat country.

Aerial Truck Answers Downtown Alarm

Central fire station answered a fire alarm at 7:41 p. m. in downtown Cumberland when a short circuit on a neon sign caused a slight blaze at Rand's Store on Baltimore Street.

The aerial ladder truck also answered the alarm last night but returned to the fire station when it was determined the fire was of a minor nature. Slight damage was reported by firemen who returned at 8:11 to fire headquarters.

Few Simple Rules Aid In Having Better Lawn

Mowing the lawn is a summer chore dreaded by most everyone, yet everyone wants to grow a well-groomed carpet of grass.

The old-fashioned mower pushed by hand is being replaced by the power mower which is within the reach of the average family pocketbook.

Still, the grass has to be cut and efforts must be made to maintain a nice-looking lawn. Joseph M. Steger, farm agent for Allegany County, has a few suggestions on how to improve your present lawn.

The lawn mower should be set so it will cut at least one and one-half inches above the soil level. It should be kept well sharpened so the foliage will be removed with a clean cut rather than leaving ragged tips.

This is important from the standpoint of appearance and health of grass after cutting. Cutting the turf not closer than one and one-half inches allows sufficient leaf area for food production for good root development, and aids in shading crabgrass and weeds.

The lawn should be cut each time the grass reaches a height of two and one-half to three inches, except that grass that is shaded should remain tall for longer periods of time.

Allowing clippings to drop on the lawn will aid the growth of the grass as well as lessen the amount of lime and fertilizer that need be applied. If the grass makes excessive growth before mowing, the clippings should be removed.

And now for the watering of the grass. It is easy to waterlog soils that are imperfectly or poorly drained. Frequent shallow watering tends to promote shallow rooting of the plants. Excessive watering may leach nitrogen to levels below the grass roots.

Kentucky bluegrass, a widely used lawn grass, grows slowly during hot weather. During this period, forcing or increasing the growth through watering or fertilization often weakens the turf during the fall and spring that follow.

Heavy Rain Brings End To Hot Spell

Cumberland and surrounding area had a good drenching yesterday, especially during the afternoon hours, when some 1.40 inches of rain fell, bringing a temporary end to the hot spell prevalent during the past week.

Quite a few residents who ventured oudoors found that the rain was a soaking one and that things were sopping wet.

What does the weatherman promise for today? Considerable cloudiness and cool with a high in the 70s were forecast last night.

The official high in Cumberland yesterday was 70 degrees at Constitution Park and that reading was recorded at noon. The official low was 59 degrees at 6 p. m.

Unofficially the temperature rose to 76 degrees in downtown Cumberland and dipped to 62 during the course of the heavy rainstorm.

Playground Plans Week's Activities

Miss Shirley Ketterman and Bill Williams, leaders for Centre Street Playground, announces that the playground will be open from 10:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. and 6 p. m. to 9 p. m., Monday through Friday. Registration will be held each day this week.

Swimming classes and softball teams are being organized and those interested in working on a newspaper will meet Wednesday at 7 p .m.

Craft classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday at 2 p. m. and movies will be shown on these days.

A stuffed animal show is scheduled for Friday at 7:30 p. m. Prizes will be given for the largest, smallest, prettiest and most unusual animal.

West Virginia Guard Trains At Fort Knox

FORT KNOX, Ky., June 18 (AP) —Two weeks of training for West Virginia National Guardsmen got under way here today with temperatures in the high 90s.

Rail and motor convoys brought almost 3,000 citizen-soldiers to the U.S. Army's largest military reservation by mid-afternoon Sunday from 26 cities throughout West Virginia.

Afternoon thundershowers brought only temporary relief from the heat but training continued without interruption.

The 150th Regiment was an infantry outfit until last November. The men came to camp this time as yellow-scarved armored cavalrumen. For many of them, it was their first look at M-41 and M-47 tanks they have been studying from training manuals at armory drills.

The 201st Armored Field Artillery Battalion, made up of men from Fairmont, Martinsburg, Keyser, Moorefield and Kingwood, had on-the-job training in care and maintenance of vehicles and howitzers.

Col. John W. Brady of Richmond, Va., and a team of 10 other officers from Maryland, Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia began inspection duties today with each organization. FRom their daily reports, each unit will be scored and rated during the encampment.

Aid Is Requested In Suitcase Search

Cumberland Police have been requested to look for a small metal suitcase which was lost by or stolen from a couple traveling through the city on May 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Hansen reported missing the suitcase from the top rack of their station wagon when they arrived in Baltimore while traveling from Colorado. They said they stopped at a motel here and had the suitcase at that time but missed it the next day in Baltimore.

Supervisors To Meet

A regular meeting of Soil Conservation District Supervisors will be held on Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the office of Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County farm agent.

Interest Grows In Girl Scouts Summer Camps

Registrations Hit All-Time Record

Interest in summer camping by Girl Scouts is greater this year than ever before, according to Miss Olive Hurlburt, local scout executive director.

Camping, which is planned in three phases, includes Troop camping, now underway on weekends at Union Grove; Day Camp which will be held in Constitution Park the week of July 9 and the week of July 16, and established camp, which will be held in two segments at Camp Potomac, Oldtown, August 7 to 18 and August 19 to 25.

Troops of the Cumberland Council have scheduled troop camping at Union Grove and some troops plan more than one such expedition. Details are available at the Scout House.

Registration for Day Camp will close Friday, and any scouts or Brownies who have not registered must do so this week. Already, quotas are about filled, Miss Hurlburt said.

At Established Camp, the program has been divided into a 12-day period and a one-week period. Girls may register for either or both, but the camps will be conducted as separate arrangements.

A total of 110 girls can be accomodated at each of the two periods and as of yesterday, 156 girls had registered. Based upon past experience, Miss Hurlburt noted, the camp will be filled long before opening date, so those who plan to attend should register at once.

The health examination required for Day Camp will be held at the Scout House on July 2. Mrs Elizabeth Williams is director of Day Camp, and reminds all campers that a health certificate is required.

The group included Winner M. McDermott, RFD No. 1, Frostburg; Boy W. Crites, Bedford Road; Lester D. Lewis, 221 Race Street; Dale T. Robinette, RFD No. 1, Oldtown; and Joseph G. Popp, RFD No. 2, city.

Small Business Meeting Slated In Baltimore

Area Delegation Plans To Attend

Small business will be in the limelight on Thursday when a conference will be held in Baltimore's Eastern High School for businessmen of the Baltimore-Washington area.

A number of businessmen from the Cumberland area are planning to attend the conference to learn how to do business with the Federal Government.

The opening session will be held in the morning with registration scheduled at 9 a. m. Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin will welcome the business men.

General chairman for the conference is Clarence P. Moore, Region IV Director of the Small Business Administration. The "clinic" is being conducted by the Federal Small Business Administration in cooperation with the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

The meeting is expected to attract approximately 1,000 representatives of small businesses in the Baltimore-Washington area.

A day-long series of addresses will be given by Federal officials, who will discuss what the Government wants to buy and how contracts are awarded.

Harrison Garrett, president of the Baltimore Association of Commerce, will be present as well as Wendell B. Barnes, administrator of the Small Business Administration and top procurement officers of the Army, Navy Air Force and procurment officials of Federal agencies.

These officials buy millions of dollars worth of items used by agencies of the government and they are experts in passing along to Maryland small business concerns important information which will enable these concerns to get a greater share of Government contracts.

State Plans Economic Study Of Lonaconing

Council Confirms Two Policemen

The Mayor and Council of Lonaconing, last night, was advised in a letter from Joseph Wise, that the Maryland Planning Commission is planning a study of Lonaconing and vicinity.

The purpose of the survey is to analyze the economic pattern and conditions, natural resources and potential, with the view of providing a sound economy and employment in that area.

Wise asked for pertinent information about the community and said the information will be compiled after an on-the-spot survey is completed.

The Council confirmed the appointments of two town police officers, James Dale Lyden and Quail S. Wilson, who have completed their required six-months probationary period. Members of council congratulated the two men "on the good job you are doing".

Under the town's new civil service procedure, these appointments are now permanent and the oficers cannot be removed from their jobs without cause.

Permission was granted to the Good Will Volunteer Fire Department to hold a street carnival on July 19, 20 and 21.

Settlement Noted In Damage Suit

A friendly damage suit in which the plaintiff sought damages for injuries sustained in an auto accident has been settled in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The suit was filed in the local court in behalf of Florence Mae Hedrick, infant, by Charlotte Mae Wolford, her mother and next friend, 221 Elder Street. Miss Hedrick was in one of two cars which collided headon in Ellerslie last December 12.

A number of events have been placed on the social calendar for the next few days during the stay of those participating.

Last night a community group sing was held at Compton Hall auditorium and tomorrow at 4:30 p. m. a reception and tea will be held by the president of the college, R. Bowen Hardesty and his wife, at Lowndes Hall.

On Saturday beginning at 3:40 p. m., a picnic supper will be held in the Swallow Falls recreation area in nearby Garrett county.

The Army Field Band will give a concert on Sunday evening at Compton Hall, beginning at 7:30 p. m. It is open to the public.

Started In 1950

Dr. Spitznas said that work on the program was started in 1950 when music offerings in county public schools were evaluated with the aid of nationally known educators and music specialists.

Since 1950 music organizations, school bands, orchestras and glee clubs and instructional programs in music have grown more rapidly than any other subject field.

The workshop in Frostburg will incorporate into a statewide curriculum plan the best of these gains and outline specific goals for the immediate future. Mrs. Gladys T. Hopkins, state supervisor of curriculum, is in charge of workshop administration.

JC Caravan Will Travel Through City

A caravan of about 100 automobiles with several hundred members of the Junior Association of Commerce and their wives from Virginia will pass through Cumberland on Saturday, June 23, enroute to the National Jaycee Convention in Kansas City, Mo.

Local Jaycees plan to extend a bit of hospitality to the travelers in their trip westward. Should the members of the caravan feel that they would like to remain here a little longer, the Queen City Chapter has arranged to take them through the downtown section of the city and out through LaVale.

There they will be served coffee and doughnuts. They will be given an opportunity to take a break during the long trip and also to get acquainted with the local Jaycees.

Vehicle Laws Overhaul Seen

OCEAN CITY, Md., June 18 (AP) —A program aimed at overhauling the state's motor vehicle laws was approved today at the 20th annual convention of the Maryland Law Enforcement Assn.

The resolution passed by about 200 members of the organization encompassed the fingerprinting and reregistration of all motorists in the state.

The delegates at the three-day convention also adopted a measure proposing that all motor vehicles in Maryland be required to have reflectorized license plates for better visibility.

In other business, delegates gave support to a Senate bill which imposes stiff penalties on narcotics violators and endorsed the entire highway safety program of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission.

Carver Playground Plans Doll Show

Carver Playground will hold a doll show tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded for the largest collection, prettiest, largest, smallest, most loveable, funniest and most unusual.

Miss Georgia Stephens, playground director, also announced that a picnic will be held at the playground on Thursday. Children are asked to bring their own lunches. Movies are to be shown at dusk.

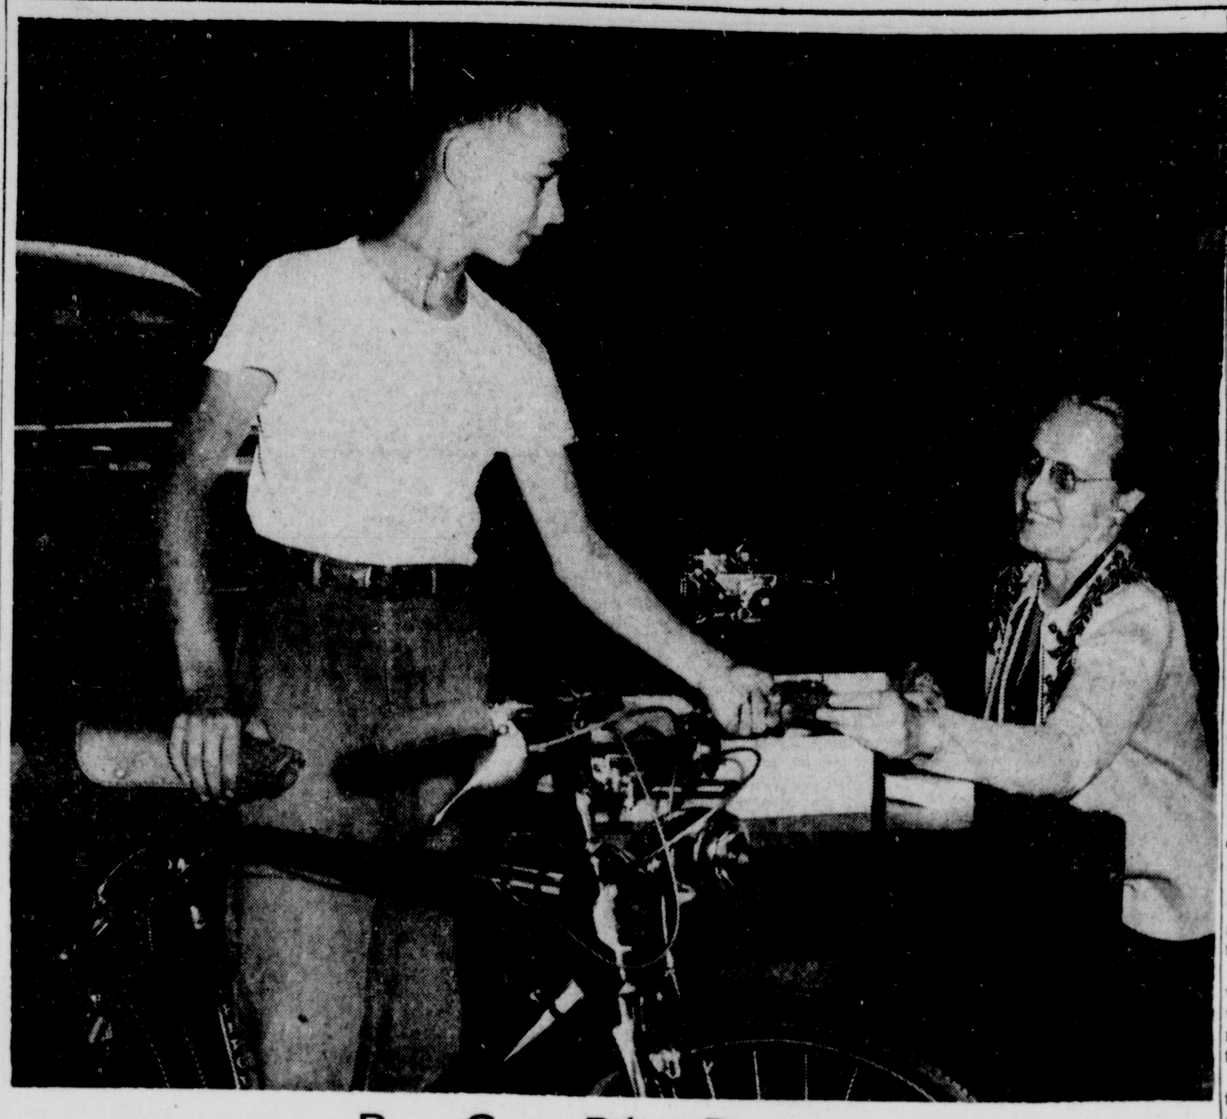

The Carver Playground Association will meet tonight at 8:30. All parents and friends are asked to attend.

Association To Meet

Centre Street Playground Association will hold its regular meeting today at 7:30 p. m. at the playground.

Clinic Is Planned

Boy Gets Bike Permit

Robert Sites, 321 Arch Street, gets his bicycle permit from Mrs. Vivian Turley, traffic clerk at Police Headquarters, on the first day new tags were issued. Mrs. Turley said 140 licenses were given given out yesterday, somewhat less than the average of 200 to 250 each day normally granted. Police said they thought yesterday's hard afternoon rain held down the number of applicants. The permits are being issued each day this week through Friday from 10 a. m. to noon and 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. All persons riding bicycles in the city must have a permit by July 1 and police have asked the some 1,700 bike owners to obtain them this week.

Father Seeking $4,500 Damages In Son's Death

Suit Follows 1955 Crash Near Dawson

The father of an 18-year-old area youth, who died of injuries sustained in an auto crash June 19, 1955, near Dawson on Route 220, has filed two damage suits in Allegany County Circuit Court and is seeking a total of $4,500 damages.

Claude M. Van Pelt, of Rawlings, through his counsel, Edward J. Ryan, is seeking $3,500 from Troy Collins and his father, Herbert Collins, also of Rawlings, for the loss of the services of his son, Ernest Van Pelt who had resided with him, and the loss of the wages of his son, who was employed at the time of his death, up to the time he reached the age of 21.

As administrator of the estate of his son, Van Pelt is also seeking an additional $1,000, because, according to the declaration, he was put to the expense of $687.16 for hospital and burial expenses.

The young victim, according to the declaration, was a passenger in a car owned and operated by Troy Collins, who drove the car "in such a reckless and careless manner, and high rate of speed," he lost control of the vehicle, left the highway, hit an embankment and careened back to the highway, where the auto upset.

Van Pelt claims that the driver was under the legal age to get a driver's license and his father, Herbert Collins, signed the form required for issuance of a license.

Young Van Pelt died on June 21, 1955, in Potomac Valley Hospital as a result of head and internal injuries. Another occupant of the car, Earl Elwood Critchfield, 34, of Chevy Chase, former Amcelle plant worker, died enroute to the hospital as a result of injuries.

Rowlesburg Featured In B&O Magazine

"Ever been to Rowlesburg?"

If you happen to get hold of a June issue of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad magazine, you will be able to read an interesting article on the little community located in Preston County, W. Va.

According to the article, the B&O pushed its way westward, more than a century ago, across the densely forested mountain region.

One of the communities which was founded along the main line of the railroad is Rowlesburg, named in honor of James Rowles, B&O construction engineer, who surveyed and planned that section of the railroad. The article gives a vivid historical story of the little community, which is located in the buckwheat country.

Aerial Truck Answers Downtown Alarm

Central fire station answered a fire alarm at 7:41 p. m. in downtown Cumberland when a short circuit on a neon sign caused a slight blaze at Rand's Store on Baltimore Street.

The aerial ladder truck also answered the alarm last night but returned to the fire station when it was determined the fire was of a minor nature. Slight damage was reported by firemen who returned at 8:11 to fire headquarters.

Few Simple Rules Aid In Having Better Lawn

Mowing the lawn is a summer chore dreaded by most everyone, yet everyone wants to grow a well-groomed carpet of grass.

The old-fashioned mower pushed by hand is being replaced by the power mower which is within the reach of the average family pocketbook.

Still, the grass has to be cut and efforts must be made to maintain a nice-looking lawn. Joseph M. Steger, farm agent for Allegany County, has a few suggestions on how to improve your present lawn.

The lawn mower should be set so it will cut at least one and one-half inches above the soil level. It should be kept well sharpened so the foliage will be removed with a clean cut rather than leaving ragged tips.

This is important from the standpoint of appearance and health of grass after cutting. Cutting the turf not closer than one and one-half inches allows sufficient leaf area for food production for good root development, and aids in shading crabgrass and weeds.

The lawn should be cut each time the grass reaches a height of two and one-half to three inches, except that grass that is shaded should remain tall for longer periods of time.

Allowing clippings to drop on the lawn will aid the growth of the grass as well as lessen the amount of lime and fertilizer that need be applied. If the grass makes excessive growth before mowing, the clippings should be removed.

And now for the watering of the grass. It is easy to waterlog soils that are imperfectly or poorly drained. Frequent shallow watering tends to promote shallow rooting of the plants. Excessive watering may leach nitrogen to levels below the grass roots.

Kentucky bluegrass, a widely used lawn grass, grows slowly during hot weather. During this period, forcing or increasing the growth through watering or fertilization often weakens the turf during the fall and spring that follow.

Heavy Rain Brings End To Hot Spell

Cumberland and surrounding area had a good drenching yesterday, especially during the afternoon hours, when some 1.40 inches of rain fell, bringing a temporary end to the hot spell prevalent during the past week.

Quite a few residents who ventured oudoors found that the rain was a soaking one and that things were sopping wet.

What does the weatherman promise for today? Considerable cloudiness and cool with a high in the 70s were forecast last night.

The official high in Cumberland yesterday was 70 degrees at Constitution Park and that reading was recorded at noon. The official low was 59 degrees at 6 p. m.

Unofficially the temperature rose to 76 degrees in downtown Cumberland and dipped to 62 during the course of the heavy rainstorm.

Playground Plans Week's Activities

Miss Shirley Ketterman and Bill Williams, leaders for Centre Street Playground, announces that the playground will be open from 10:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. and 6 p. m. to 9 p. m., Monday through Friday. Registration will be held each day this week.

Swimming classes and softball teams are being organized and those interested in working on a newspaper will meet Wednesday at 7 p .m.

Craft classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday at 2 p. m. and movies will be shown on these days.

A stuffed animal show is scheduled for Friday at 7:30 p. m. Prizes will be given for the largest, smallest, prettiest and most unusual animal.

West Virginia Guard Trains At Fort Knox

FORT KNOX, Ky., June 18 (AP) —Two weeks of training for West Virginia National Guardsmen got under way here today with temperatures in the high 90s.

Rail and motor convoys brought almost 3,000 citizen-soldiers to the U.S. Army's largest military reservation by mid-afternoon Sunday from 26 cities throughout West Virginia.

Afternoon thundershowers brought only temporary relief from the heat but training continued without interruption.

The 150th Regiment was an infantry outfit until last November. The men came to camp this time as yellow-scarved armored cavalrumen. For many of them, it was their first look at M-41 and M-47 tanks they have been studying from training manuals at armory drills.

The 201st Armored Field Artillery Battalion, made up of men from Fairmont, Martinsburg, Keyser, Moorefield and Kingwood, had on-the-job training in care and maintenance of vehicles and howitzers.

Col. John W. Brady of Richmond, Va., and a team of 10 other officers from Maryland, Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia began inspection duties today with each organization. FRom their daily reports, each unit will be scored and rated during the encampment.

Aid Is Requested In Suitcase Search

Cumberland Police have been requested to look for a small metal suitcase which was lost by or stolen from a couple traveling through the city on May 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Hansen reported missing the suitcase from the top rack of their station wagon when they arrived in Baltimore while traveling from Colorado. They said they stopped at a motel here and had the suitcase at that time but missed it the next day in Baltimore.

Supervisors To Meet

A regular meeting of Soil Conservation District Supervisors will be held on Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the office of Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County farm agent.

Interest Grows In Girl Scouts Summer Camps

Registrations Hit All-Time Record

Interest in summer camping by Girl Scouts is greater this year than ever before, according to Miss Olive Hurlburt, local scout executive director.

Camping, which is planned in three phases, includes Troop camping, now underway on weekends at Union Grove; Day Camp which will be held in Constitution Park the week of July 9 and the week of July 16, and established camp, which will be held in two segments at Camp Potomac, Oldtown, August 7 to 18 and August 19 to 25.

Troops of the Cumberland Council have scheduled troop camping at Union Grove and some troops plan more than one such expedition. Details are available at the Scout House.

Registration for Day Camp will close Friday, and any scouts or Brownies who have not registered must do so this week. Already, quotas are about filled, Miss Hurlburt said.

At Established Camp, the program has been divided into a 12-day period and a one-week period. Girls may register for either or both, but the camps will be conducted as separate arrangements.

A total of 110 girls can be accomodated at each of the two periods and as of yesterday, 156 girls had registered. Based upon past experience, Miss Hurlburt noted, the camp will be filled long before opening date, so those who plan to attend should register at once.

The health examination required for Day Camp will be held at the Scout House on July 2. Mrs Elizabeth Williams is director of Day Camp, and reminds all campers that a health certificate is required.

Small Business Meeting Slated In Baltimore

Area Delegation Plans To Attend

Small business will be in the limelight on Thursday when a conference will be held in Baltimore's Eastern High School for businessmen of the Baltimore-Washington area.

A number of businessmen from the Cumberland area are planning to attend the conference to learn how to do business with the Federal Government.

The opening session will be held in the morning with registration scheduled at 9 a. m. Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin will welcome the business men.

General chairman for the conference is Clarence P. Moore, Region IV Director of the Small Business Administration. The "clinic" is being conducted by the Federal Small Business Administration in cooperation with the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

The meeting is expected to attract approximately 1,000 representatives of small businesses in the Baltimore-Washington area.

A day-long series of addresses will be given by Federal officials, who will discuss what the Government wants to buy and how contracts are awarded.

Harrison Garrett, president of the Baltimore Association of Commerce, will be present as well as Wendell B. Barnes, administrator of the Small Business Administration and top procurement officers of the Army, Navy Air Force and procurment officials of Federal agencies.

These officials buy millions of dollars worth of items used by agencies of the government and they are experts in passing along to Maryland small business concerns important information which will enable these concerns to get a greater share of Government contracts.

State Plans Economic Study Of Lonaconing

Council Confirms Two Policemen

The Mayor and Council of Lonaconing, last night, was advised in a letter from Joseph Wise, that the Maryland Planning Commission is planning a study of Lonaconing and vicinity.

The purpose of the survey is to analyze the economic pattern and conditions, natural resources and potential, with the view of providing a sound economy and employment in that area.

Wise asked for pertinent information about the community and said the information will be compiled after an on-the-spot survey is completed.

The Council confirmed the appointments of two town police officers, James Dale Lyden and Quail S. Wilson, who have completed their required six-months probationary period. Members of council congratulated the two men "on the good job you are doing".

Under the town's new civil service procedure, these appointments are now permanent and the oficers cannot be removed from their jobs without cause.

Permission was granted to the Good Will Volunteer Fire Department to hold a street carnival on July 19, 20 and 21.

Settlement Noted In Damage Suit

A friendly damage suit in which the plaintiff sought damages for injuries sustained in an auto accident has been settled in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The suit was filed in the local court in behalf of Florence Mae Hedrick, infant, by Charlotte Mae Wolford, her mother and next friend, 221 Elder Street. Miss Hedrick was in one of two cars which collided headon in Ellerslie last December 12.

ELECTED — Eustace L. Florance, former general commercial manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland, has been elected secretary and treasurer of the four Chesapeake and Potomac Companies operating in Washington, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. He succeeds Robert V. Russell, who began his telephone career in Baltimore 40 years ago and will retire July 1.
